[illegible] Hitchcock Gasps His Last in Automobile With Wife at Side

[illegible] Heart Attack Takes Creator of 'Hitchy Koo' and Other Roles

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK

[illegible] Hitchcock, prominent [illegible] actor, died suddenly of a heart attack last night while seated in his car in the driveway of his home at 9800 Wanda Drive, Benedict Canyon, Beverly Hills. The musical comedy idol, who was 64 years of age, had accompanied his wife, Mrs. Mangasarian Hitchcock, on a short auto ride from the canyon home to Beverly Hills. They were returning from the two-and-a-half-mile journey and the car had just stopped in the driveway, when Hitchcock gave a gasp and suddenly dropped his head into his wife's lap. Death was instantaneous.

He and Mrs. Hitchcock were alone at the home last night, according to her story to Dr. Ray Johnson, police surgeon, and about 8:45 p.m. she and her husband left home. They returned about 10:30 p.m.

Mrs. Hitchcock attempted to notify friends of the death, and then summoned the police. The police surgeon declared a heart attack caused the actor's death.

ILL FOR MONTHS

The stage actor had been ill for the past seven months, and came [illegible] three weeks ago, in the [illegible] the change would prove beneficial. Numerous moves have been made by the couple, Mrs. Hitchcock said last night, in an effort to find relief from the heart [illegible]. Some time was spent in [illegible]; then a move to Colorado [illegible], where the high altitude was [illegible] detrimental, and a nine weeks' stay in Kansas City, with the final [illegible].

[illegible] arrangements for funeral or [illegible] announced. Dr. Robert [illegible], 6117 Hollywood Boulevard, signed a death certificate giving [illegible] disease as the cause of death. He had been treating Hitchcock for [illegible]. The body is to be sent to the Lowy Bagley Mortuary at [illegible] Hollywood Boulevard. Police [illegible] inquest will be necessary.

FOREMOST ACTOR

For many years he occupied a [illegible] position among the stage [illegible] of America, his greatest [illegible] having been in the field of [illegible] comedies when that type of [illegible] entertainment was in its heyday.

Oregon Towns Threatened as Forest Flames Race Over Wide Area

Conflagration Also Battled in San Mateo County as Danger Increases

GRANT'S PASS (Or.) Nov. 24. (AP) Grave fears for the safety of scores of residents and several small towns between Gold Hill and Palmer Butte were expressed tonight by United States Forestry Service officials after hundreds of fire fighters failed to stop fires fanned by a brisk wind.

The Palmer Butte fire, which started late yesterday and swept toward the Pacific Coast line unabated, is of incendiary origin, James H. Billingslea, supervisor of the Siskiyou National Forest, said today and forest rangers are intent on making arrests.

A second fire, said to have been started by unidentified persons, is burning fiercely in the Jack's Creek district near Brookings. After having burned down the last line of communication between Brookings and Grant's Pass, the Rogue River fire was reported tonight as widening its progress. All communications with fire fighters in the district have been lost, leaving a single trail which must be traversed by foot before word can be relayed.

LEGISLATIVE DEAN DIES

Senator Warren Loses Fight

Wyoming Veteran Oldest in Upper House, Both as to Years and Service

Pneumonia Finally Conquers Man Who Held Reins on Federal Expenses

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Death today removed from the Senate the man who had participated in more of the political struggles of that body than any other person in history—Senator Francis E. Warren of Wyoming.

The 85-year-old "dean" of the Senate, who had served continuously since 1895 and for three years previously, succumbed at 10:05 o'clock this morning to an attack of pneumonia after three weeks' illness starting with bronchitis.

The veteran statesman was the oldest member of the Senate both in years and length of service and was the only member who participated in the war between the States, serving in the Union Army along with Justice Holmes of the Supreme Court. Representative Stedman of North Carolina is a veteran of the Confederate Army.

UNABLE TO RALLY

His passing came as a shock to his Senate colleagues and to his many Washington friends who had hoped his rugged constitution would bring him through to recovery.

A turn for the worse came last night and so weakened his resistance that he was unable to rally, despite every effort made by his physician, Dr. John Minor, who maintained an all-night vigil at the bedside.

Present when he died were Mrs. Warren, his son, Fred Warren of Cheyenne, and his son-in-law, John J. Pershing, commander of the American Expeditionary Forces to France in the World War. Gen. Pershing, on his arrival from abroad Monday, visited his father-in-law and expressed confidence that he would recover.

NOTABLE WORK

A pioneer of the West, Senator Warren was intensely interested in development of that section, but he was best known for his work in the Senate. As chairman of the powerful Appropriations Committee since the Harding administration came into power in 1921, he was responsible for piloting through the Senate the legislation providing for the monetary needs of the Federal government.

Only recently, until he became ill, he had been at work preparing for the appropriation bills which will come before Congress when it convenes in regular session December 2, next.

An indefatigable worker, he remained at his post in the Senate during a number of all-night sessions in the filibusters of recent years and during the last few weeks he demanded at a Republican party conference that the Senate go into night sessions to pass the tariff bill, promising to attend them all.

Later, the Senate voted night sessions, but he was ill at the time and unable to attend.

Physically he was very active, and despite his age refused to ride the elevators at the Capitol, always using the stairs in his frequent trips between the Senate chamber and his office.

Save for a single incident in his life—a display of sheer bravery as a lad in the Civil War that won for him the Congressional Medal of Honor—there was nothing spectacular in Senator Warren's career. Two traits of character—supreme optimism and the will to work—carried him over the long road from the poverty of a New England farm to affluence and high place.

Nature endowed him with a fine physique and he seemed to have absorbed much of the ruggedness of the rocky soil, which he tilled so assiduously during his youth. His was a constitution that thrived on the hardest sort of driving labor, whether in the field or in the office and even in later years, when he had passed the eightieth milestone in life's journey, his vigor surprised even his closest friends.

Many a time in his Senate career continuous sessions were resorted to in an effort to "wear down the op-

CRICKET CALLED BRAGGART

Persistent Chirping Laid to Elemental Egotism, Not Expression of Romeo Instinct

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (Exclusive)—Why do insects make music all their lives? The chirp of crickets finds a weird significance in an analysis of insect harmony by Dr. H. A. Allard, United States Department of Agriculture, just issued in the annual report of the Smithsonian Institution.

After long study of the musical lives of crickets and grasshoppers, Dr. Allard is convinced that there is a reason more fundamental than the sex call which impels a snowy tree cricket to chirp ninety times a minute all night long, or nearly 4,000,000 times in the sixty days which constitute its life span, requiring 16,000,000 wing strokes.

It is possible, Dr. Allard says, that an elemental egotism and love of noisy self-expression may be the motives, or a mood of social contact or an elemental impulse of pure art.

MORE THAN SEX

"Sex alone," he insists, "does not explain it. No cricket needs to chirp himself to death, four or five million times on one bush to win the momentary attentions of a silent, lonely female in the vicinity. Here is the weird mystery of insect music, its eternal persistence, an eternal wing play in some restless role of life designed, it would seem, to keep the insect happy and content while it lives along to the very threshold of death."

While the insect is entirely an instrumentalist, Dr. Allard points out, it actually has developed dialects in different localities, as do human beings. Thus there is an observable difference between the music of katydids of the same species in New England and in the District of Columbia.

HEARING ACUTE

The scientist is confident they have a delicate sense of hearing. He once kept a bush katydid captive in his bedroom, and he says "it would reply to my lisping mimicry as often as I cared to stimulate it. In tests with this katydid I stepped away slowly the entire length of the room, Lisping so low as barely to hear it myself and yet it heard and promptly responded." The hearing organs, Dr. Allard says, are on the forelegs, near the knees.

The eternal music of the insects Dr. Allard attributes to some inherent, pervasive mood that makes all things move and spin eternally in a round of restless play, whether it be electrons, planets, or what not in the physical universe.

Some families of insects, he points

TWO HURT AS FLAMES RAZE HOTEL

Sacramento Hostelry's Guests Flee for Lives; Firemen Injury Victims

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Two firemen were hurt and between sixty and seventy persons fled for their lives or were carried to safety when fire destroyed the 128-room, four-story, Capital Hotel, Seventh and K streets, here today. Three clothing stores in the hotel building were damaged. The loss is estimated at approximately $500,000.

The flames started at 8:30 a.m. in the engine room of the hotel and spread rapidly through the building. A general alarm was sounded and for more than seven hours firemen fought to subdue the fire.

Charles Pappas, a paralytic, was carried to safety from his hotel room. Two firemen were injured when they came in contact with an electric wire in the burning structure.

The stores damaged by flames, smoke or water were owned by the J. C. Penney Company, Capital Juvenile Company and Mason's Clothing Company.

The hotel is one of the old Sacramento hostelries, having been built fifty years ago.

Eight Seamen Rescued in Gale

BUFFALO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Eight Canadian seamen, comprising the crew of the storm-tossed lighter Badger, were rescued off Point Abino today in the teeth of a howling gale by Coast Guard cutter No. 197, which landed them safely here.

The battered lighter was without motive power of any kind except that used to operate its winches.

NO THANKS DUE PLUVIUS ON HOLIDAY

Dry Thanksgiving Day to Top Driest Autumn on Record of Weather Bureau

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Fair and mild weather is likely to continue over Thanksgiving, it was reported tonight by Acting Forecaster Summers of the local United States Weather Bureau. No rain is in sight for the State, he said, in the driest autumn season on record since 1849, when the office was established. Similar conditions prevail throughout the Pacific Slope, particularly in Oregon and Washington.

The drought continues to work a serious hardship on the farmers, Summers said. Cattle and sheep are increasingly being withdrawn from the ranges and hydroelectric plants everywhere are handicapped. Shortness of water also is proving a grievous factor in the forest fire situation, the forces fighting the flames reporting this disadvantage on all fronts.

Likewise the drought has delayed the fall sowing of wheat and other grain in the interior valleys and the farmers expect consequent heavy losses.

Student Found Shot to Death

OMAHA, Nov. 24. (AP)—With a revolver clutched in his right hand, Robert Detweiler, 22 years of age, son of a prominent Omaha family and junior law student at Creighton University, was found dead early today in his automobile on a road near the western limits of Omaha. He had been shot in the head.

After an investigation, county officers said they believe the youth committed suicide because the girl he loved had refused to marry him until he completed his law course.

NEW INDIVIDUALISM SCORED

Modern "Rationalized Sin" Called "Psychological Cosmetic" Bedecking Same Old Filth

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—The newer individualism is a "psychological cosmetic" under which sin, nastiness and filth are being paraded just as they were in the eighteenth century, Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, himself a modernist in Biblical intepretation, asserted today in a sermon at Temple Beth-El.

"One of the most choice phenomena of our time is the way we rationalize sin," Dr. Fosdick said. "We take every day, garden varieties of nastiness and physical infidelity, dress them up in a new psychological phraseology and say, 'Oh, how modern!'

"St. Paul tells us that sin can disguise itself as an angel of light, but Paul never dreamed of our new psychological cosmetics by means of which any sin from adultery up, can walk abroad now as self-expression, now as release from inhibition, now as the new freedom, or now as overcoming a complex. Amid all this looseness, disguised in the paint and apparel of the new phraseology, we all of us need to hear a salutory and challenging summons—'pull yourselves together.'

"This is not by any means a reactionary appeal to old moral codes or taboos. It is primarily an appeal to a knowledge of history. The idea that this looseness is really modern is absurd to anyone who knows history. One can find every item of it reduplicated in the eighteenth century."

CHINESE ARMY CRUMBLING BEFORE SOVIET INVASIO

Russians Occupy Hailar, Killir Thousands, and Orientals Flee in Panic

TOKIO, Nov. 25. (AP) (Monday)—Dispatches today from Har to the Japanese news agency, Rengo, said that Chinese resista was fast breaking down under a concerted rain of blows by so forces in both Eastern and Western Manchuria.

Simple Rites for Clemenceau

Only Few to Witness Burial in Lonely Grave Dug by Faithful Chauffeur

Nation Barred from Funeral Plans Tribute at Tomb of Unknown Soldier

PARIS, Nov. 24. (AP) — Georges Clemenceau, the father of victory, his sufferings ended early today by death which closed eighty-eight years of a fighting life, tonight is being taken for eternal rest in the loneliness of a little wood near Mouchamps, in his beloved Vendee.

The man who had been a firm and fiery Premier for France in her trial of the World War, rode through the darkness in an automobile hearse over 250 miles of road toward the southeast, to a spot within thirty miles of the sea he loved so well.

There he will be buried tomorrow morning under the trees, in a grave that his chauffeur and friend, M. Brabant, dug for him today. He will enter the soil of his France for which he had fought so vigorously at a spot he himself had selected. The grave will be marked by a stone which friends had sent from Greece and which he had erected several years ago, with few if any sharing his secret.

UPRIGHT IN GRAVE

He will be buried upright, as his father was before him. What he desired above all was to carry out to the end his appearance of a hard exterior, which all knew covered a warm heart. He lived and wanted to die "a man." In one of his last lucid moments on his deathbed he said:

"I want no women; I want no tears; let me die before men."

Clemenceau in death as in life rejected ostentation and ceremony. He asked that when death came to him that he should be permitted merely to disappear. He wished a funeral as quiet, as drab, as bare as those for a million of "his boys" killed in the long struggle which his leadership helped turn to a triumph and caused a then feverishly grateful Parliament to acclaim him "Father of Victory."

SIMPLICITY HIS WISH

The simplicity of the burial will make it seem almost secret. Premier Tardieu, a close friend, was called to the death chamber shortly after the death at 1:45 a.m. He told the family of the government's wish to give the statesman a national funeral. He knew, as the family did, that Clemenceau had wished exactly the reverse and, when the will was opened this morning, that wish was expressed formally.

Clemenceau named specifically in his will those whom he wished to attend his funeral to the exclusion of others. They include his son, two daughters, two grandsons two executors, who are Nicolas Pietri and M. Paurnin, and his former associates in government, Georges Mandel, Gen. Mordacq, his private secretary, Marten; Pierre Godin, who was president of the City Council, and Senator Jeanneny, who was Undersecretary of State under the Tiger.

M. Brabant left by automobile within an hour after the death to dig the grave for his beloved master. This was all a part of the carefully arranged plans of Clemenceau. Three years ago at Luxem-

CHINESE PLAN HOOVER PLEA

Appeal for Commission to Investigate Aggression Soviet Russia May be Sent Today

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.]

MUKDEN, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Representatives of public organi tions, including chambers of commerce, educational and bankers' associ tions, labor and agricultural bodies throughout the three eastern pro inces, during the last two days have been working on the draft of a te gram which probably will be dispatched to President Hoover tomorrow.

It will ask the appointment of a commission in behalf of the signers of the Kellogg antiwar pact for the purpose of investigating the soviet violations of the pact and aggression on Chinese soil.

The telegram will assert that the recent soviet invasion bears the earmarks of real imperialistic political and territorial aggression in the Near East for the purpose of adding more bolshevized territory to the Union of Socialist Soviet R publics, which is considered anoth stepping stone to the long-adve tised world revolution.

This telegram will declare th the Red atrocities violate all kno humanitarian conceptions and, u less checked through internatio action, mean the complete wrec ing of the world's hopes as e pressed in the antiwar pact, ul mately leading to the destruction civilization.

RACE-HORSE MAN DIES

REMEMBER THIS

Cheerfulness is the faculty of forgetting the [illegible] and remembering the good.

Will Rogers Remarks:

CALEXICO, Nov. 24. [To the Editor of The Times:] Just seen the biggest cotton farm in the world and it's in Mexico. A poor negro, a poor mule and a debt was about all I had ever seen on cotton land before, yet here is 110,000 acres in one piece. That's enough acres, if it was in our cotton States at home, to impoverish and keep poor over 20,000 families.

Glad to visit Mexico again but most of my old cronies guessed wrong during the last revolution and I am having a little trouble locating them.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

as "crude propaganda from Moscow."

Commenting on purported Russian statements that Chinese troops have been guilty of provocative acts, forcing Russian soldiery to resort to counter-measures to protect the populace, Wang declared:

"The soviets are the only ones guilty of provocative acts.

"More than thirty towns along the border, and in Chinese territory, have been raided and looted by the Reds.

"At this very moment the soviets are probably committing atrocities in the vicinity of Manchuli, as exemplified in the report of soviets bombing that vicinity, causing the death of 1000 innocent civilians, including, naturally, helpless women and children."

Wang said he is willing to invite an international inquiry for the sole purpose of investigating and then informing the world whether it is soviet or Chinese troops guilty of provocative acts along the frontier.

He added the Nationalist government is willing to bear the entire expense of such a commission.

CHINESE FACTIONS MAY UNITE TO RESIST REDS

NANKING, Nov. 24. (AP)—As a result of what political leaders here term "grave developments in Manchuria," it apparently was authentically reported that negotiations are proceeding among outstanding military and civil leaders of various factions throughout China seeking an end to present internal struggles.

It was indicated further that all forces might be combined to "resist soviet attacks."

Although authorities had not issued any statement concerning the subject, it generally was believed here that the Nationalist government and the Kuominchun leaders, representing the so-called people's army, had reached an agreement. This was borne out by reports that fighting had subsided on all fronts and that the Kuominchun were withdrawing westward in the provinces of Honan and Jupeh.

line fire which has given fire fighters stubborn resistance since last Wednesday is reported to have changed its course and headed toward Crescent City. The shift in the wind probably will save the redwood district of virgin timber, but will endanger many persons living in the district.

Official reports from the fire fronts indicate low humidity and increased fire hazards. Additional crews of men were sent from here today to relieve those who have been fighting the flames since Thursday.

SAN MATEO COUNTY FIRE RAGING ONWARD

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—One of the most stubborn fires in the many recent blazes that have made desolate wastes of thousands of acres of beautiful San Mateo county scenic hillsides, today occupies the attention of 240 men near Pilarcitos Lake, the Crystal Springs watershed of the Spring Valley Water Company.

The fire, raging fiercely in brush and dried grass, is sweeping toward the northwest on a front several miles wide, and threatening a large stand of pine north of the road which leads from Pilarcitos Lake to the top of Scarper Ridge.

The weary fire fighters, blackened and saturated with smoke after their two-day fight against this blaze, are using this road as a firebreak, and hope to save the timber lands north of the road. Although nothing of value has been destroyed by the fire as yet, it is said that much valuable timber will be destroyed should the flames leap the road and enter the pine country.

The fire fighters are under the direction of Thomas W. Espey, assistant chief engineer of the Spring Valley Company. One hundred and ninety of the men were recruited from the water company's forces, and fifty were sent to the fire by the Board of Public Works of San Francisco. The interest of the city was, of course, aroused by the possibility that the city's water supply might be affected by the spread of the flames.

FLYING LEVIATHAN WILL DWARF ORDINARY PLANE

Monster of Skies to Carry Hundreds of Passengers and Tons of Freight

Proposed Monarch of the Air and Her Skipper

This drawing makes the comparison between the largest airplane in the world and a plane of normal size. The latter is in the right-hand lower corner. The insert is a picture of E. Eliot Green, chief designer of the General Development Company which will construct a fleet of these "flying wing" monoplanes at a cost of $2,000,000 each. Some idea of how the 206 passengers and the tons of freight will be carried may be obtained from this cross-section view.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (Exclusive) Construction of four giant airplanes dwarfing any now in existence and comparable only to ocean liners in size, fittings and accommodations will begun soon. Dr. William Whitney Christmas, vice-president of the General Development Company of Connecticut, announced today.

The new air giants will be capable of carrying a maximum of 206 passengers each, as well as tons of mail and freight. They will have a wing spread of 262 feet and will cost $2,000,000 each. Long-distance passenger, mail and freight transportation competition with the railroads is projected.

The ships are to be monoplanes of the "flying wing" type and will be powered by eight chemically cooled motors geared to variable pitch air screws. Cabin accommodations will be provided in the wings, which will have transparent material let into the heading edges permitting passengers the same view as that from the pilot's control cabin.

The crew of each plane will consist of a master, a radio operator, two pilots, a purser, two enginemen, two machinists and eight cooks, with stewards, pantrymen and waiters. Two outriggers, extending forward to house the motors and aft to support the tail group, also will be used for passenger quarters.

DEATH CLAIMS AGED SENATOR

position," but Warren could outstay the youngest and the best of his colleagues.

PRAISED BY HOOVER

President Hoover today described Senator Warren as one of the leaders of a passing generation to whom the people of this generation owe much of their splendid heritage.

News of the death of the veteran Senator was conveyed to the President upon his return from morning services at the Friends' meeting house. He issued this statement:

"Senator Warren began his public service with four years as a private and officer in the Civil War, Mayor of his city, Governor of his State, Senator for nearly forty years, every stage of his life was marked by increasing industry and by devotion to national welfare. His span of life covers a generation fast passing. Among those leaders he played a great part and to whom we of this generation owe much of our splendid inheritance."

FUNERAL ARRANGED

A state funeral will be conducted for Senator Warren in the Senate chamber Tuesday afternoon.

The ceremonies will be conducted by Rev. Z. B. Phillips, the Senate chaplain, and afterward the body will be placed on a train for Wyoming.

Committees from the two houses of Congress were appointed tonight by Vice-President Curtis and Speaker Longworth. These include members of the appropriations committees of the two branches, many of the older members of the Senate and a group of western representatives.

EARLY TO SCHOOL

Born at Hinsdale, Mass., June 20, 1844, Senator Warren entered school when 3 years of age, but his father soon afterward suffered financial reverses and he was obliged to go to work on the farm. What education he got after that he had to arrange for out of his own funds, but he was able to spend three years at an academy before he hired himself out to a neighborhood farmer who made him manager of the place before he had attained to his eighteenth birthday.

When the war between the States started, young Warren wanted to enlist, but his father forbade him to do so until he was 18. Then he joined the Forty-ninth Massachusetts Regiment, and participated in the siege of Port Hudson, La. He was one of the volunteers in the "forlorn hope," who preceded a column storming Port Hudson to fill up with facines the ditch in front of the earthworks. Three-fourths of this force was killed or wounded and Warren himself was stunned by a fragment of a shell.

This was on May 27, 1863. Thirty years later he was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, the order of award reciting that he "volunteered in response to a call and took part in the movement that was made upon the enemy's works under a heavy fire therefrom in advance of the general assault."

LURE OF WEST

After he was mustered out, Warren again returned to farming in his native State, but the lure of the West seized him and he became foreman of a construction crew on the Rock Island Railroad line in Iowa. Soon a friend wrote him an offer to become manager of a mercantile firm in Cheyenne and he accepted. On his arrival at the Wyoming city—then a boom town—two bands were at the station, drumming up trade, as Warren learned, for rival gambling houses. There he found life in the raw. Cheyenne was a city of tents, camps and covered wagons; everything was wide open, even on Sundays, and gambling went forward on tables in the streets.

Young Warren did not come as a crusader, but he lent his influence to improving conditions and he stuck to the idea of Cheyenne as a permanent city even when most of the inhabitants believed that it must fade as many another western boom town had done. He worked steadily, acquiring real estate, cattle and sheep and striving for civic improvements.

One of the early "Trustees" of the city, he became in turn City Councilman and Mayor and treasurer of the Territory of Wyoming and afterward Territorial Governor. When Wyoming was admitted to Statehood, he became its first Governor and then, in 1890, was elected as its first Senator. From that time he kept his seat continuously except for a lapse in 1893 when the Wyoming Legislature deadlocked over the election.

RECLAMATION AIDED

Senator Warren early became interested in the permanent development of the West and was a moving spirit in the enactment of the reclamation law under which thousands of acres of arid lands have been reclaimed. He also took great interest in the Army and was responsible for the establishment of many permanent military posts in the West.

A staunch Republican all his life, Senator Warren was a consistent supporter of the measures of the Wilson administration in preparation for the World War. His interest in the military establishment was heightened by the fact that Gen. Pershing, commander of the American Expeditionary Forces, was his son-in-law. The general's little son, Francis Warren Pershing, spent much of the time during his father's absence at the home of his grandfather. The boy's mother and three sisters lost their lives in the tragic fire that destroyed the Presidio at San Francisco in 1915.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Representing as he did a commonwealth that was the first to make a provision for equal suffrage in its Constitution, Senator Warren supported the national equal suffrage amendment. On the prohibition issue he took the stand that it was a matter for State decision and cast his vote against the Federal Constitutional amendment.

As chairman of the powerful Appropriations Committee after the war, he had an important part in carrying out the economy programs of Presidents Harding and Coolidge and in his long service he sponsored or supported many measures dealing with social betterment.

Senator Warren was married January 26, 1871, to Miss Helen Marie Smith of Middlefield, Mass., and a son and daughter were born of that union. Mrs. Warren died March 28, 1902, and on June 28, 1911, the Senator married Miss Clara LeBaron Morgan of Groton, Ct.

WYOMING WILL VOTE TO SELECT SENATOR

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Nov. 24. (AP) A special election will be called and held as soon as possible in Wyoming to name a successor to the late Senator Warren, dean of the United States Senate, who died today in Washington, W. O. Wilson Attorney-General, said tonight.

The Wyoming law provides if a Senator dies during a session of Congress a successor shall be appointed to serve until the next general election, but if the Senator dies while Congress is adjourned, a special election machinery shall be set in motion as quickly as possible. A successor probably will be named within thirty days.

TWELVE CONGRESSMEN DIE

Seventy-first Session Loses Three Senators and Nine Representatives by Death

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Death has exacted a heavy toll from a 9-month-old Congress. Its hand also has reached into an equally young Presidential Cabinet and taken the life of Secretary of War Good.

Not yet in regular session, the Seventy-first Congress has lost three Senators and nine Representatives to death. Four of those elected to the House died before they had an opportunity to assume their seats.

Senator Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, the last to go, was the oldest in years and point of service in the Senate. Less than a month ago, Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, a beloved personage who had thirty years service in the House and Senate, died after a lingering illness. Senator L. D. Tyson of Tennessee passed away in August.

The body of Representative O. J. Kvale of Minnesota, a minister of the gospel, and the only Farmer-Laborite in the House, was found in the ruins of his summer cottage in the northwestern woods in September.

The other Representatives who died were Leslie J. Steel of Georgia; John J. Casey of Pennsylvania, Whitmell P. Martin of Louisiana, Charles W. Roarke of Kentucky, Royal H. Weller of New York, Edward J. King of Illinois, Charles L. Faust of Missouri, and William A. Oldfield of Arkansas, the Democratic whip in the Seventieth Congress.

edies, he made a pronounced success in "King Dodo," a fantastic musical play, in which he portrayed the title role for two years, established himself as one of America's foremost comedians.

His first starring vehicle was as Abijah Booze in "The Yankee Consul" in which he toured the country after a prolonged run at the Broadway Theater, New York.

LOS ANGELES VISITOR

His tours in "King Dodo" and "The Yankee Consul" both brought him to the Pacific Coast and Los Angeles. These appearances were between the years of 1901 and 1906.

Following he had prominent roles in a variety of musical shows and comedies, appearing in London in 1916 in "Mr. Manhattan." One of the most outstanding of his successes was scored in "Hitchy Koo" which was produced at the Cohan and Harris Theater, New York, in 1917, and was taken on extensive tours over America and returned to New York for re-engagement owing to its success.

RECENTLY IN "OLD SOAK"

His more recent efforts were in "The Old Soak" and "The Sap," which he appeared in in 1924. He was featured also in Ziegfeld's Follies and with Earl Carrol's production in New York.

Hitchcock came to Hollywood several years ago to undertake motion pictures and appeared in "Red Heads Preferred," "Money Talks" and other films in 1926 and 1927.

A romance of his early career resulted in his marriage to Flora Zabelle, who appeared in leading feminine roles with him in "King Dodo," "The Yankee Consul" and other productions. She was the daughter of Rev. M. M. Mangasarian and was born in Constantinople, making her first appearance on the stage in Chicago.

ROSS STRIKES BACK AT DICKIE

Vital Statistics Registrar Denies Inefficiency

Resignation Requested by Superior Refused

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Denying specifically and categorically charges of incompetency and inefficiency preferred against him as State registrar of vital statistics, L. E. Ross tonight made public a letter he is sending Dr. Walter M. Dickie, State director of public health, his accuser, in which he charged the latter with attempting to "cripple" Ross's bureau, conducting his own office in an improper manner, and playing politics.

Ross stated he received notice from Dickie last week informing him he was suspended for thirty days. He also was given to understand that his resignation was requested within that period, else charges would be filed with the State Civil Service Commission.

The registrar informed Dr. Dickie that he would submit the question concerning his efficiency to the commission, thereby refusing to resign.

Ross not only denied his superior's charges of inefficiency but in turn charged that Dr. Dickie could have had no knowledge on this point "for the reason that at no time since you have been head of the Department of Public Health have you given any personal attention to the work of this bureau."

Air-Mail Project Hearing Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Proposals for the establishment of an air-mail route between New York and Los Angeles by way of New Orleans will be heard tomorrow before the interdepartmental committee of the Postoffice and Commerce departments.

The routing proposals will be heard and the announcement of the committee's decision will be made later.

When it's time to Transfer use ENDURO Steel transfer cases

Enduro steel transfer cases come in single-drawer units both in letter and legal sizes. Drawers can be stacked to any desired height and are held in place by an interlocking device. Stacks of drawers also interlock thus preventing sagging or weaving. Drawers operate smoothly regardless of stored weight. Finish is olive green.

Transfer cases are usually stored in some out-of-the-way location where their contents are exposed to the attacks of dust, moisture, mice and vermin—unless the cases are constructed to offer complete protection. ENDURO storage cabinets are built to protect their contents in every way. They are strong, durable, tight, electrically welded throughout. And they are California-made, resulting in a price advantage quite necessary in a transfer case. Tear out this notice and take it to your office equipment dealer. He will quote prices and show you the ENDURO case.

PILGRIMS DEFY FREEZING WIND

Hundred Thousand in Line at Miracle Tomb

Cemetery Closed Last Night Pending Inquiry

Many Heed Request to Remain Away

MALDEN (Mass.) Nov. 24. (AP)—Freezing temperature and a leaden sky, together with a biting wind today failed to daunt the unending line of woe-stricken pilgrims seeking relief in the reported miraculous quality of the grave of Rev. Patrick J. Power in Holy Cross Cemetery here.

It was the last day of the pilgrimages, a ban which will close the cemetery to the afflicted until the church has had opportunity to investigate the manifold stories of miraculous cures was to become effective at midnight. It was estimated that at the closing hour, 100,000 persons would have attended the grave during the twenty-four hours.

REQUEST HEEDED

Last Sunday, it was estimated, 200,000 persons attended, but the falling off today was attributed by cemetery officials to the published request of William Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, that the public refrain immediately from visiting the grave until after the investigations are completed.

Today was not materially different, except for the intense cold and dampness, from the previous three Sundays and twenty-four week days that have intervened since stories of cures at the sixty-year-old grave of the young priest had become widespread. Today there was a similar line of lame, blind and otherwise afflicted stretching tortuously for more than three-quarters of a mile through the winding paths of the cemetery.

GHASTLY SCENES

Today there were the same sort of ghastly scenes of suffering at the grave's edge; the same frenzied snatching of damp earth to rub on sightless eyes and on crippled and withered limbs. There were the usual number of ambulances and stretcher bearers, twisted forms in wheel chairs and feverish eyes staring out hopefully from the depths of blanket swaths; the usual scraping of canes and crutches and shuffling of crippled feet.

Inside the cemetery gates thirty-five police officers, including two mounted men and two State troopers, maintained orderly lines. City members of the American Legion in uniform assisted them. Outside, on the streets surrounding the cemetery, twenty traffic police were on duty.

TURKISH WOMEN GET RIGHT TO HOLD OFFICE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 24. (AP) Turkish women have made another advance toward complete emancipation by winning the right to vote in municipal elections and to hold municipal offices. The Parliamentary committee has modified the existing law reserving the vote on municipal affairs to men. The modified law gallantly puts women first, saying: "Every Turkish woman or man has the right to elect or be elected in municipal elections."

LONDON, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—A new light has been cast upon the old adage that "love will find a way" today by Jessie Matthews, an English actress, who is seeking a divorce in order that she may wed Sonny Hale, husband of Evelyn Laye, another of the island's actresses, who now is in the United States.

Miss Matthews in her plea for a divorce from L. Alva Lytton has bared her own misconduct. She revealed to the court her relations with Hale. Her disclosure, it is presumed, will aid Miss Laye in obtaining a divorce from Hale, the petition for which has already been filed.

ROCK ISLAND WILL SPEND VAST SUMS

Budget for 1930 Placed at $50,000,000 in Line With Program of Hoover

CHICAGO, Nov. 25. (AP)—In line with President Hoover's program for maintaining business conditions on a normal basis, President J. E. Gorman today announced the proposed 1930 improvement budget of the Rock Islands Lines will total about $50,000,000, the largest budget of expenditures in the history of the road.

The outlay, President Gorman said, will exceed by slightly more than $10,000,000 the improvement budget of 1929 and will be for new equipment, general improvements, new lines and miscellaneous construction.

The expenditure includes a tentative budget of $5,500,000, for building a new line in Texas, by the Chicago Rock Island and Gulf Railroad, a part of the Rock Island lines. The proposal now is before the Interstate Commerce Commission for decision.

Approximately $20,000,000 will be spent for new equipment, consisting of forty-one locomotives, 8000 freight cars, twenty-four passenger cars, and sixty-two work cars, Mr. Gorman said.

Other expenditures include a $6,000,000 fund for miscellaneous improvements to be charged to operation and capital account.

SCOTS SAVE BREATH ON HOLY LITANY

Highland Episcopalians Promulgate New Ritual Without Argument

EDINBURGH (Scotland) Nov. 24. The Episcopal Church of Scotland which, unlike the Anglican Church in England, has no direct connection with the state, has prepared a new prayer book. The synod has approved the book and it will come into use on the first Sunday in Advent, December 1.

The absence of all the elaborate safeguards against the use of the reserved sacrament for other purposes than the communion of the sick and those otherwise hindered from attending church, which caused so much discussion when the new English book was under debate, is particularly noticeable.

An interesting point is that in the first four petitions of the Litany the words "miserable sinners," which for years have been condemned by many Anglicans as having sense of unreality, are omitted in the new Scottish book.

The marriage service closely follows the lines of the new English book, more especially in speaking of the sharing of worldly goods instead of the old-time formula, "with all my worldly goods I thee endow," which the bridegroom used to address to the bride.

Painting Lost Four Centuries Found in Ghent

GHENT (Belgium) Nov. 24. (AP)—The lost Raphael, the original painting of the "Madonna of Saint Salvi," for which art experts have been searching, has been found here, according to several art connoisseurs. The painting, which is said to have been one of the master's finest, has been missing for four centuries.

Julius A. Van Hee, former American Vice-Consul here, and President Hoover's right-hand man for Flanders in the Belgian relief commission during the war, affirms that he has found the painting in the home of an ancient Flemish family of Ghent.

Documents to show that it has been in the possession of the old Flemish landowners since 1641 are available, Mr. Van Hee said.

HOOVER MEETS FARMERS TODAY

Last of Business-Progress Sessions to Be Held

Co-operation for Industrial Uplift to Be Asked

United States Chamber in Call for Meeting

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—President Hoover completes his cycle of business progress conferences tomorrow by receiving heads of farm organizations at the White House.

This will be his first meeting with spokesmen for the agriculture industry since the farm relief legislation was put into operation and it is to be expected that there will be such assurances of Federal co-operation as to stimulate the industry.

The President will have covered the major fields of endeavor in the country with the conclusion of tomorrow's conference. He also has called upon the Governors of the States to co-operate fully with the movement to offset the effects of the stock market situation by speeding up as far as possible programs of public construction in States, cities and counties.

Out of the conferences which Mr. Hoover initiated will come a more or less permanent organization within the industries which is to be formed at a meeting here on December 5. This was called today by the United States Chamber of Commerce which has sent invitations to from 150 to 200 business leaders representing practically all of the business groups of the nation.

LETTER SENT OUT

President Hoover will open this conference with a brief talk outlining his purposes and reviewing what has been accomplished. This is disclosed in a letter, copies of which will be sent tomorrow to the groups and which will be signed by Julius Barnes, chairman of the board, and William Butterworth, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

"This conference will be opened by President Hoover," the letter will say, "and is the outgrowth of a conviction of his part that American business is so organized as to be fully capable of mobilizing its forces in co-operation with government.

"It is gratifying that from such high authority should come this recognition of the efficiency and trustworthiness of business organizations in this country, and there is now a responsibility upon us to discharge this trust with sober devotion and practical efficiency.

WHAT PROBLEM IS

"The preliminary conferences which the President held last week with individual business leaders indicates a situation that has no fundamental weakness. Indeed the absence of weak factors and the presence of strong ones constitute tribute to the high standards and the wise practices of American business men. There are no burdensome stocks of commodities, and this is owing to far-sighted manufacturing plans and to prudent merchandising efforts, aided by striking efficiency in transportation.

"With no commodity price inflation there is no menace of inventory losses. There is a strong banking situation with enlarged reservoirs of credit available for industry and commerce on reasonable terms. Weak spots which have heretofore existed in American industry are showing signs of improvement.

"American industry generally is approaching the close of one of the most active and prosperous years in its history. The problem now is, fortunately, not one of starting a stalled machine, but of facilitating a present momentum on which employment and earnings and buying power have arisen to high levels. It is our belief that proven ability in practical business leadership can define weak spots and bring forward remedial measures, and thus justify a high spirit of confidence and enterprise.

"In preparation for practical steps based on accurate information we would like to have an analysis of the strong and weak spots in your field, both as to the present situation and the next six months."

A Test Every Bladder Sufferer Should Make

Medical authorities agree that 65 per cent of all men past middle age (many much younger) are afflicted with a disorder of the prostate gland. Aches in feet, legs and back, frequent nightly risings, sciatic pains, are some of the signs—and now a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science has written a remarkably interesting Free Book that tells of other symptoms and just what they mean. No longer should a man approaching or past the prime of life be content to regard these pains and conditions as inevitable signs of approaching age. Already more than 50,000 men have used the amazing method described in this book to restore their health and vigor—and to restore the prostate gland to its proper functioning. Arrange immediately for this book. Call in person if possible, otherwise mail your request to The Electro Thermal Company, Dept. Paying Taxes by the "SECURITY-FIRST NATIONAL" plan

As the "last day" for paying city and county taxes approaches, the lines of people at the Hall of Records grow longer and longer. Thousands of men and women stand wearily in line, clasping their pocket books, in order to get to the window to pay in currency.

We hope that there will be no patrons of Security-First National Bank in that weary line.

If you are a customer of this Bank, at any office or Branch, whether you have a checking account or a savings account, you may secure, without fee, a Cashier's Check in exchange for your currency, or personal check, or withdrawal from your Savings Account.

Just MAIL that check, with your tax bill, to the Tax Collector at the Hall of Records. You will get back your receipted bill, by mail at your home. A two-cent stamp is your whole cost.

If you haven't a Savings Account, why not open one, NOW. Taxes will be as inevitable the last Monday in April as they are the first Monday in December. Begin NOW to accumulate. Paid month by month into your Savings Account, taxes are not less inevitable, but they become less burdensome.

burg he had told a group of Senators:

"You know, when I die it won't be announced. You will learn of it only after my burial. I have made provision for that."

When the time came he was, of course, not able to attain such a complete degree of self-effacement. M. Tardieu respected the wishes of his friend and cut red tape to facilitate privacy at the burial. He ordered a cordon of gendarmes thrown about the woods.

Yet while the simple ceremony is taking place in that far-off, lonely spot, the "cannon of the armistice," that sounded the last note of the World War, again will be fired. The same salute of 101 shots, as was given at 11 o'clock on November 11, 1918, will be sounded.

Every battery of artillery in France and her colonies and the guns of every French warship afloat on whatever seas will answer that salute in memory of the man who, for France, really won the war.

VETERANS TO MARCH

Next Sunday veterans of France, men whom Clemenceau saw when he went to the front-line trenches, cheered them and called them "my children," will march in a public funeral procession past the grave of the unknown soldier who symbolizes the million and a half of the battle dead of the country.

At that national shrine will assemble the government, President Doumergue, Premier Tardieu, the whole Cabinet and the presidents of the Chamber and Senate of Parliament. They will pronounce again the tribute of the nation to that pilgrimage of sorrow at Napoleon's great Arc de Triomphe.

All flags of government possessions were at half-mast today in France and all her possessions. Tomorrow while the guns sound in salute the chamber will listen to a funeral oration by President Fernand Bouisson and Premier Tardieu will answer for the government.

Soon after dawn today people began to gather before the modest home where the Tiger had lived for thirty-five years. Inside the house, Albert, faithful valet of the statesman, and Sister Theoneste, his faithful nurse, prepared Clemenceau for his long rest. They put on him a gray suit and on his head the little, worn horizon-blue soldier's "bonnet" that he liked to wear. It was one which he had worn in the trenches under fire and which had been pictured in newspapers all over the world.

They propped him up in the strange bed which had been carved to his order with fabulous monsters and placed a white bedspread over him. M. Tardieu, some other old friends, American Charge d'Affaires Norman Armour and a very few other dignitaries were admitted to the chamber during the morning.

BORNE TO GRAVE

All day long a stream of people passed through the entry signing the register and leaving cards. The family carried out the wish of Clemenceau for privacy and withheld news of the plans for burial.

It was not until after dark that a light oak casket with gilded handles was brought and the body placed in it. It was then carried out to a swift black hearse that started at once through the dark on the strange and solemn journey to the grave in Vendee.

All day long telegraph wires from all over Europe and cable lines from every continent had brought to the government and the family messages of sympathy and sadness from kings, princes, presidents and friends.

RIGHT OF WAY WENT WRONG

Motorist, After Party, Tries to Crowd Locomotive; He's Still Alive

SALINAS, Nov. 24. (AP)—C. E. Mills, driving his automobile down a railroad track here this morning, saw a train coming, but feeling he had the right of way, he told police later, he kept on going.

Train and auto met head on, the impact carrying Mills's machine 200 feet and demolishing it. Extricated from wreckage and taken to a hospital, he was found to have escaped without a bruise or scratch.

Mills said he was on his way to Gonzales after attending a party here.

SCIENCE FINDS WHY BUGS SING

out, have quite complicated musical instruments as parts of their bodies, and different species are extremely specialized in their musical technique. Some appear to have a keen sense of time, while the music of others seems to have no time regulation.

Ambitious efforts to learn the "smell" language of bees, ants and termites are described by Dr. N. E. McIndoo, of the Department of Agriculture, who advances the theory that the remarkable social organizations of these insects depend, for their systems of communication, upon the extremely fine differentiation of odors.

By intensive development of his own sense of smell, Dr. McIndoo says, he was able in a few months to distinguish queens, drones and workers merely by smelling them, and also to distinguish the smell of the hive, of the larvae and pupae, of the honey, the pollen and the wax.

As a human being with greatly degenerated sense of smell could make such fine distinctions, he points out, the insects themselves must recognize much finer differences. By means of specially devised experiments, Dr. McIndoo reports, it was established that the queen bee gives a peculiar odor, that probably all her offspring inherit a "family odor" from her, and that each worker apparently gives an odor different from that of any other worker.

COLONY ODOR

Of all the bee odors, he says, the "hive odor" probably is the most important. All the bees of a colony carry the hive odor of that colony on their bodies. This serves as a sign by which all the occupants of a hive know one another.

In colonies of ants, Dr McIndoo points out, the utmost harmony reigns among those belonging to the same community while all others are enemies. Thus ants taken out of a nest and returned after a year have been received amicably by the others. On the other hand a strange ant is at once attacked. This indicates, he holds, that the differentiation of individuals must be by possession of odors peculiar to each colony.

While the ability of dogs to follow tracks by scent long has amazed scientists, Dr. McIndoo points out, the ant has equally remarkable ability in this line.

The odors of insects, he believes, comes from specit glands scattered over the surface of the body, which take the place of the sweat glands in mammals as smell producers.

Among mammals the dog has sweat gland in the pads of its feet which seem to deposit an odorous material wherever the dog steps.

Arrest of Five Reveals Murder

MOUNTAIN VIEW (Ark.) Nov. 24. (AP)—The torture, mutilation and then burning alive of Connie Franklin, 20-year-old farm hand, and an attack on his young woman companion on a lonely mountain road fourteen miles east of here last March, came to light today with the arrest of five men indicted by the county grand jury.

All were indicted on first-degree murder charges and two of them on statutory charges.

SYMPATHY NOTE SENT TO FRANCE

Hoover Calls Clemenceau Great Patriot

British Also Write Message of Condolence

Only Two of Noted Council of Four Remain

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—A cablegram expressing the sympathy of America for France in her loss in the death of the War Premier, Georges Clemenceau, of a valiant advocate of peace who knew how to meet the tragedy of war, was sent today by President Hoover to President Gaston Doumergue of France. The message read:

"Georges Clemenceau was a great patriot. His unselfish love of country inspired his fellow men. He was a valiant advocate of peace, who knew how to meet nobly the tragedy of war. His death, which brings mourning to France, is deeply regretted by men of good will in all nations. I send you, Mr. President, this expression of America's profound sympathy and that of the American people.

"HERBER HOOVER."

BRITISH SEND SYMPATHY MESSAGE

LONDON, Nov. 24. (AP)—The British government today sent an official message to the French government expressing sympathy with France in her mourning for Clemenceau.

"It is with profound regret that His Majesty's government in the United Kingdom received the news of the death of M. Clemenceau," said the message. "His proved friendship and long loyalty in trying days entitle him to the lasting gratitude of this country, where his death will be universally mourned and his memory honored."

WORD FROM MacDONALD

Premier MacDonald sent another message to the president of the French council.

"I desire to express to you my profound sympathy in the great loss which France has suffered in the death of Clemenceau," the Premier said. "His long, distinguished career, his indomitable courage and his energy, which advancing years did not diminish, have roused the warmest admiration of my countrymen, and the whole British nation grieves with France in his passing."

In a tribute expressed through the press here Premier MacDonald said the death of Clemenceau "removes from the stage of European affairs one of its unique figures. He was not only a great personality, but an extraordinarily interesting man. The Clemenceau of history will not only be the outstanding representative of his people as a nation but a man whose varied human qualities will always endear him to those interested in the elements of human greatness."

Viscount Cecil, assistant Secretary of State for foreign affairs in 1918, paid tribute to "The Tiger" as a heroic figure who "perhaps personified France more than any other single man has done in our generation."

LLOYD GEORGE SAD

Lloyd George said, "I heard with much sadness of the death of M. Clemenceau. He and I worked together during two of the most eventful years of history in the closest co-operation for the direction of a World War and the shaping of a world peace.

"Of four men who were primarily responsible for framing the peace treaty, President Wilson and now M. Clemenceau have been gathered to their fathers. Signor Orlando and I alone remain of the council of four.

"With the death of Clemenceau there passes away the last of the great statesmen of the nineteenth century. He will rank in history among the greatest of them all."

GERMANY SEES LESSON IN HIS LIFE

BERLIN, Nov. 24. (AP)—Montag, a Nationalist newspaper, commenting today on the death of Georges Clemenceau, said:

"In the eyes of Germany, Clemenceau will always appear as the father of the Treaty of Versailles, who vanquished moderation and whose post-war speeches were more harmful than beneficial to France."

Montag Morgen, a newspaper of the left Radical groups, said:

"Clemenceau had not a Ludendorff over him, but a Foch beneath him, whom he never failed to bully when the latter attempted to interfere in political battles. This relationship between the political and military leaders was largely the reason why France could win and Germany lose the war. The German republic has a lesson from the life of Clemenceau."

Town Crier Gives Villagers Death News

MOUILLERON - EN - PAREDS, VENDEE (France) Nov. 24. (AP)—Here, where Georges Clemenceau was born eighty-eight years ago, a strong contrast of old and new methods spread the news of his death.

Radio brought the word from Paris but the village of 720 persons learned of it when the old town crier gave a long roll on his drum to attract attention, then called out the news of the death of the famous favorite son, and gave another roll on the drum.

The ringing of church bells was stopped and in silence the word was passed from house to house.

Appalling Conditions Told by Missionaries

No Attempt Made to Save Lives of Sick

SHANGHAI, Nov. 2. (By mail)—So countless have been the deaths from starvation in the city of Sianfu, capital of famine-stricken Kansu Province, that a deep, wide moat dug outside the city walls during the siege of 1926 has been entirely filled with bodies.

This is the appalling story written by missionaries in Sianfu to friends in Shanghai.

Conditions in this city of 600,000 people have become so bad, say the letters, that the famine relief workers have to husband their supplies and give food only to those sufferers who seem strong enough to survive the winter on short diet. Those already weak, and the sick, are not fed, for it is felt they must die anyway, and to give them food merely to prolong life a few days means robbing someone else of a chance of living through the period of distress.

The next paragraph of one of the letters furnishes an unconscious sardonic commentary on conditions, for it says:

"Large quantities of grain and flour have come in lately, but most of it is for the use of the military."

INDIANS IN NEED OF BETTER CARE

Additional Funds Required for Education

Appropriations Remain on Prewar Basis

Commissioner Rhoads Files Survey Report

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—A five months' study of the Indian problem has led Commissioner Rhoads of the Indian Service to the belief that enlarged appropriations for the service at present will result in great savings to the taxpayers in the future.

In his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior, made public today, the former Philadelphia banker reveals that appropriations for the Indian Service for food, clothing and vocational training never have been adjusted to postwar costs. This has resulted, he said, in improperly fed, improperly clothed and improperly trained Indians who continue to be a drain on the public treasury instead of taking a self-respecting and self-supporting place in the life of the country.

Prior administrations, Rhoads reported, have stressed the situation, but data now in hand indicate that as a mere economic problem it will save the taxpayers money to grant at once large appropriations for a better-trained personnel and better schools, so that Indians may be trained for citizenship instead of wardship.

Rhoads reported that a closer co-operation among Federal, State, county and municipal health organizations had resulted in improved sanitary conditions and better health among the Indians. New hospitals have been established at Tacoma, Wash.; Chin Lee, Havasupai Canyon and Kayenta, Ariz.; Keshena, Wis.; at Taos and Tohatchi, N. M., and other places.

The development of attendance of Indian children in public schools is viewed by the commissioner with satisfaction. The enrollment of Indian children in public schools adjacent to or within Indian reservations this year totaled about 35,000

SHIFTS IMPEND IN COMMITTEES

Two Deaths and Resignation Open Senate Posts

Capper of Kansas Named to Fill One Vacancy

"Young Guard" Demands Job for La Follette

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—The prospect of a general readjustment of Senate committee memberships incidental to the appointment of successors to Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, Walter E. Edge of New Jersey and Theodore E. Burton of Ohio was held out today by Republican leaders of the Senate.

As a result of the resignation of the New Jersey Senator to be Ambassador to France and the deaths of Senator Warren and Senator Burton, Chairman McNary of the Committee on Committees will send out letters to all Republican Senators next week to ascertain whether they are satisfied with present assignments. The committee makes up the list of Senators who serve on the thirty-four standing committees.

McNARY OPTIMIST

As soon as the replies are received McNary will survey the situation. He does not believe that more than 10 per cent of the answers will contain requests for new assignments, but the committee will be called early in the regular session to make readjustments that may be necessary. Seniority, according to long-standing practice, will be the guiding principle.

A muddled situation will confront the committee when it tries to select a successor to Senator Warren as chairman of the powerful Appropriations Committee.

The chairmanship imposes the duty of piloting through the Senate the appropriation bills to provide funds for running the Federal government.

OLD RULE FAILS

Under the rule of seniority Senator Smoot of Utah, who ranked next to Senator Warren, would become head of the committee under regular procedure. Senator Smoot, however, already is chairman of the Finance Committee in charge of the tariff and it is considered improbable he would relinquish that position.

Next in line is Senator Jones of Washington, acting Republican leader, who is chairman of the Commerce Committee. Whether he would consent to give up this chairmanship is a matter of conjecture and the Senator declines to discuss the matter.

TWO TOO NEW

Of the remaining eight Republican members of the committee all but two already are chairmen of committees and the other two, Pine of Oklahoma and Glenn of Illinois—are comparatively new members of the Senate.

Some dissatisfaction with the present situation has been expressed by the Republican independents, who, with the Democrats, have been rewriting the House version of the tariff bill. They have suggested Robert M. La Follette, Jr., of Wisconsin, for the vacancy on the Finance Committee, which has charge of the tariff measure, and membership on which Edge relinquished this week to become Ambassador to France.

CAPPER APPOINTED

Edge also was a member of the Committee on Committees and Senator Jones of Washington, the active Republican leader, today appointed Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, to succeed him as a member of that committee.

At the same time Jones issued a statement which said the new assignments to the nine committees on which Edge and Burton served should be made as soon as possible and added he assumed action would be taken soon.

In addition to being chairman of the Interoceanic Canal Committee and a member of the Finance Committee, Edge was a member of the important Foreign Relations Committee. Burton was a member of the Commerce and Judiciary committees.

COMMITTEE PERSONNEL

The Republican members of the Committee on Committees as now arranged are McNary of Oregon, chairman; Moses of New Hampshire; Smoot of Utah; Reed of Pennsylvania; Oddie of Nevada; Nye of North Dakota; Bingham of Connecticut; Deneen of Illinois and Capper of Kansas.

In the closing days of the special session Capper voted with the Republican "young guard" who unsuccessfully attempted to force final action on the tariff bill before the regular session by voting against an adjournment.

TRAGIC SEA WRECK TOLD BY SURVIVOR

Giant Wave Blamed for Loss of Eighteen Lives in Crash Off Tobasco Coast

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 24. (AP)—A description of a giant wave which wrenched off the pilot house and bridge of the small steamer Villa Hermosa off the coast of Tobasco on the 16th inst., was given today by a survivor. It was the first detailed account of the disaster, involving loss of eighteen lives, to be received here. Twenty-four other persons who abandoned the ship after the wave had hit it made shore safely.

The vessel was surprised by a sudden storm. A dozen panic-stricken passengers were on the bridge and in the pilot house beseeching the captain to save them when the wave hit the ship with such force it carried away the whole superstructure with the passengers, captain and five seamen. Eighteen other passengers and six other members of the crew were flung to the deck.

They struggled through heavy seas in small boats to the shore. The steamer, left unguided, was driven on the rocks and broke up. Several women and children were among the victims. The ship was used in coastwise traffic.

CONGRESS WILL START ON TAXES

Reduction as Christmas Gift to Nation Planned

Tariff, Prohibition and Other Problems to Be Next

Senate Will Try to Settle Vare Issue First

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Income-tax reduction — $160,000,000 worth—will get the first attention of Congress when it convenes in regular session a week from Monday.

This Christmas present to Federal taxpayers seems destined to be given about Christmas time with the leaders of both parties in both the House and Senate pledged to its enactment. Then Congress will return to the tariff, prohibition and numerous other controversial problems.

Aside from the proposal to slash the normal income-tax rates of both individual and corporation taxpayers by 1 per cent, President Hoover has not disclosed the program he will submit to the first regular session of Congress in his administration.

However, the unsettled tariff legislation coming over from the extra session promises to demand attention for some time to come. Reorganization of the prohibition service and its transfer to the Department of Justice from the Treasury are expected to be recommended by the Chief Executive.

VARE ISSUE FIRST

While the House is busy starting the appropriation bills and getting the tax-reduction resolution under way, the Senate will take up the three-year-old dispute over the right of William S. Vare, Senator-elect from Pennsylvania, to a seat.

Vare's right was challenged first by the special Senate committee which inquired into his three-cornered primary campaign and reported expenditures of more than $800,000. Also William B. Wilson, the Democratic opponent, contested Vare's election on the charge of fraud. The subcommittee inquiring into that contest will report next week. Vare has been denied the oath of office.

By previous agreement, the Vare case will be taken up at the outset of the session. Lines have been fairly well drawn in the Senate during the three years of dispute and an early decision apparently is in sight.

It appears unlikely, however, that the Senate will be able to dispose of more than the Vare case and the tax-reduction resolution before the Christmas holiday after which it will resume the tariff wrangle.

HOW LONG WILL IT LAST?

This is the long session of Congress and with such an unsettled future ahead, few predictions are being made on when it will end. Some say it will be impossible to adjourn the meeting before the end of the summer. Others, however, believe the approaching primary campaigns will aid in bringing about an earlier adjournment as the members look to work at home.

A weary Senate membership which has been working since last April with only two of the summer months off is planning no preparations for the regular sessions during the coming week. Even the enlivening lobby investigation has been deferred until after the recess.

Over in the House where the extra-session program was concluded last June, some of the committees already are at work. The Appropriations Committee is busy preparing the first of the annual supply bills and three of these are intended to be put through and sent to the Senate before the Christmas recess.

Mr. Hoover is busy at work outlining his first message to Congress on the state of the Union. The message probably will be delivered on the second day.

WATSON TO RETURN

Organization difficulties are in sight in the Senate but leaders are hopeful of smoothing over the troubles. Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, will return this week from a three weeks' rest in Florida where he was sent by physicians. He will take command again and seek to mold the faction-split Republicans into a working unit.

A party conference probably will be held at the outset of the session when the Senate Republican organization will be fixed. Some trouble looms in the selection of a successor to Senator Edge of New Jersey on the Finance Committee. Edge has resigned to become Ambassador to France.

Mrs. Hemme charges that instead of having just passed through six years of wedded bliss, matrimony to her has only meant six years of "blonds, beatings and bruises." Both are in vaudeville.

SEARCH FOR LOST FLYER CONTINUES

Whereabouts of Eielson in Northern Wilds Still Shrouded in Mystery

SEATTLE, Nov. 24. (AP)—Shrouded in the silence of the Arctic Northland, the search went forward today for Pilot Carl Ben Eielson and his mechanic, Earl Borland, who disappeared the 9th inst. after they took off from Teller, Alaska, in an attempt to reach the fur-trading ship Nanuk, ice-bound near North Cape, Siberia.

Four dog team parties were sent out from the Nanuk to scout the shore line in the vicinity of North Cape for the missing flyers, but none of them have reported back. A native dog team driver who arrived at North Cape Saturday after a trip of 150 miles from Koliuchin Bay, traversing much of the country where the missing plane might possibly have come down, reported that he had seen nothing of the craft.

Meanwhile, Pilot Frank Dorbandt, who, with Eielson, was engaged in removing passengers and furs from the Nanuk, was reported at Nome yesterday ready to take off when the weather clears to conduct a search for Eielson from the air. He plans to attempt a flight today, it is said, but nothing of his progress is reported up to a late hour tonight.

SON TELLS OF SLAYING HIS FATHER

Detroit Florist Shot on Orders of "Adam," Says Youthful Suspect

DETROIT, Nov. 24. (AP) — Joseph Malick, 19 years of age, confessed early today, according to Wayne county officers, that he shot and killed his father, Frank Malick, in his greenhouse in Nankin Township, near here.

Deputy sheriffs today went to the Malick home and found the pistol and shotgun with which the florist was slain, hidden where Joseph said he had put them.

Joseph confessed, according to officers, that he killed his father because a stranger, whose first name was Adam, threatened his life as well as that of his father if he did not commit the crime.

The youth admitted he had quarreled with his parent and waited for him in the greenhouse, the officers said. After the slaying, Joseph said, he buried the pistol in the dirt floor of the basement and hid the shotgun in the attic after taking it apart. The weapons were found as he described them.

Two Methodist Churches Burn

UKIAH, Nov. 24. (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin early today destroyed the Methodist church here, a brick structure built a year ago at a cost of $55,000. The church contained a new organ.

Reports from Kelseyville, Lake county, said the Methodist church and parsonage there and two residences were destroyed by a fire early today with a total estimated loss of $17,000. The fire is believed to have started in the church chimney.

Fund Transfer Given Approval

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 24. (AP)—The right to draw from the State's general emergency fund for the revolving fund of the Colorado River Commission of California was upheld in a decision rendered by Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb.

The question arose after State Controller Ray Riley had refused to issue a warrant for the transfer of funds until its legality was confirmed.

SAFETY CHIEF BOSSES DUCE

Life of Mussolini Has Been Guaranteed

Dictator Dictated to Where Danger Enters

Premier Often Disregards Precautions

ROME, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Few people in Italy or abroad know that Arturo Bocchini is Premier Mussolini's boss. This seeming paradox of a dictator being dictated to is explained by the fact that Sig. Bocchini is General Director of Public Safety here and head of the secret service to protect Il Duce, whose life Sig. Bocchini has guaranteed for three years, on the condition that the dictator obey regulations.

Sig. Bocchini took over the job in September, 1926, after an attempt on Premier Mussolini's life by Lucetti at Porta Pia in Rome. A heavy responsibility rests on his shoulders, for Premier Mussolini frequently objects to the measures which the Director of Public Safety deems necessary to take to assure his safety when he goes out. Il Duce shares with King Alfonso of Spain the record for the number of attempts on his life, but while King Alfonso is said to submit to regulations, Il Duce wants to come and go as he likes.

A violent discussion sometimes takes place between Sig. Bocchini and Premier Mussolini. It is known that Premier Mussolini objects to being followed by plain-clothes men on motorcycles, but he has consented to allow a car, filled with police, to follow his automobile.

A dispute arose when Sig. Bocchini wanted to plant detectives in the gardens of Villa Torlonia, and especially at Nomentana and about Porta Pia, where Il Duce passes daily. After a long arugment Il Duce gave in, but with bad humor. On his summer morning horseback rides, however, he refuses the usual guard.

Sig. Bocchini breathed a sigh of relief when Premier Mussolini decided to move to the Palace Venezia from the Palace Chigi, which, from its position, is hard to surveil. In the Palazzo Venezia, Il Duce lives in apartments, enabling him to curtail his trips through the streets, thus relieving Sig. Bocchini of work and anxiety.

WANTED BANDIT SLAIN BY POSSE

Young Indiana ex-Convict's Crime Career Ends

Date With Girl Proves to Be Bad Gang's Undoing

MUNCIE (Ind.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Angus Cox, 20 years of age, lately released from a reformatory where he served a term for the theft of an automobile, was shot and killed late last night when he accompanied a companion, Albert Nickerson, to keep a rendezvous with a 16-year-old girl. With them was Irwin Jones, 20. All three are from Muncie, and have criminal records. They had been touring three counties in a stolen automobile, it is charged, robbing stores, oil stations and holding up individuals.

Nickerson was enamored of a girl in Muncie, whose name is withheld by the police. Yesterday her mother intercepted a note from Nickerson, telling the girl to meet him in an abandoned building near Hartford City. The note said his sister lived in the upper part of the building and for the girl to wait there for him. Her mother immediately notified the Sheriff, who informed the Sheriffs of two other counties, and these, with a posse, went to the rendezvous. They found it entirely uninhabited, so they mounted to the roof and kept vigil for five hours.

At 11 o'clock last night the bandit car arrived and Nickerson leaped out and started for the house, expecting to find the girl alone. The officers on the roof ordered him to throw up his hands, but, instead, he leaped back into the car, which roared away under a general fusilade from the posse.

Shortly thereafter two men hammered on the door of the Grant County Hospital at Marion, Ind., and when a nurse responded they flung in the limp body of a man. "His name is Cox," they said, leaped into the car and sped away. A bullet had torn through his head.

FESTIVE FOOTBALL FAN FAVORED FOR FAIRNESS

EVANSTON (Ill.) Nov. 24. (AP)—Presumably J. R. McGinnis, who gave Akron, O., as his address, had a right to shout "Hooray for old Notre Dame," as he stood amid the entering throng at Northwestern University's stadium yesterday.

But Police Sergeant Schultz said he suspected McGinnis's breath. And, besides, Schultz was partial to Northwestern.

It was close to game time when Lieut. Weideling heard howling from the cell room. He found McGinnis on the verge of tears, holding out his football ticket pleadingly.

"You may go to the game," Weideling offered, "if you'll promise to return to jail right afterward."

McGinnis breathlessly agreed.

Half an hour after Notre Dame won the Ohioan stood before the desk sergeant.

"I'm sorry I'm late," he apologized, "the crowds were awful."

Today Justice of the Peace Russ came to the station and was told about McGinnis.

"Five dollars and costs," ruled the impromptu court. "And go back to Akron. You're an honest man."

"Evanston," beamed McGinnis as he walked out, "is a great town!"

He established a new pastime for Mexican politicians today when on the first Sunday after the elections he spent the greater part of the day at the Mexico City Country Club playing golf, having arrived at the club before 7 this morning.

COLLECTORS AFFRONTED BY FORD AS COLLECTOR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—The Washington Society of Alexandria Va., regards the proposal of Henry Ford to buy one of the historic colonial homes there and "transport it like so much merchanise to Dearborn, Mich.," as an affrontto the entire State of Virginia."

John D. Gordon, chairman of the standing committee of the Washington Society, in a statement tonight said that the proposal of Mr Ford could not have been properly quoted.

"The historic homes are a part of the historic environment of George Washington," he said. "The men who built them, lived in them and died in them after lives of glorious service to the Colony and later the nation rest within a few rods of their old dwellings. What could they think of a generation which would sell the homes of their history-making forebears to be dismantled and transported to a strange environment?"

"If Mr. Ford is interested in the preservation of the antiquities of Colonial Virginia he is urged to respond to the repeated appeals of Alexandrians that he participate in the restoration work which has been continually carried on by Alexandria citizenry for the past several years," he said.

Governor Holds Washington Understands Claim Now

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Gov. Balzar of Nevada, who has been in Washington urging larger Boulder Dam allocation for his State, left for home today, saying that Nevada's peculiar situation, a State without fuel and with but one major power site, that of Boulder Dam, is better understood than ever before and, in his opinion, it is reasonable to expect a revision of the temporary allocation made last month by Secretary Wilbur.

In this division Nevada was given an 18 per cent withdrawal of power generated. Balzar insisted that Nevada's allocation should not be less than one-third and that allocation be made without restriction.

RANCHER FINDS KIDNAPERS' LAIR

Fimbres Returns From Wilds of Sonora Mountains

Plans Rescue Expedition Against Apaches

Wife Killed and Son Stolen Three Years Ago

AGUA PRIETA (Sonora, Mex.) Nov. 24. (AP)—Gaunt and bronzed from many days in the saddle trailing an elusive band of Apache Indians, Francisco Fimbres rode into Agua Prieta today to report that he has located the semisavages believed to have murdered his wife and kidnaped his small son on a lonely Sonora mountain trail in 1926.

In the Canyon of the Caves, 168 miles to the southwest high in the Sierra Madres, he said, he and his scouts have trailed the Apaches to their winter lair. The band consists of fifteen bucks, several women and a few children, three of whom are about the same size the Fimbres child would be if still alive.

RESCUE PLANNED

Tonight Fimbres was in conference with Chief of Police Leslie Gatliff of Douglas, Moroni Finn, famous Indian scout, and other friends, arranging an expedition that will go to the Canyon of the Caves in an attempt to rescue the child.

This is the second rescue attempt to be made this year. Last February it was believed that the Indians had been surrounded and an expedition was organized that was called back before reaching its objective when the guns of revolution were loosed along the Sonora border. In the rescue party soldiers of fortune, cowboys and troops from the ranks of the Mexican Federal army rubbed shoulders, the government at Mexico City authorizing the use of the soldiers in an effort to rescue the child and wipe out the band of Apaches that has for years preyed upon the ranches of Sonora.

CHILD OFTEN SEEN

Fimbres declares it will be impossible to attack the Indians in their winter camp, as it is too well fortified by natural barriers. It is his plan to lead a party of volunteers to the entrance of the canyon, establish a winter camp and attack the Apaches when they break camp in the spring.

Mrs. Fimbres was slain and the child carried off when she and her small son rode ahead of a party on horseback that was riding from the Fimbres ranch to a summer camp. Fimbres reached the scene of the attack as the Indians scurried off. He found his wife's dead body, almost hacked to pieces.

Several times since glimpses of the missing child have been caught by cowboys and wood-choppers in the area preyed upon by the marauding Apaches.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—When the leader of an orchestra arranges his programs to further clandestine love affairs, then it's time for the wife to give him complete freedom so that he may further his art. At least, that's the apparent feeling of Mrs. Nell Perrigo, who has obtained a divorce from Edward Perrigo, leader of a film house orchestra.

KENTUCKY LANGLEYS CELEBRATE

Congress Pair Observe Wedding Anniversary and Receive Rare Gifts

PIKEVILLE (Ky.) Nov. 24. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. John W. Langley, the latter of whom represents the Tenth Kentucky District in Congress, celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary at their home here last night. Some 200 guests participated.

Mr. Langley, who formerly represented this district in Congress and who was succeeded by his wife, was attired in the suit he was married in twenty-five years ago, and Mrs. Langley wore her wedding veil. A large wedding cake, set with twenty-five candles, formed a centerpiece for the table.

Mrs. Langley was presented with a pair of silver sugar tongs which had been a wedding wift to members of the family in 1821, by Mrs. William H. Harkleroad of London, Ky., Mr. Langley's cousin. Mrs. Harkleroad presented Mrs. Katherine Bentley, oldest daughter of the Langleys, with a pair of ear-rings that have been in the Langley family for 230 years.

Banks of this section joined in a gift to the Langleys, a bag of silver dollars.

JAPAN HAS SCANDAL IN ITS CABINET

Premier's Name Linked to Graft in Ships, Causing Hint of Naval Plot

TOKIO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—That Japan's insistence on an increased armament ratio of 10-10-7, which would mean the building of more ships, might have been spurred on by some such scheme as that promoted by William Shearer in the last conference is openly suggested in most of the newspapers here as a result of the later political scandal involving the Minseito (Liberal) party.

The strict police ban which was placed on this scandal after the arrest of the vice-railroad minister of the last Minseito Cabinet, which was headed by Reijiro Wakatsuki, chief of the delegation to the coming naval conference, was apparently though unofficially lifted yesterday, when for the first time the newspapers intimated that if high members of former Premier Wakatsuki's Cabinet grafted in railroads, Wakatsuki himself might graft in ships.

The Seiyukai party is asking for the resignation of Wakatsuki as head of the arms delegation as is the "Naval Disarmament Discouragement Society."

Chicago Union Leader Slain

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Edward Tracy, union labor leader, was killed in a spectacular shooting that terrorized celebrators of football victories at the Club Arlington, a cabaret, early today.

As the orchestra played a stirring college march, witnesses said, Melville Purves, boyhood companion and later business rival of the slain man, rose from an adjacent table and fired four shots into Tracy's head.

Purves, police say, had borne ill feeling toward Tracy since the latter supplanted him as business agent of a union.

EPIDEMIC TAKES TOLL ON ST. KITTS ISLAND

PORT OF SPAIN (Trinidad) Nov. 24. (AP)—The British authorities in the small Island of St. Kitts (St Christopher) are fighting a serious epidemic which in the past four months has caused forty deaths among the negroes. There have been 375 cases within that period. The disease is filaria or filariasis It is a fairly common tropical disease resulting from the presence of certain embryo parasites in the blood.

RAILWAY FIGHT IN LAST WEEK

Espee Trains Big Guns to Retain Territory

Every Argument Brought to Bear on I.C.C.

Continental Loop Line Seen in Proposed Tie-up

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—The Southern Pacific will make its last stand this week to keep the Great Northern and Western Pacific from joining their rails. Some of the company's highest executives, including President Paul Shoup, remain to be heard. Charles D. Mahaffie, chief of the finance bureau of the Interstate Commerce Commission, conducting the hearing, hopes to complete testimony in the case by Wednesday night and may resort to night sessions to accomplish that purpose. Much depends on the cross-examination to which remaining witnesses will be subjected.

Other than President Shoup, witnesses for the Espee to be called include Felix S. McGinnis, passenger traffic manager; J. T. Saunders, freight traffic manager, and H. C. Hallmark, assistant general freight traffic manager and rate expert.

BOOKS WITHOUT END

To date the hearing has been in session nine days; the transcript contains 400,000 words, and 145 exhibits have gone into the record. Interest in the case is nation-wide, there being twenty special correspondents covering the hearing. In addition to the regularly stationed wire-service representatives and local staffs.

The mere physical connection sought by the appellant lines, some 200 miles of new construction in Northeastern California, is considered of relatively minor importance to the larger issue of potentiality. The link at issue in the hearing has developed, during the course of testimony, into the means by which there will be created a system of direct or interchanging connections establishing, in effect, a single loop from the Great Lakes west through the northern tier of States, south the length of the Pacific Coast to the Mexican line, east to the Mississippi through the southern tier of States and thence back to the Great Lakes.

GREATEST MERGER

No such extensive mileage ever has been welded under virtually one control in this country's history, the nearest approach to it being the pending application of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific to unite a total of 14,000 miles of rails by a direct merger of those two systems.

Financially the loop union, which depends for consummation on the outcome of the present fight for the 200-mile link construction, will create a friendly liaison between existing rail systems with a capital investment in excess of $5,000,000,000.

ESPEE AGAINST IT

The Southern Pacific, needless to say, is bending every energy to prevent the link from being built. It has developed testimony consistently toward the contention that existing facilities are adequate to meet all the needs of the territory in dispute and that any connections the Great Northern or Western Pacific may need to any territory now served by the Southern Pacific and connections can be accomplished far more economically and with as good physical results by through-rate agreements in which the Southern Pacific will act as the bridge carrier.

Through Passenger Traffic Manager McGinnis the Southern Pacific is expected to offer abolition of the so-called "Shasta arbitrary." The intimation already is a matter of record. The "Shasta arbitrary" is a charge of $18 to $24 on round-trip tourist tickets taking one-way passage by the northern route more than is charged by the central and southern-route loops.

IOWA REGION HIT BY NEW COLD WAVE

Minnesota, Dakota and Northern Missouri Also Get Lower Temperatures

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—A high-pressure area moving out of the northwest brought colder weather today to the Dakotas, Minnesota, Iowa and Upper Missouri, but warmer weather already was overspreading the East and South. A minimum temperature of 6 deg. below zero was recorded at Devils Lake, N. D. In Chicago a minimum temperature of 14 deg. is expected tomorrow morning before the reaction sets in.

With pools and artificial rinks frozen in many sections of the city, skating became the chief sport of Chicago today.

DEATH TOLL FROM FRIGID REIGN RISES

ATLANTA (Ga.) Nov. 24. (AP)—Two deaths today—one in Virginia and one in North Carolina—brought to eleven the total chargeable to last week's unseasonable foretaste of winter in the South. Rising temperatures gave general relief today.

Henry Durney died in Winchester, Va., raising the fatalities in that State to four, while the fatal injury to Roland Rogers, at Charlotte, was the first from the untimely cold in North Carolina. Arkansas has attributed six deaths to low temperatures and ice.

ROBBER KILLED AFTER CARD GAME HOLD-UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—A robber was killed tonight when he stopped, after his two companions deserted him, to shoot it out with one of the players in a card game the three had attempted to rob in an Upper East Side hall. A bullet from the robber's revolver struck Antonio Lanza, one of the card players, in the head. His condition is pronounced critical.

San Jose Supervisor Wearing Spats in Fear of Severe Winter

SAN JOSE, Nov. 24. (AP)—Many have been the prophets who claimed to be able to predict that the coming winter season is to be a severe one. They used such signs as multitudes of butterflies, an extra-dry summer, etc., etc., but now comes Supervisor Joe McKinnon, who donned spats because he knows "it's going to be a tough, cold winter." That was his explanation to the friendly inquirers. He said that when it promises warmer weather he will take them off and carry them in his pocket.

INSULL RAPS CRITICISERS OF UTILITIES

Middle West Magnate Says "Power Trust" Talk 'Devil's Advocate' Bugaboo

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (AP)—Samuel Insull, Chicago utilities magnate, tonight described the "power trust" and the "higher-rate threat," as bugaboos of the public-utility industry, set up by "volunteer devil's advocates" to arouse public resentment.

"Although I am not of that faith," he said in a radio address, "I can admire the deep wisdom of the Roman Catholic hierarchy when it appoints a devil's advocate, a public critic, to oppose the canonization of a saint. Frank criticism tends to improve administration, whether it is a nation, a saint or a utility.

"The trouble is, however, that there are in every country those who are peculiarly suited, for various reasons, or by disposition, to be volunteer devil's advocates: whose special business seems to be to set up bugaboos or straw men to arouse public resentment.

"One of the bugaboos of the utility business is the 'power trust.' Of course, no such thing exists, and unless complete State ownership of power production and distribution is brought about, none can exist.

"Another is that our industry is always asking higher rates, when the fact is that every utility executive who is worth his salt is bending every energy toward lower rates, because lower rates mean greater consumption, and greater consumption is our hope of progress."

OFFICER IN PALESTINE WOUNDED

Atty.-Gen. Bentwich Shot in Foot by Arab Youth; Two Bullets Go Wild

JERUSALEM, Nov. 24. (Exclusive) Norman De Mattos Bentwich, Attorney-General of the Palestine government, was shot at three times and wounded in one foot by an Arab youth early this afternoon as he was about to leave the government offices.

This is the first attempt on the life of a British official in the disorders that began in August.

As Mr. Bentwich was leaving his office, an Arab boy, a message-carrier in the police department, fired at him in a corridor. The youth had been seen around the office all morning asking when Mr. Bentwich would come out of his office.

Fortunately, the one shot that hit Mr. Bentwich did not seriously injure him. He was taken promptly to a hospital, where the bullet was extracted immediately from his foot.

The assailant himself, was wounded by one of his own shots.

Because of recent legislation for which Arabs hold Mr. Bentwich, a British Jew, responsible, he is most unpopular with them, and they are constantly demanding his dismissal. It is said that $500 was offered to the youth to shoot the Attorney-General.

Still Occupies Laundry Truck

SAN RAFAEL (Cal.) Nov. 24. (AP) A complete distillery, contained in a converted laundry truck, was seized on the highway near Sausalito today by Traffic Officers Al O'Connor and E. F. Monteverde whose suspicion was aroused by lack of license plates on the conveyance.

The driver, Wesley Fossnet, of San Francisco, expressed surprise at its presence.

"I thought I had a load of furniture," he declared.

Sick Boy Saves Two From Fire

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 24. (AP) Adrian Cannon, 12 years of age, is a hero today, despite the fact he has scarlet fever.

Adrian climbed from his sick bed at 1:30 o'clock this morning, called the fire department on the telephone and then marched from his blazing home, assisting his mother, Mrs. Joseph J. Cannon, and his 1-year-old brother, Mark.

The boy tonight apparently was none the worse for his bravery.

HUNTER KILLED IN ACCIDENT

REDDING, Nov. 24. (AP)—Arthur Tremper, 37 years of age, Redding service-station owner, was killed today at McArthur Lake, near McArthur, Cal., while on a hunting trip. It was reported that his gun accidentally exploded in his hands.

BYRD SIGNALLY HONORS BACKER

New Mountains Named After New York Mining Man

Charles Bob's Support of Expedition Praised

Geological Party Has Laid Down Depot Five

BY RUSSELL OWEN

[Copyright, 1929, by Los Angeles Times and St. Louis Post Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.]

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Commander Byrd has named the mountains seen on his recent base-laying flight after Charles Bob, a mining man of 120 Broadway, New York City, who has been one of the strongest supporters of the Byrd expedition.

In naming the mountains, Commander Byrd said:

"Charlie Bob has been one of the best friends of the expedition from the beginning. Only one who has tried to organize an expedition can realize how much such strong supporters mean to him.

"Many times when we got into tight places during the trying period of preparation he came to our rescue. He has the sincere appreciation of every man in camp.

FIELD ALSO NAMED

"We have already named one of our landing fields after him and we now have the opportunity to name a group of mountains in Carmenland the Charles Bob Mountains.

"This is a group of mountains running northeast and southeast in Carmenland, approximately between 83 and 84 deg. of latitude, which we believe never were seen before.

"Although it would have been impossible to see them from the surface we could see them stretching far into the distance because of our high altitude and splendid visibility.

"We can place these mountains more exactly when we have the chance to put together Capt. McKinley's surveying photographs.

PERMISSION NEEDED

"We shall, of course, ask for permission for this naming from the proper authorities at the proper time, but we are anticipating this action because of our gratitude to Bob. No mountains in Carmenland have yet been named and we hesitate to name any which might have been seen by Capt. Amundsen, limiting ourselves to naming those which could not have been seen before."

Reports from the Byrd geological party, headed by Dr. Lawrence Gould, show that they have laid down depot five, where they were camped last night at latitude 83 deg. 35 minutes. They now are a little more than 270 miles south of Little America. The party had a hard, slow trip from depot four, where they picked up an additional load for depots between that point and the mountains.

"It was a great sight to see you flying over us today, but it made the mountains seem very far away," Dr. Gould said in a message to Commander Byrd written Tuesday. "Had to take on 500 pounds of dog food today and we have made but eight miles even with men hauling."

BETTER TIME MADE

Apparently they made better time in the next few days for yesterday's message read: "Received radio messages dropped from plane. Much interested in what you have to tell us abount mountains. Camped tonight at depot five. Get up every morning at 6 and get early start. Hope we make better progress from now on for we, too, are anxious to see the mountains. Cheerio!"

Commander Byrd on his next flight plans to drop aerial photographs of the mountains which will help Dr. Gould in determining which points to reach first to obtain geological data. As the party progresses and establishes depots, of which there will be two more before the mountains are reached, the loads will become lighter and more speed will be made.

The fair weather which lasted a week and made flying to the mountains base possible has ended in a stiff blow.

Revolt Coming, Says Caraway

BALTIMORE, Nov. 24. (AP)—The end of respect for and obedience to law and the coming of revolution in the United States was foreshadowed by Senator Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, in an address today before the Baltimore open forum.

Senator Caraway, chairman of the Senate committee investigating lobbying conditions in the national capital, said that "if the time has come when intelligent people of the country, those that control vast wealth, honestly believe that unless they contribute to secret lobbies legislation that will ruin their business will be adopted, the end of this republic is in sight."

Two Feminines in Cabinet Posts Resented

They're Capable, Men Admit, But Get Last Word

LONDON, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Too much feminine influence in the present government is the view of the Sunday Express, which today suggests some discontent among the male members of the Labor party as a result of the prominence of women in its councils. The Express even suggests that the present difficulty the party is having controlling its own insurgents arises partly from the resentment the left wingers feel against two ministerial posts having been accorded to women.

The Labor party's two women officials are Margaret Bond-Field, Minister of Labor, and Susan Lawrence, parliamentary secretary of the Health Ministry, of which Arthur Greenwood is chief. Of the two women Bond-Field is the least criticised. The antifeminists admit that her department is well conducted, but they find her debating triumphs smack too much of the feminine "last word," leaving her opponents exasperated but uncrushed. Susan Lawrence received harsher treatment, the claim being made that it was only Greenwood's tact and discretion which prevented embarrassing positions for the Ministry.

Ellen Wilkinson, another woman member of Parliament, prophesies that within the near future Great Britain will have a woman Prime Minister. England, according to Mrs. Wilkinson, would welcome with open arms such a Prime Minister, especially so if she were a Laborite.

The complaint against the women in general is that they rely too much on finality logic and are unable to make allowances for human limitations and obstinacy of circumstances. They do not understand the parliamentary give and take which permits bitter opponents of the House to meet as friends outside.

Despite the criticism of the women Prime Minister MacDonald remains a strong femininist supporter.

Michelson to Leave Hospital

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Dr. Albert A. Michelson, University of Chicago physicist who has been ill since September, will leave Presbyterian Hospital tomorrow and return to his home, his physicians said tonight.

Dr. Michelson has been able to walk about the hospital for a short time each day during the last week. His improvement has been steady since his last operation three weeks ago. After his first operation in September he developed pneumonia and was in a critical condition for several weeks.

The operation was performed by Dr. Robert F. Hyland, club physician for the Cardinals and Browns.

WARNER LEAVES TO SCOUT ARMY

"Pop" Off for East in Happy Frame of Mind

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—In a happy frame of mind, Glenn S. Warner, Stanford football coach, departed tonight for the East to scout the Army in its game with Notre Dame at New York next Saturday. He left Palo Alto in the wake of about as sweet a triumph as he has scored in his six years at Stanford, for the 21-6 victory over California yesterday showed that he has lost none of the old cunning in fashioning football teams, even if they have to be pressed into shape at the last minute, just as Stanford's team was remolded last week.

POP WARNER

While the 90,000 who saw the big game were as limp as wet rags today in the reaction from that tense spectacle, Prof. Warner was up and about at an early hour, preparing for his eastern jaunt. He is to arrive in Philadelphia for the Cornell-Penn game on Thanksgiving Day. On Saturday he will watch the Army formations so as to be able to map out the Stanford campaign against the soldiers; and the following week he and Tad Jones, former Yale coach, and Bill Alexander, Georgia Tech coach, will meet at Knute Rockne's home in South Bend, Ind., to pick their all-American team.

Meanwhile the victorious Cardinals will break training this week, temporarily ending a grind which has lasted since September 15. They will resume practice a week from tomorrow and continue, with a week of but light workouts or none at all intervening during examinations, until the contest with

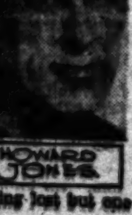
CONFERENCE IN JUMBLE

Stanford Victory Over Bears Puts Coast Race Up in Air, Coach Jones Points Out

BY HOWARD JONES
Coach University of Southern California

It looks as if the season of surprises on the Pacific Coast is practically complete what with Stanford's conclusive 21-to-6 victory over California on Saturday.

While a lot of people suspected that Stanford might win, due to the record of the Cardinals against California in recent years, the Golden Bears were popular favorites and the result, therefore, goes down in the books as an upset, especially as the margin of difference was two touchdowns.



HOWARD JONES

California's defeat throws the Coast Conference race into a jumble with five teams having lost but one game. Southern California and Washington State play this week-end in the closing conference game of the year.

Stanford's victory only goes to further indicate how great a part psychology plays in this game of football. Sometimes I think a lot of people fail to realize this all-important factor. I know that California rooters were thinking about the New Year's game, of which there had been much talk. Probably the players were concentrating on Stanford, but they just naturally could not make themselves believe the Redshirts were as tough as some people said, particularly after that 13-to-6 defeat at the hands of Santa Clara. Yes, Coach War-

TROJANS, ST. MARY'S AND CALIFORNIA STAND OUT

No Invitation to be Extended by Tournament of Roses Committee Until After Next Saturday

BY PAUL LOWRY
Sports Editor, The Times

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—The eclipse of California's sun by the Stanford Red at Palo Alto yesterday afternoon has clogged the New Year's Day game machinery.

Mr. C. Hal Reynolds, president of the Tournament of Roses Association at Pasadena, admitted as much today and added that it was a discomforting situation to say the least.

SAY! STANFORD!!

Instead of being prepared to extend an invitation to California to represent the West on New Year's Day, Mr. Reynolds is forced to hold an invitation to anybody in abeyance, and said he would continue to do so until next Saturday.

There are now five teams in the Coast Conference with one defeat apiece to their credit—Stanford, California, Southern California, Washington State and Oregon.

CARDS, TROJANS LEAD

Stanford and Southern California are leading the league, having played one more game than their other rivals and, therefore, have an edge in the percentage standings. Each has won five games and lost

UNBEATEN LIST SHRINKS AGAIN

Only Ten Remain Unscathed as Season's End Looms

Thirteen undefeated football teams carried their records into action over the week-end, and only ten of them emerged unscathed. California, Detroit and Baldwin-Wallace were defeated, leaving fourteen squads still undefeated.

Of the fourteen, three have finished their seasons. Purdue chalked up eight successive victories, Ohio U. ran up 306 points in winning nine straight games, and Fordham won seven games and tied two in nine attempts.

All of the remaining teams have at least one game yet to play but most of them are expected to come through unscathed.

Tennessee has Kentucky and South Carolina yet to face; Western Maryland will play Muhlenberg and Maryland, and

Last Year's Title-Holders Defeated, 3 and 2

Coleman, Mrs. Low Capture Important Match

Extra-Hole Clashes Feature Second Flight

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Southern California's 1928 mixed-foursome champions at match play, Miss Kathleen Wright and E. B. (Bud) Yoakum of Flintridge, were defeated yesterday at the Annandale Country Club 3 and 2, by Harold Thompson and Mrs. J. C. Rentch of Oakmont in the second round of the current championship.

MISS KATHLEEN WRIGHT

In another interesting match Frank Deleot and Mrs. Paul Hill of Wilshire, who surprised a week ago by eliminating Mrs. Harry Pressler and Dr. L. D. Rankin of San Gabriel, in turn fell before the expert stroking of Mrs. Willie Low and Fay Coleman of California, 3 and 2.

E. G. Beynon and Mrs. C. K. Thompson of Oakmont won their match from Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Slade of California by the easy way, in other words by default.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. (Bill) Jelliffe continued their onward march by eliminating the Los Angeles city women's champion, Mrs. Roy Green, and J. Robertson of the California Country Club.

Mrs. George M. Midgley, president of the women's auxiliary, announced last night that the championship flight would leave the first tee at 10:30 Sunday morning at Bel-Air in the semifinals. Other flights will follow at intervals of fifteen minutes.

Extra-hole matches featured in the first-flight quarter finals, when J. Stewart and Mrs. E. Berg upset the strong Fox Hills team of Mrs. Chris Raysor and Dr. C. K. Manhart, 1 up, on the nineteenth hole. D. Bennett and Mrs. James Horan also won on the nineteenth hole, defeating Mr. and Mrs. William Converse.

The finals will be played over the Wilshire Country Club on Sunday, December 8.

Following are the complete results of yesterday's matches:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

Fay Coleman and Mrs. Willie Low defeated Frank Deleot and Mrs. Paul Hill, 4 and 3.

Harold Thompson and Mrs. J. C. Rentch defeated Bud Yoakum and Miss Kathleen Wright, 3 and 2.

E. Beynon and Mrs. C. K. Thompson defeated Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Slade, default.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jelliffe defeated Mrs. Roy Green and J. Robertson, 2 and 1.

FIRST FLIGHT

J. Stewart and Mrs. E. Berg defeated Mrs. Chris Raysor and Dr. C. K. Manhart, 1 up, 19 holes.

D. Bennett and Mrs. James Horan defeated Mr. and Mrs. William Converse, 1 up, 19 holes.

Mr. and Mrs. D. O'Keefe defeated Fred Aberle and Mrs. George Gardner, 3 and 2.

H. Huber and Mrs. W. R. Penniston defeated M. Stranahan and Mrs. J. L. Martin, 4 and 3.

SECOND FLIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hanson defeated Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson, 2 and 1.

W. Collins and Miss Ruth Collins defeated W. O'Keefe and Mrs. Pete Daley, 2 and 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Meeks defeated Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Reynolds, 6 and 5.

L. Belden and Mrs. Harry Belden defeated Mr. and Mrs. George M. Midgley, 2 and 1.

THIRD FLIGHT

H. Robertson and Mrs. L. Merritt defeated George Rubsch and Mrs. T. Crane, 4 and 3.

Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Speicher defeated Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Brewster, 2 and 1.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Belford vs. Mr. and Mrs. William Moeller, Jr. (Match postponed until Tuesday at 9:30.)

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Nelson defeated A. E. Burr and Miss Betty Burr, 6 and 5.

PATRONS BACK PROFESSIONAL GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

When the professional golf championship of America was awarded to the La Cumbre Country Club, officials of the P.G.A. were confident that Southern California would give this national title event its unqualified support. The confidence of the national body was shaken when Santa Barbara failed to "carry on," but Alex Pirie and those associated with him were sure that Los Angeles, and the Hillcrest Country Club, where the championship will be played, December 2-7, next, would put the event on in royal fashion.

The championship came to Los Angeles when Joseph M. Schenck guaranteed the prize money necessary, nearly $11,000. Then Southern California set to work to distribute the load so that it would be carried by the entire district rather than by an individual.

Various country clubs which are well known for their support of great sporting events, rallied to the aid of the championship. Rancho, California, Hillcrest and the Los Angeles Country Club, assumed much of the responsibility of financing the tournament. Flintridge, Potrero, Brentwood, Wilshire, Fox Hills, Riviera and Annandale helped to the full extent of their ability. Pasadena, Midwick, Rio Hondo, San Gabriel and Virginia also helped. Then, too, there were a number of individuals who gave the championship their whole-hearted support.

Facts in the matter are that when the championship starts at Hillcrest next Monday that enough patron tickets will have been sold to absolutely guarantee the prize money of $10,400, and, perhaps, to take care of a portion of the $5000 it costs to put on the tournament.

Such a record will set a precedent in the history of the P.G.A. championship. The list of patrons follows:

A. E. Bourne, Charles Baad and John Malley, Annandale; W. W. Campbell and Ray Thomas, Bel-Air; Walter Leeds, Phil Forve, George C. Thomas, Jr., E. K. Brown, R. J. O. Culver, J. M. Arnell and Mrs. O. WOMEN MEET TODAY IN INTERCLUB MATCHES

Second-round matches in the interclub team match series of the women's auxiliary will be played over the Lakeside Country Club today. Following is the schedule:

Riviera vs. Wilshire.
Rancho vs. San Gabriel.
Lakeside vs. Oakmont.
Hollywood vs. Los Angeles.
California vs. Hillcrest.
Brentwood vs. Flintridge.

Los Angeles is in the lead with 9 points after defeating Brentwood last week. The California Country Club team, last year's winner, is second with 8½ digits.

MRS. PRESSLER, JONES WIN MIXED FOURSOMES

Mrs. Harry Pressler of the San Gabriel Country Club paired with Paul Jones of Rancho yesterday to win low gross in the mixed foursomes of the Riviera Country Club invitation tournament with a 77. Jim Scott and Mrs. Charles Delaney copped low net, 80-6-74.

Other scores were as follows:

85—Dick Smith and Mrs. Hutchins, E. F. Combs, Jr., and Miss Barthlein.
86—T. R. Rhodes and Mrs. D. H. Hardy.
88—Gibson Dunlap and Dorothy Laye.
89—W. A. Cronett and wife, Nat Deverich and Miss Helen Lawson.
90—Gene Brown and Mrs. V. Nittinger.

Willie Hunter Enters 'Open'

Willie I. Hunter, professional of the Montebello Park Public Golf Course, will leave tomorrow by train for Berkeley to play in the Berkeley Country Club's $4000 open the latter part of this week. The Berkeley event starts on Thanksgiving Day and winds up Saturday. Fred Morrison of Midwick, who originally planned to drive north today, will go north by train with Hunter.

BARNES

BY SOL METZGER

Good golf instructors tell me, and fine golf players prove it by their swings, that the whole left side must brace as the downswing starts. They secure this brace by jamming the left heel to the ground and straightening the left leg as they start the club down. This in turn locks the left hip.

When this is done the right side will come around as they hit through with the straight right arm, as Barnes and Farrell are shown doing in the sketches.

When this left-side brace is not so secured the right side will not come around. Instead, your left hip will swing back and your left leg sag at the knee. Either result spoils the shot by causing a sagging of the body or a pull in of the clubhead as it comes into the ball. Hence so much slicing.

Your game is as good as your drive. Write Sol Metzger, care of The Times, requesting his free leaflet on Driving. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Johnson Cops Tennis Honors

Semifinals in the men's singles and quarterfinals in the men's doubles, in the play for the annual Lincoln Park Tennis Club championships, were reached, yesterday, with finals slated for the coming week-end.

Cliff Johnson scored a close decision over Wayne Hall, in their quarterfinal encounter, yesterday, Johnson being forced to wage an uphill battle all the way. The score of their contest was 4-6, 6-3, 10-8. Bartosh, Lewis and Patten, experienced little difficulty in gaining the semifinal bracket.

Yesterday's results follow:

Men's singles, first round—T. Bellusch defeated Ashby, 7-5, 6-3; G. Patten defeated W. Cannon, 6-4, 6-4; W. Hall defeated P. Bellusch, 6-4, 6-4; H. Rindell defeated A. Richman, 9-11, 6-4, 6-4; C. Johnson defeated T. Bellusch, 6-2, 6-2.

Men's singles, quarter-finals—J. Bartosh defeated M. Holguin, 6-4, 6-2; E. Lewis defeated H. Rindell, 6-1, 5-7, 6-1; G. Patten defeated L. Kellogg, 6-2, 6-4; C. Johnson defeated W. Hall, 4-6, 6-3, 10-8.

Men's doubles—Miller and Kurutz defeated Riggs and Anderson, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5; Millman and Woods defeated Kellogg and [illegible], 6-3, 7-5; Aune and Holguin defeated Cannon and McMillan, 8-6, 2-6, 8-6; Bartosh and Lewis defeated Millman and Woods, 6-0, 6-0.

RANCHO GOLFER COPS WITH 146

Stevens, Jr., Wins Match Play Event, 4 Down

Staley Captures Low Net in First Division

Danny Sangster's 73 Annexes Junior Tourney

Leon Keller managed to sidetrack his duties as secretary of the Rancho Golf Club last week just long enough to win the invitation tournament of the Riviera Country Club for the second consecutive year with a thirty-six-hole total of 71-75-146.

DANNY SANGSTER

A par equaling 71 was the best effort of the week for eighteen holes, and put the big Rancho amateur well out in front of the field.

L. M. Staley, who came up from Coronado in the Riviera event, will take home with him the low net trophy. Staley's card read, 151-10-141.

F. C. Stevens, Jr., of the Lakeside Country Club, won the match play against par, 4 down, to perfect figures, and second prize was awarded to Charles (Chuck) West of Brentwood, 5 down.

J. A. Ross of Brentwood, shot a sparkling 77 for his second round to win low gross in Class B. His total was 80-77-157. E. L. Mehaffey won the match play against par, 5 down. Darsie L. Darsie, well-known scribe, tied with Bob Wayne for second place in the match play against par, both being 9 down.

Class-C winner was E. S. Hall of the Lakeside Country Club, 86-89-175. Match play against par winners were E. C. Ward of Potrero and Art Pellissier of Fox Hills, who tied, 11 down. They will play off at a later date.

A. G. Williams of the Riviera Country Club, won low gross with 108-94-202, in Class E. H. H. Fowler, 10 down, won first prize in the match play against par, and W. A. Bremer, 12 down, was second.

Danny Sangster of the Potrero Country Club, shot a 73 to win the eighteen-hole medal play for juniors. E. F. Combs, Jr., of the Virginia Country Club, Southern California junior champion, and Phil Ayres of the Los Angeles Country Club, tied for low net prize with 72's.

Other low scores were as follows: Gall Stockton, 77; Charles Berdrow, 82; Marshall Morrison, 84; A. R. Cohen, 86; Buddy Lyda, 87; Burt McKay, Jr., 88, and Don Nittinger, 93.

MERCURY CAGERS IN DEBUT

The Los Angeles Athletic Club basketball team plays its first game of the season tonight at the Mercury Club gymnasium against the Aztec Club, a local team made up of former college and prep stars. Coach Twogood plans to start off with "Nip" McHose and "Curly" Raridon at forwards; "Rags" Wilcox, center, and Tommy Lewis and Herb Gage, guards. Twogood will try out his entire squad of thirteen men, however. During the next five weeks the Mercurians meet U.S.C., U.C.L.A., Brigham Young, Utah Aggies and the Tulsa Eagles.

BEARS SAY THEY WERE NOT AT THEIR BEST

California Athletes Claim Game Was Worst They Played All Year; Moffatt Praised

BY ED R. HUGHES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Coach Nibs Price of the California team now knows just how Moses felt when he was shown the Promised Land, but was not permitted to enter. The Moses referred to is not Moses, line-cracking fullback of U.S.C., but the other Moses, the lad who was found in the bullrushes and became a law giver. The boys and girls who stayed at home yesterday and read the Bible instead of studying the charts of the California-Stanford game, will remember the story about Moses.

At the annual dinner of the California players held at the Clift Hotel Saturday night, when Carl Handy was elected captain for 1930, Capt. Riegels and his men gave all praise to the Stanford fellows who put up such a fine game, but chiefly they were sore at themselves for the poor showing they made. They all said it was the worst game the Bears had put up all year.

NIBS PRICE

Every man of them still feels that he could do better if given another chance, but Old Man Opportunity has hair on the front of his head, but he is bald behind, so you must catch him coming, if at all.

The California boys felt just like the Stanford boys did after their sorry showing against U.S.C. and as the Trojans did after California upset them.

It is no use trying to figure out which is the best team on the coast. The big question is "how good is a team on a certain Saturday?"

Stanford could do nothing right against U.S.C., but Stanford made few mistakes against California.

California was unbeatable when playing U.S.C., yet California was very feeble playing Stanford in the one game they wanted to win above all others. California was inside the Stanford 30-yard line only three times during the game—twice in the first quarter and the third time in the closing minutes of the game, when the shadows nearly hid the players from view and the gloom in the California rooting section was thick enough to be cut with a knife.

The California team, coached by Nibs Price, has lost one conference game in the last two years. So Nibs must be a bust as a coach. Nibs has a sense of humor, so he remarked Saturday night that when the California team won he was referred to as "coach," but when the team lost he was called Clarence.

The situation is that when the Bears win it is a California victory, but when they lose it is billed "Price loses."

In the pregame stories last week I wrote that Stanford was due for at least one good game this year. After Stanford had won last Saturday, Nibs Price took his customary walk across the field to congratulate old Pop. Pop said:

"You did mighty well, young fellow, but I thought all along that Stanford would play a good game this year, and the boys did it in the big game."

Capt. Mush Muller of Stanford was supposed to be limping around with a lame back. After watching Muller play last Saturday, the California fellows would hate to meet him when he was feeling at full strength. Muller came through like a champion Saturday.

With Stanford's deceptive and powerful offense working smoothly Saturday, there were not many bouquets to be tossed in the way of the California linesmen, but Capt. Riegels, Schwarz and Pitto stood up well. The tackles and ends did not look so good.

Usually at a football banquet every fellow is called upon to say a few words, and if the coach of the tackles is speaking, he says:

"Well, fellows, I was sure as hell glad to see them tackles come through today. They sure as hell played fine ball. I thank you."

No speech of that kind was made at the California banquet Saturday night.

After California defeated U.S.C. stories came from Los Angeles that the Trojans were weary from having played Stanford the week before and asking a team to play two tough opponents on succeeding Saturdays was too much.

NO EXCUSES?

California fellows have no such excuses. They took a fine hammering from the heavy Washington team on the 16th inst., just one week before meeting Stanford, but they all said they were in fine physical condition last Saturday. They did not win because Stanford was a far superior football team on that particular Saturday.

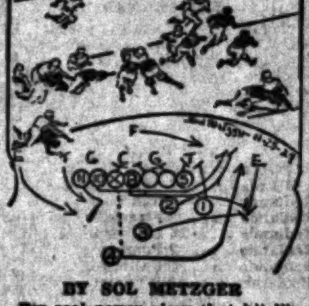
Nibs Price let the boys take things easy after the Washington game, thinking a rest would do them good. But after watching his boys against Stanford he has about concluded the only way to make football players is to keep them constantly at it.

Maybe he will do that next year.

What a football player is Phil Moffatt of Stanford. That Los Angeles kid weighs only 162 pounds, but he is a whale of a halfback. He not only has speed, but he knows how to handle himself. He is not slapped down by the first opponent who hits him. He knows how to pick big holes and dodge and squirm. He has twitching hips and thrashing legs and he is a hard man to stop. He put new fire and energy in the Stanford team when he replaced Frentrup.

Moffatt is only a sophomore and a sophomore is supposed to stand around and polish the head gear of the stars for a year and say nothing. But Moffatt looked like a wonder Saturday and it is a cinch that he will get his chance against West Point. If he does he may steal the show from the great Christian K. Cagle, captain and star performer of the cadets.

Gil Great on Tackle Smash



BY SOL METZGER

For real power plays that hit like a falling tower cast your eyes Cornellward and witness the running attack of Gil Dobie, gloomy in both victory and defeat. Gil has his troubles in landing material of experience, but does mighty well with what turns out.

He's after Penn's scalp on Thanksgiving Day and may land it. Last year he had a better line, but lost, 49-0, because of Penn's passing attack. This year he'll have some good backs and a smash off tackle that is the last word in power. Here's the play: No. 4 gets the ball and beats straight out with five interferers, assigned to the various duties shown in the diagram. As Nos. 2 and 3 take out the end, No. 4 cuts in and follows his two guards.

Gil is cagey. He protects this cutback from the rear by having end No. 11 drop back and protect it from any ambitious tackle or end who might be following.

Trojans Still Top Scorers

With two more games remaining on the schedule, Southern California is the Pacific Coast's leading scorer, and ranks best in defense, although the Stanford Cardinals have a lower game average in the latter. The Trojans have rolled up 373 points in nine games and have held the enemy to 35 digits.

Stanford has tallied 254 points in ten games, the same total that Washington State has garnered in nine, and has had but 40 points scored by the opposition, as has the Cougar eleven.

Elmer Schwartz, the plunging fullback at Washington State, who will appear in the Coliseum Saturday against the Trojans, leads the conference in individual scoring with 78 points. Russ Saunders of the Trojans, and Phil Moffat of Stanford are tied for second with 60. The team standings:

SONNENBERG TO WRESTLE HERE

Gus Signs to Meet Winner of Plestina-Stecher Go

"Carnation" Lou Daro, local wrestling promoter, has signed Champion Gus (Dynamite) Sonnenberg to wrestle in Los Angeles early next month against the winner of the finish mat battle between Marin Plestina, the powerful "trust buster," and Joe Stecher, former champion.

GUS SONNENBERG

Stecher and the 240-pound Jugo Slav, who have been bitter mat enemies for a decade and a half, will attempt to settle their differences on the mat at the Olympic Wednesday night when they meet in the feature event on Daro's big mat card.

Sonnenberg wired his acceptance of terms for the local title battle yesterday, but he reserved the right to discuss rules and conditions for the battle after his arrival. According to close followers of the mat game in this section, this clause in Sonnenberg's acceptance is said to be a loop-hole the title-holder has left for himself to seek protective measures, if possible, should Wednesday night's winner show unexpected ability or something entirely new in the wrestling line that he would not be able to work out any defense against in a week's time. Sonnenberg is certain to have his local trainer at the ringside of the Stecher-Plestina battle to get a line on anything new either grappler may use.

It is the opinion of wrestling experts in this section that both Plestina and Stecher will "open up" completely in this match, almost from the very start. The grudge between these two is said to be even more deep-rooted than any that ever existed between Stecher and Lewis and a battle faster, rougher and more sensational than the Nebraskan has had with Lewis is looked for.

Plenty of action is also looked for in the other matches. Giuseppe Mazzetti, the giant Italian with the handlebar mustachios, will clash with Dick Daviscourt in the special event of this card. A rough battle is looked for. Al Baffert will tangle with Ad Hermann in the opener.

Bay City Eager to Match Irish and Gael Grids

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24. (AP)—In the hopes of bringing Notre Dame and St. Mary's football teams together here in a post-season classic, Supervisor Andrew Gallagher will make the matter a piece of official business tomorrow, he announced today. Gallagher said he would try to induce the Board of Supervisors to invite the two teams to play here, some time during the Christmas holidays.

Football followers held out small hopes of having such a football match made, however. Notre Dame has had an unusually long schedule this season and has traveled far and often. It is believed its faculty would frown on a proposition to extend the season until the holidays.

Shell Oilers in Ice Battle

Hector Proulx and his fast-skating Van Fleet-Durkee ice hockey team will be out to shake a jinx that has hovered over them when playing the Shell Oilers this season, when these teams clash tonight at the Palais De Glace rink in a Southern California Senior League game.

The Oilers, who are leading the race for the pennant at the present time, have defeated the Station Men in nearly every previous game—always by a margin of one point. In the last encounter between these sextets, Hector Proulx and his brothers—Gene and Nole—outskated and backchecked the Shells off their feet in the first two periods. However, the inevitable "Indian sign" of the Oilers seemed to work and the Van Fleet-Durkees were beaten in the last stanza.

Combination play of the forward line of the Station Men tonight will be pitted against the individual work of such bullet shots of the Shell Oil roster as "Tiny" Barr, Buster Smith, Bert Clark, Ernie Miller and Val Richards.

Purdue Will Claim Trophy

CHAMPAIGN (Ill.) Nov. 24. (AP)—Purdue will be awarded the Jack Rissman "Big Ten" football trophy at the annual football dinner in Lafayette Tuesday night, Prof. Frank Dickinson of the University of Illinois, originator of the Dickinson rating system used to pick the Rissman winner, announced today.

Dickinson's system, which is based on the comparative strength of teams as shown by their season's record, rated Purdue first, Northwestern second, and Illinois and Minnesota tied for third in the Big Ten race this fall.

Final standing of Big Ten football teams in conference competition:

Team	W.	L.	T.	T.P.	Op. Pts.	Pct.
Purdue	5	0	0	108	18	1.000
Illinois	3	1	1	68	27	.750
Minnesota	3	2	0	70	47	.600
Northwestern	3	2	0	60	51	.600
Iowa	2	2	1	34	23	.500
Ohio State	2	2	1	20	51	.500
Indiana	1	3	1	33	46	.250

Slauson Grid Team Bows at Channel City

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 24. Santa Barbara American Legion gridsters turned back the Slauson Athletic Club of Los Angeles, 19 to 6, here today in an uninteresting game of football. All four touchdowns were made on long runs or passes with neither eleven being able to buck the ball within scoring distance. Bob Halliday, captain of the Slauson team, made the lone score for his eleven when he took the kick-off at the opening of the second half and raced 80 yards down the sidelines. A long pass, a 35-yard end run and a blocked kick gave Santa Barbara its scores.

BENEFIT PROGRAM ARRANGED

Newsboys Will be Feted Tonight With Fine Card of Entertainment

Real winners of the newsboys' boxing show to be staged tonight at the Main-street gymnasium under the promotion of Carlo Curtis will be the 2000 newsies who will be given a Thanksgiving dinner from the profits.

The card will consist of seven bouts in addition to a battle royal and several vaudeville and musical numbers.

The complete line-up is: Bert Collins vs. Mike Hector, Mushy Callahan vs. Leonard Bennett, Fidel La Barba vs. Augie Curtis, Society Red Millett vs. Joe Garcia, Abie Miller vs. Kid Rooster, Hymie Miller vs. Manuel Trevino and Frankie Abendine vs. Tiger Bobe.

Commissioner Jim Woods and Jack Doyle will serve as toastmasters. Other backers of the event, which is its eighth anniversary, are Tom Gallery, Frank Moran, Ray Bluementhal, F. De Donato and Tom Doyle.

Jim Jeffries, George Blake and Lieut. Jack Kennedy will help referee some of the bouts.

Most of the boys on the program were former newsboys on the streets of Los Angeles. Callahan and La Barba won world's titles, while the two Miller brothers, Abie and Hymie, won national-amateur championships.

COUGARS CLASH WITH TROJANS

tackling than I ever saw on his part."

Gaius Shaver, shifted from quarter to full during the week in order to give Troy punting strength when Saunders is at quarter, turned in a satisfactory game and will continue in that spot.

Bob Hall, originally shifted from left to right tackle last week, performed in his old position Saturday and will remain there for the remainder of the season. "I found the boys got mixed up some trying to learn new stuff so quickly, so I'll have to stick to the old formations for our next two games," was the way the Trojan mentor put it last night.

Harry Edelson will be ready for the Cougars, which ought to help. Although he played against Idaho, Harry was in a rather weakened condition as the result of his recent illness. He should gain considerable strength this week.

Aubrey Devine will be back tonight or tomorrow from Spokane where he watched Washington State thump Gonzaga. But Jones won't wait for Devine to start work on Cougar formations. Early in the year Southern California scouted Washington State in the California game so Jones can set up Cougar plays right away.

Anybody who thinks the game won't be tough should recall that Washington State made seven first downs to six for the Trojans last year and were only outgained by eight yards, 172 to 164.

CONFERENCE IN TANGLED STATE

ner certainly had the psychological advantage and it stood him in good stead.

California has been waiting a long time for victory over Stanford. This was to have been the year, but Coach Warner's record of never having lost a game to California since he came to the Pacific Coast still stands.

Statistics show that Stanford had a distinct edge, making 287 yards from scrimmage to 166 for California, half of California's being via passes. Stanford made sixteen first downs to nine for California.

Fumbles paved the way for opening score by both teams and a blocked punt put Stanford in position to tally the second time.

Stanford scored first in the opening quarter when Gill, California fullback, fumbled and Rothert recovered on California's 39-yard line. In a few plays Frentrup scored for Stanford.

In the same period Frentrup fumbled a punt and Schwarz, California guard, recovered for the Bears on Stanford's 30-yard line. Lom finally passed over the goal to Eisan for the touchdown.

Two of Lom's punts were blocked in the second quarter and Stanford got a touchdown out of them. Thompson, tackle, blocked the first one on California's 24-yard line, but the Bears held on their own 4-yard mark and Lom kicked out of danger temporarily. A few minutes later he had to kick again and this time Capt. Muller of Stanford blocked the ball, recovered it on the 5-yard line and ran over for the touchdown. Moffatt made the final Stanford score from the 8-yard line in the closing period.

Lom was stopped by Stanford, gaining but 22 yards in twelve plays. Stanford played well as a team and with a heavy backfield composed of Fleishhacker, Smalling, Rothert and Frentrup displayed great power.

Oregon University defeated the University of Hawaii, 7 to 0, at Portland in a hard-fought game which was featured by the passing of Holt, island backfield star. Robinson, halfback, scored the winning touchdown in the second quarter.

Washington State gave indication of real strength by trimming Gonzaga, 27 to 0. The Cougars have a powerful team which has lost but one game this year—that to California, 14 to 0, and in this they outgained the Bears.

Southern California had little opposition from Idaho and won, 72 to 0, in a game which featured good ball carrying by Saunders and Moses. The latter is beginning to show the form of which he is capable.

In the Southern California Conference Occidental won the title for the second successive year by beating Pomona, 12 to 7, in a hard-fought game.

CANTLON TWICE WINNER IN LEGION SPEED RACES

Shorty Cantlon had a field day out at the American Legion Speedway yesterday, when he piloted his powerful Miller straight-eight special to first place in the Italian Helmet dash, and then came back to win the 100-lap feature event, after a thrilling duel with Babe Stapp. The winner's time was 53m. 6s. Cantlon drove his car at a steady pace throughout the grind, and when Stapp developed engine trouble on his ninetieth lap, after having held a comfortable lead over the field for the most part of the race, Shorty came from behind to take the lead.

Fred Wagner set the starters off to a nice start with Cantlon jumping into the lead followed by Stapp, Kreiger, and Stubblefield, in the order named. The leaders held these positions until the thirtieth lap, where Stapp went into the lead, which he held till Cantlon overtook him on the next to the last lap.

After a heroic battle with the rest of the field Stubby Stubblefield brought his mount in third place, followed by Fred Marzney, who copped fourth-place money, and Johnny Kreiger, who pulled in fifth.

The two motorcycle races were both thrilling affairs. Jim Davis on an Indian motor won the first race without sidecars in 5. 3-5s. The motorcycle race with sidecars was won by Ray Davis in the fast time of 5m. 53 4-10s m. 53.

Bert Spencer won the twenty-four-lap consolation race in 12m. 54 7-10s. Phil Pardee was second and Clarence Downey, who won the ten-lap consolation race, third.

The sensation seekers were given several thrills during the day. The first coming when E. C. Woodford, who was leading the ten-lap consolation race, crashed into the fence going into the north turn. He was thrown clear of his car and under full steam made his way to the ambulance, where he was treated for a badly cut hand and a smashed foot. Bill Heisler and Johnny Kreiger had a little smashup, also, on the north turn, in which no one was hurt, but which caused Kreiger to lose his hold on third place, and Heisler to withdraw with a broken front wheel.

Approximately 6000 people turned out for the classic and gave a large number of prominent men in the racing game a big hand. Among them were Peter De Paolo, referee for the day, and Harry Hartz, Frank Elliott, Eddie Hearn and many others.

the other teams play one rival. Texas Christian and Southern Methodist, both unbeaten, play next Saturday in the title-deciding game of the Southwestern Conference. S. M. U. has played three tie games while their rivals have hung up nine straight victories.

Pittsburgh bows out of the picture Thursday in a game with Penn State, and Notre Dame makes its farewell appearance Saturday against the Army.

Three teams—Ohio U., Texas Christian and Western Maryland—have won nine games, to top the nation in this respect. Here are the remaining squads:

CHARVEZ AGAIN TOPS MAIN-STREET FIGHTS

Jack Charvez, young Mexican middleweight, again will top the Main Street Athletic Club fight card when he meets Jimmy Peterson, rangy puncher, there next Saturday night. They fought a draw in Ontario a few months ago.

Leo Hernandez's kayo wallop finished Sailor Ora Smith, U.S.S. Mississippi welterweight, in the third round of last Saturday night's main event. Ad Cadena scored a win over Johnny Chrismas in the semi-wind-up. They are lightweights. In the special event, Joe Pimenthal, Mexican 128-pounder, won over George Gammage.

VIKINGS BEAT CLUBMEN

Mercury Soccerites Taste Defeat in Feature Tilt at Loyola Field

Playing a steady game, speeded up by many flashes of exceptional brilliant work, the Viking soccer football eleven defeated the L.A.A.C. Mercuries, 5 goals to 2, at Loyola Field yesterday, thereby removing the club team from a triple tie for first place in the league standings.

The Hollywood club defeated the Sons of St. George, 4 to 2, in the second game at Loyola and remains with the Vikings in a tie for first place.

The Mercuries were overwhelmed by a better team yesterday in the first Loyola game. To be sure the clubmen keenly felt the loss of such men as Lackie Thomson, Mervyn Scott and Harry Owens, all out with injuries, but the Vikings played inspired football and well deserved to win by their three-goal margin. Manager Ringstrom's Norsemen have been playing great soccer of late and will, no doubt, wind up the first round next Sunday in their first-place tie with the Movie City kickers. With their 5 points scored yesterday the Norsemen have now tallied 32 points in the past four games alone.

At Tournament Park, Pasadena, the Pasadena A.C.C. eleven won its second straight game of the season, defeating Richfield, 9 to 5. Richfield led at the half-time, 4 to 3, but six goals by Pasadena in the second game stored away the game for the Crown City boys. The Magyars trimmed the Scots, 4 to 0, in the second Pasadena game.

BEAR DEFEAT CLOGS WHEELS

one while California, Washington State and Oregon have won four apiece and lost one.

Like a lot of other folks Mr. Reynolds considered his task a bed of roses, and came up here to see California defeat Stanford and win an undisputed coast football championship for the first time since 1923.

But what he saw was an inspired Stanford team with an offense and defense that made California look sad by comparison, the score of 21 to 6 failing to reveal the superiority of Pop Warner's eleven in every department of play save forward passing, where California made a few more yards than their graditional rivals.

And instead of his bed of roses Mr. Reynolds is now between the devil and the deep, blue sea.

In this predicament he has cast his eyes southward, where Washington State plays the Trojans at the Los Angeles Coliseum next Saturday afternoon.

If the Trojans win they are conference champions on a percentage basis with six victories out of seven starts—one more win than any other team in the conference can match.

If Washington State wins the Cougars will be tied with Stanford for the title.

OUT OF ORDINARY

Such a situation would see Mr. Reynolds extending the invitation to one or the other in the ordinary course of events.

But this year events are not ordinary, Stanford playing West Point at Palo Alto December 28 and, therefore, automatically erasing itself from the New Year's Day picture.

That would leave Washington State as the logical choice. But the Cougars are also out of the running this year, inasmuch as they have two post-season games scheduled to be played in Honolulu, one on Christmas Day and the other New Year's.

The Trojans have a post-season game with Carnegie Tech December 14 and, having played eleven games during the season, by that time probably will be glad to fold up their tents for the season.

And then there is that slight difficulty that the Trojans had with Mr. Leslie B. Henry when he was chairman of the football committee of the Tournament of Roses last year.

Of course, Mr. Henry is no longer connected with the football committee—there being no such body this year—but there is a suspicion the Trojans will want to let the New Year's matter ride under the circumstances. Enter California into the picture again.

MIGHT CHANGE

Although the attitude of the California players in the dressing rooms after the Stanford fracas yesterday was anything but enthusiastic about a New Year's Day game they might change their minds after the sting of the unexpected defeat was worn off.

Mr. Reynolds indicated this was his belief after he had talked to several influential California men on the matter.

Bill Monahan, graduate manager of California, believes the general opinion is against the scheduling of the New Year's game, but said if the players wanted a chance to vindicate themselves and this met with the approval of the executive committee of the associated students the game might be played.

The California players felt badly about their showing yesterday, but they stand in the same boat with Stanford and Southern California in this respect. Each team had one big game in its system this season—Southern California against Stanford, California against Southern California and Stanford against California.

The loser in each case looked bad by comparison with its truly big days.

The argument is as long as it is broad. Stanford did not have a chance against Southern California, the Trojans were lost against California and the Bears were helpless against Stanford.

St. Mary's has been mentioned as a New Year's Day possibility, the Saints having gone undefeated and unscored upon during the season, their biggest game having been the 0-to-0 tie with California.

But St. Mary's is not in the Coast Conference and the Tournament of Roses Association is more or less bound to the conference for the aid it has tendered in the past.

There was a period when the conference picked the teams and ran the game for the Pasadena organization, and this tie-up has never been lost sight of.

In fact, for the past several years it has been customary for Pasadena to invite the western team and for the latter in turn to extend a bid to the eastern team.

This procedure will be followed this year in event of California or one of the other teams consenting to represent the West.

The captain-elect of the California team, in case the Bears play at Pasadena, will be Carl Handy, substitute guard, who hails from Los Angeles.

He was the surprise selection of the Bear players at their annual football banquet at the Hotel Clift Saturday night.

FIREMEN TRAMPLE OVER SANTA BARBARANS, 32-0

With Nolan and Sumner playing the stellar roles, Coach Bill Blewett's Los Angeles Firemen ran roughshod over the Santa Barbara Athletic Club to turn in a 32-to-0 victory on Wrigley Field. The meeting was the third between these two squads and it is the third victory for the Smoke-eaters.

The Firemen started out in a determined manner by driving the ball straight down the field, Jones and Sumner doing most of the work. Milt Nolan, former Lincoln High star, carried the ball over from the 10-yard line on a nicely executed reverse. Nolan also converted. The boys from Santa Barbara then opened a passing attack, however, that placed the ball on the Firemen's 15-yard line. With the aid of a penalty, the Santa Barbarans moved the ball to the 2-yard line, but failed to score. Bohem, Santa Barbara quarter, did some nifty passing in this brief outburst.

The Firemen came back fighting after this scare and started another march down the field. McCarter did most of the running and the ball was soon placed in scoring position. Nolan again scored, cruising around the end on a fake reverse. Nolan converted to make the score at the end of the first quarter 14 to 0, in favor of the Firemen.

Sumner proved the big hero in the second quarter when he carried the ball over the goal from the 40-yard line in two attempts. Lawrence Casey, Firemen center, intercepted one of Bohem's passes on the 20-yard line. Sumner then ran around end for another touchdown on a fake reverse. Both tries at conversion in this quarter were block by the Santa Barbarans. The Firemen again carried the ball to the visitors' goal line on a series of reverses, fake reverses and end runs. With first down and 4 yards to go for a touchdown, the Firemen lost their punch and failed to score.

The Fremen scored their fifth and last touchdown in the third quarter, when Jones intercepted one of Bohem's many passes and ran to the Santa Barbara 20-yard line. A pass, Tyler to Errett, was for 20 yards and a touchdown. The attempt at conversion failed.

Neither team made much headway in the final quarter. Both squads were playing with reserve men and the period was devoid of thrills.

BLIND RINGMAN TO MAKE HOME HERE

Lou Palmer, blind boxer, has deserted Buffalo to make his home in Los Angeles. Palmer ranked among the top-notchers in flyweight and featherweight classes before misfortune befell him two years ago. A fall was responsible for his being stone-blind. Despite his handicap Palmer, who arrived here Saturday, is most optimistic and has a jovial disposition. Lou recently completed a season in vaudeville. He expects to sign another contract soon. His act consists of shadow-boxing, bag punching and other gymnastic stunts.

BOUT CALLED OFF

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP) — The Kid Chocolate-Eddie O'Dowd fight, scheduled for tomorrow night at the St. Nicholas Arena was indefinitely postponed tonight when the Cuban featherweight was reported ill.

FULLERTON PLANS TO STAGE TENNIS EVENT

The annual Fullerton scholastic invitational tennis tournament is scheduled for the 29th and 30th inst., and, as usual, will be played on the Fullerton High School courts under the direction of T. H. Lodge.

Entrants are reminded that they must have the signature of the principal of their school to the effect that their scholastic standings are satisfactory to represent their particular institution. Two singles for both boys and girls are the only events for the coming meet, and students of the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades are eligible. Due to a Board of Education ruling, girls attending Los Angeles city schools will not be eligible to enter the tourney unless the ruling, that girls may not compete in interscholastic events, be waived prior to the meet.

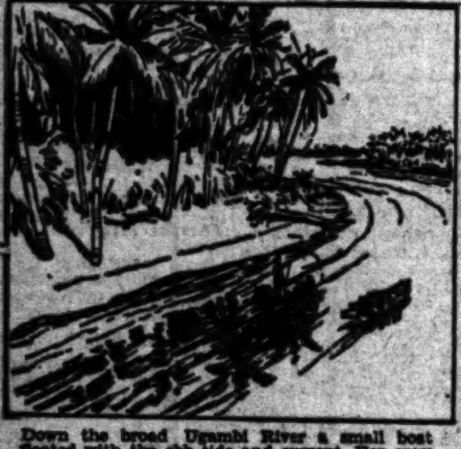
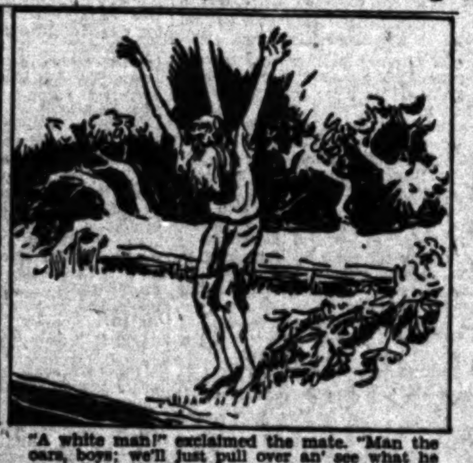
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Down the broad Ugambi River a small boat floated with the ebb tide and current. Her crew were lazily enjoying this rest from their toil of rowing up-stream. As they neared the sea, where waited the mother-ship, ready to sail back to England, their attention was suddenly attracted to a strange apparition appearing on the jungle shore. With skinny arms outstretched it screamed at them in a wild, cackling voice.



"A white man!" exclaimed the mate. "Man the oars, boys; we'll just pull over an' see what he wants." As the boat neared shore they beheld an emaciated creature with matted hair and a long beard. Tears rolled down his sunken cheeks as he jabbered in some alien tongue. "Speak English?" questioned the mate. He did. Brokenly, and with seeming effort this human wreck told his rescuers a weird tale.

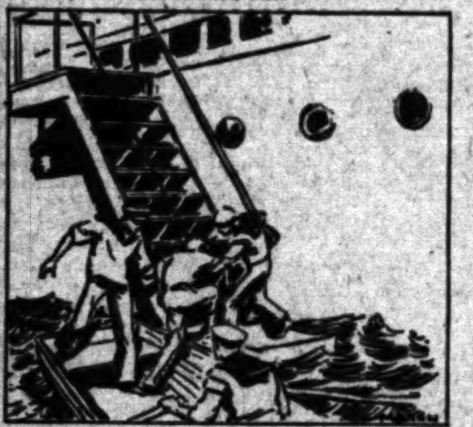
It rambled over years of privation, hardships, and torture in the awful jungle. He was a Russian, but how he came to Africa and his name, he would not say. The men concluded he had forgotten the incidents of his former life because of the frightful ordeals he had experienced. Ten years had he been a slave in a cannibal village, beaten and stoned by the women, slashed and disfigured by the warriors.



Yet somehow he had managed to live and at last found his way to the coast—a human derelict, mentally and physically. When he finished his almost unbelievable story, he begged the sailors to take him away with them—anywhere. And so, moved by pity, they took him aboard the Marjorie W., nursed, fed and partly restored him to health. Thus came Alexis Paulvitch out of a living death and once again into the life of Tarzan of the Apes.

[illegible] DEVOTES LIFE TO WORK

[illegible] Engelhardt is said to have [illegible] his life to a compilation of [illegible] history of the California mis[illegible] and has published volumes on [illegible], San Luis Rey, San Juan [illegible], San Gabriel, Santa Bar[illegible], San Fernando and [illegible]

[illegible] now have been [illegible] to place his San Buena Ven[illegible] in the hands of the [illegible], the book to ap[illegible] spring. The costs have [illegible] by a public-spir[illegible] of Venturans with the [illegible] citizens generally will [illegible] the project.

[illegible] compiling this history Father [illegible] has traveled extensively [illegible], Mexico and California, [illegible] archives and manuscripts [illegible] with age. No other man has [illegible] access to many of the [illegible] documents that have [illegible] him.

[illegible] Franciscan missions form the [illegible] background for all Cali[illegible]. Much of San Buena Ven[illegible] all Ventura county have of [illegible] the mission fathers creat[illegible]. They built for the future, lay[illegible] and strong the founda[illegible] for California's civilization. TWO SHOT AT CALIPATRIA

Jack O'Brien, "Georgia Kid," Asserted to Have Killed His Friend; Former Employer Wounded

CALEXICO, Nov. 24.—Sheriff's officers, Federal immigration and customs patrolmen, and police of every town in Imperial Valley are this afternoon blocking the highways out of the valley and searching the desert between here and Yuma for the man asserted to have killed a ranch hand named Judd West of Calipatria, held up P. W. Jackson, another ranch hand, took his car, and drove to the ranch of John Collins near Wiest Station, shot Collins and headed south in the car. Collins was being operated upon late today at the El Centro Hospital in an attempt to save his life.

Jackson, who works on the Vail ranch between Brawley and Calipatria, was driving east about five miles west of Calipatria at 11 a.m. today with his wife in their Chevrolet sedan, when a young man standing on a small bridge waved his cap at them evidently in search of a ride. When the car slackened, the man, later identified as a ranch hand known both as "Georgia Kid" and "Alabama Slim," is declared to have held up Jackson with an automatic pistol and demanded the car. He was excited and trembled noticeably, Jackson said, and after getting the occupants out of the car entered it and drove south. Jackson, in a neighbor's car, followed, but could not catch up with him. The hold-up occurred about fifteen minutes after the escaping man is said to have shot and killed Judd, whose body was found in the highway a quarter of a mile north of the scene of the hold-up. Twenty minutes after the hold-up the family of John Collins notified the Sheriff's office that Collins had been shot by his former employee, who had later held up the Palm filling station near Wiest and was driving toward Holtville. At 3 p.m. Sheriff's officers found the Chevrolet sedan which the asserted killer is declared to have stolen from Jackson. It was stuck in the sand at the side of the El Centro-Yuma highway, nine miles east of Holtville. Another car's driver had attempted to pull it out of the sand, but the rope had broken and the driver, evidently fearing being overtaken, is believed to have entered the other car and driven east toward Yuma. However, officers are searching the sand hills and mesa in order to prevent possible escape on foot.

MILES OF TREES TO BE SET OUT

Glendale Organizes Third Planting District, for Beautification of City

GLENDALE, Nov. 24.—Organization of the city's third tree-planting district, which will include sixty miles of parkways that will be planted to various varieties of trees, will give the community approximately 190 miles of tree-decorated parkways, according to figures compiled by O. J. Renfrew, superintendent of parks and recreation.

The third district calls for 8000 trees to be planted in an area bounded by Pacific avenue and Verdugo Road on the west and east, and by Mountain street and Verdugo Road on the north and south. Two trees will be planted to each fifty-foot lot and the property owners will be assessed a small charge for the purchase of the trees, the amount covering the cost of planting and the care of the tree during its first year.

Completion of the planting of the third district will give the city 16,000 trees that have been planted under this system, besides all the others that have been planted by individual owners in other sections of the city.

In laying out the tree-planting districts the park department selects one variety for each street, subject to the approval of the property owners. Only those types of trees are chosen that are suited to local conditions, and under the regulations adopted by the city no property owners are permitted to plant trees in their parkways without first securing the approval of the park department, as the parkways are under the control of the city's forestry officials.

The entire northwest section of the city is now included in tree-planting districts, and the growth of the trees in the first two districts gives promise that Glendale will, with the trees' attainment of maturity, be one of the most beautiful cities in California.

Valley Airport to Have Party

VAN NUYS, Nov. 24.—In celebration of its first year as one of the leading industrial airports of the Great Southwest, the Metropolitan Airport, northwest of the Van Nuys townsite, will stage a birthday party in the early part of next month, it is stated today by Waldo D. Waterman, general manager.

The party will be in the nature of an air meet and an exhibition. There will be a turn out of eighty-one planes, which are quartered at the airport, aside from a large number of visiting planes, whose pilots will be invited to participate in the events scheduled.

Last December 17, the airport was dedicated. A plaque was unveiled in conjunction with the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first flight of Wright brothers at Kittyhawk. There were two buildings at the airport then. Now there are ten major structures, including three factories and six hangars, aside from smaller units occupied by several of the leading gas-and-oil companies.

FRICAN MINING DESCRIBED

[illegible] of Copper Deposits in Rhodesia, Radium Discoveries in Congo, Told by Geologist

[illegible]A, Nov. 24.—Mining operations of great interest to the en[illegible] world are being carried on in South Africa, it was revealed [illegible] by Frederick L. Ransome, professor of economic geology at [illegible] Institute of Technology. The local scientist, who was one [illegible] to report on the causes of the St. Francis Dam disaster, [illegible] a few days ago from Pretoria, South Africa, where he attended [illegible] Geological Conference last July.

[illegible] years, he as[illegible] the new copper mining de[illegible] in Northern Rhodesia [illegible] producing sufficient copper [illegible] possible reduction in the [illegible] of the ore.

[illegible] of these mines each expect [illegible] eventually from 5000 to [illegible] of copper ore daily, the [illegible] between 3 and 6 per [illegible], according to Ransome. [illegible] 3 per cent basis, each of [illegible] might thus produce 150 [illegible] copper a day. Although the [illegible] of the new copper devel[illegible] is being carried on by for[illegible], the local authority [illegible] Kennecott Copper Com[illegible] representative in the [illegible]

[illegible] copper in Rhodesia, unlike [illegible] other parts of the world, [illegible] in a series of sedimentary [illegible] in fine particles in [illegible] between twenty[illegible] 150 feet in thickness." In [illegible] Congo, Ransome in[illegible] us from the new [illegible] production from [illegible] has put some of [illegible] radium ore develop[illegible] of business. "This Afri[illegible] deposit is being sur[illegible] the utmost secrecy and its exact location was withheld from us," he declared.

South Africa is also destined to be an important producer of platinum, the geologist discovered when he inspected the great deposits, most of which are located in Transvaal.

"Some new method must be developed to obtain this platinum," asserted Ransome, "but when a method is found, the price of platinum probably will be affected throughout the world."

In the course of a visit to one of the South African diamond mines, the Americans attending the conference were shown $250,000 worth of diamonds, representing one month's output.

Ransome declared that due to the flatness of most of South Africa, irrigation on a large scale is almost impossible, despite the fact that climatic conditions are strangely similar to those in Southern California.

"There are a few big dams and some rivers, but the South Africans, unlike ourselves, are unable to utilize their water," he said.

Another American delegate to the International Geological Conference, Prof. Bailey Willis of Stanford University, made a study of the strange down-faulted rock structure in the South African region.

Hearing Defects in Four Per Cent of Grade Pupils

MONROVIA, Nov. 24.—That 4 per cent of students from the fourth to eighth grades in Monrovia grammar schools are hard of hearing, is the tabulation of Dr. J. M. Furstman, district health officer, who with Dr. Eller, school physician, tested pupils for defective hearing.

The percentage represents a total of thirty-two children from an enrollment of 800, who were found to have ear trouble. Of this number, according to the doctors' report, twenty-one students have the loss of hearing in one ear and eleven students have their hearing impaired in both ears.

"It is anticipated," stated Superintendent A. R. Clifton, "that through the excellent and strict health supervision maintained by the Monrovia school district, that this percentage may be reduced, for the majority of defects found at an early age can be removed and normal hearing restored."

New Plan to Obtain Books

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 24.—An opportunity to return long-overdue books and magazines to the Alhambra Public Library, with no fines and with no questions asked, will be afforded patrons during the coming week, which Miss Marian P. Greene, chief librarian, has designated as "No Fine Week."

Those who are in possession of library books which are overdue, no matter how long they have been kept out of circulation, may return them to the library without penalty. For those who may be sensitive about making their appearance with the books, a box will be installed at the entrance door where books may be deposited without explanation.

The plan, believed new in library circles, was devised by Miss Greene in an effort to gather in a large number of volumes which have been A.W.O.L. for some time.

HICKMAN'S 'CYCLE TRACED BY OFFICIAL

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 24.—The name of William Edward Hickman, convicted and hanged for the slaying of Marian Parker, appeared in Alhambra police records today upon the receipt of a request to trace the ownership of a motorcycle that once belong to the murderer.

Lieut. Cherry of the local identification bureau received a communication from the auto theft bureau at Fresno concerning a motorcycle held in that city. The machine was once owned by Hickman when he lived at 2523 Birch street, this city. It later was sold to "Brick" Kutscher, 724 Sierra Vista avenue, Alhambra.

NORTH HOLLYWOOD SHIPPING LETTUCE

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 24. Quantities of lettuce are being shipped from the old Bonner cannery plant here, which has been leased by the A. E. Barker Company, wholesale producers, buyers and packers. The first carload was sent into the Pacific Northwest. Other cars have been sent into various market centers. Howard I. Mills, manager of the shipping forces, says that within ten days shipping will be at the peak. This fall lettuce is below normal quality because of unfavorable weather conditions within the past month.

DEEP SEA DIVER AT REDONDO

"Curly" Henderson Removing Debris

Portions of Old Pier Being Taken Out

REDONDO BEACH, Nov. 24.—Deep-sea diving operations begun yesterday are being resorted to by the special citizens' committee engaged in removing portions of the former city pier from beneath the present structure. Capt. Hans Carstensen is directing the work for the committee and Fred (Curly) Henderson of Venice, veteran deep-sea diver of the Pacific Coast, is carrying out the undersea program of the committee. A fund of $65,000 obtained by popular subscription is at the disposal of the workers for operation which cost estimates by experts have placed as high as $70,000.

Practically all of the former cement pier demolished at the time the present pier was being built is understood to be now on the ocean bed at this point, its removal having been demanded by the War Department before an extension permit to the pier permitting a boat landing will be issued.

A claim of $150,000 against the city for asserted damage to the W. L. Moustad pier landing, about 150 feet south of the city pier, said to be due to sand bars formed on the debris, is now in progress in the Superior Court.

Cities Discuss Pressing Need of Fire Protection

TEMPLE CITY, Nov. 24.—Representatives of the Temple City, Rosemead, Wilmar and Garvey districts will meet here Friday night to discuss a plan advanced by the Temple City American Legion Post to obtain adequate fire protection for the communities. Roy Teeters, director of the Temple City Chamber of Commerce, will be the chairman of the meeting.

The towns interested have no modern fire-fighting equipment and depend upon aid from near-by cities in case of a serious blaze. The recent destruction by fire of a house in Temple City, with the loss of two lives, has awakened the district to fire-protection needs.

The present plan calls for the raising by public subscription of a fund for the purchase of a fire engine with a 500-gallon water tank, pumping equipment and a supply of hose. The estimated cost is $2300. It is understood that funds alread have been appropriated by the Rosemead Chamber of Commerce for the project. It is planned to install the engine in Temple City where it will be under the supervision of George J. Emery, deputy county fire warden for the district.

Valley Turkeys Cheap as Beef

OWENSMOUTH, Nov. 24.—The general cheapness of Thanksgiving turkeys in California this year is borne out here, at Reseda, Van Nuys and in other parts of San Fernando Valley, where large flocks have been raised this season for market.

Signs are to be seen posted along the highways in the western part of the valley, offering turkeys at 33 and 30 cents a pound, for birds up to twenty pounds in weight. This time last year turkeys were bringing around 50 cents. The year before that, turkeys sold at 55 cents dressed, at valley butcher shops. A day before Thanksgiving all stocks had been sold out at that price.

San Fernando Valley is full of good-sized turkeys this year. As one rides along on the highways "For Sale, Turkeys" signs may be seen posted in front of most all large and small ranches.

ALHAMBRA HAS BIGGEST DAHLIA

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 24.—Iowans may boast of their tall corn, but Mrs. W. I. LeClaire of 1514 South Fourth street is credited with raising a tree dahlia that since last spring has produced three shoots measuring twenty-two feet in height. There are now more than twenty blossoms of varied hues, while hundreds of bulbs are nearing the blossoming stage.

The tree dahlia, Mrs. LeClaire says, is grown from a small shoot planted in early spring. It begins to blossom in a few weeks and the flowering continues until late in the fall. There are very few of the tree dahlias known to exist in this area.

LANCASTER MECCA FOR LEGION MEN

LANCASTER, Nov. 24.—Several hundred members of the American Legion from twelve separate posts in the Los Angeles area, constituting the Twentieth District of the Department of California, met here yesterday in regular quarterly convention.

The session was held in the grammar school auditorium where the scheduled program was enjoyed District Commander Wright Hubbard of Owensmouth, in San Fernando Valley, presided and was principal speaker. Members of the following posts took part in the convention: North Hollywood, Reseda, Van Nuys, Owensmouth, Verdugo Hills, San Fernando, Sawtelle, Santa Monica, Glendale and Burbank.

Upland Sleuth Solves Meaning of Mystic Note

UPLAND, Nov. 24.—"What shall we do about this?" asked one Upland policeman of another, after he had removed and read a typewritten note from beneath a bridge over San Antonio Wash, east of here.

"Kind of mysterious, isn't it?" said the other. "Let's refer it to the Chief."

This is what Chief Sawyer read: "Maggott 3, No. 98. Feeling hungry? There is a rock with your number painted on it within ten feet of this note. This rock must be carried to the rooms at once. Should it prove too heavy, you are privileged to bring in a real maggot. Let one of the brothers know when you have reached the rooms. Bring in your notes, mask, bottle, rock and maggot. N. A. I."

One of the analytical minds of the force remembered that some time ago there was a Pomona College fraternity initiation, and the note was probably part of the ceremonial instructions.

Sierra Madre in Red Cross Drive

SIERRA MADRE, Nov. 24.—"Once a champion, always a champion," W. R. Humphries, chairman of the Sierra Madre Chapter, American Red Cross, declared today when he announced that the local chapter will go over their quota of 750 members, a championship record established several years ago.

The annual membership drive which started on Armistice Day will reach its climax on Thanksgiving, Humphries further announced.

A check-up today from Red Cross field workers showed that the total number of new members up to date aggregate 600, leaving a balance of 150 members to obtain before next Thursday.

Sierra Madre Chapter holds the distinction of having the largest number of members for a city of this size, than any other chapter on record, and we are not going to let the enviable record slip from our grasp this year," was Humphries's enthusiastic declaration.

TERROR TO OUTLAWS KNOCKED OUT BY RUG

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 24.—Inglewood Township's noted two-gun constable, Harry Amend, whose exploits during the World War brought enough medals to cover his manly chest, and who subsequently, as a peace officer, has been a terror to evil doers, has been brought low. And not by knife, bullet or club.

The constable is nursing a fractured rib, caused when he fell after slipping on a rug on the highly polished hardwood floor of his home on Hazel street.

FRUIT FLY BAN LIFTING

Mutual Orange Distributor Official Says Action Will Materially Affect California Market in South

REDLANDS, Nov. 24.—S. B. Marshall, assistant sales manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors, said today that the lifting of the government ban on Florida citrus shipments will affect materially the movement of California fruits into Southern States. The ban has been lifted because the government has decided Florida has control of the Mediterranean fruit fly discovered there some months ago.

Sterilized fruit from Zone 1 may be shipped anywhere in the United States except to eighteen Southern and Middle Western States, the wire explains. Sterilized fruit from Zones 2 and 3 may be shipped anywhere in the United States except as prohibited by State quarantines. This would apply to Texas, Arizona and California. The period for shipments under this rule of the government is from the 21st inst. to January 31.

Fruit not processed from Zone 3 may be shipped anywhere except into the eighteen Southern and Middle Western States. This rule also went into effect yesterday. In other words, all the Southern and Middle Western States are protected from shipments of Florida fruit that has not been processed to kill the possible fly larvae.

Texas, Arizona and California still have their local quarantines in effect. They are affected only as the partial lifting in the Southern States curtails their own shipments into those markets.

The Federal withdrawal of restrictions was seen among citrus men today as allowing a wider distribution for Florida fruit. It will be allowed almost unrestricted into the eastern seaboard States and into others if sterilized.

California shippers, however, look upon the sterilization processes as possible cause for decay in shipment. The cold process requires that the fruit be kept in cold storage five days and that for at least five hours it shall have been kept at a temperature of 28 deg. The heating process is almost as severe. If a great amount of decay results the California citrus fruits will probably be in demand in the eighteen Southern and Middle Western States, territory that heretofore has been considered almost Florida's market exclusively.

MONROVIA PLANNING FESTIVAL

Pre-Christmas Festivity Will Begin Early in Next Month, Ending With Tree

MONROVIA, Nov. 24.—Plans for a pre-Christmas festival are practically completed, according to Fred P. Redner, head of the merchants' committee in charge of festivities.

The festival will probably open during the first week in December and plans are that Christmas decorations will predominate in the business district from Olive to Foothill Boulevard, on Myrtle avenue, and from Ivy to Primrose avenue. An elaborate street program, including various kinds of entertainment is also in the planning.

The festival will climax on Christmas Eve with the municipal Christmas tree celebration in Library Park. The giant deodar planted in the park, which each year serves as a municipal tree, will be elaborately decorated with ornaments and electric lights and will remain illuminated during the holidays, according to announcement made by C. H. Anson, president of the Municipal Christmas Tree Association.

According to the program outlined by the association, a real Santa Claus will preside at the tree and distribute gifts and candy to the children.

"We are planning to make 2500 children happy this year," states Mrs. Henry Waterman, head of the toy and candy committee, and baskets of food will also be distributed among needy families. Mrs. Waterman is assisted by Mrs. J. B. Woodland, city mother, and others on the committee include Sherman J. McQueen, financial chairman.

The annual drive to raise funds for the municipal Christmas tree will begin within the next few days, McQueen stated.

ALHAMBRA PLANS FOR "GAY WHITE WAY" FOR HOLIDAYS

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 24.—Alhambra is to have its "Gay White Way" during the Christmas season, in accordance with plans completed by the merchants, Chamber of Commerce, service clubs and the city. A fund has been pledged by business men and the city has appropriated $1000 to aid in the elaborate decorative scheme. The stringing of electric wires will be started Tuesday.

Live Christmas trees will be installed at intersections in the central business area and thousands of colored lights will be strung over the sidewalks, together with wreaths and other Christmas greenery.

Main street between Chapel and Fifth streets will be a blaze of light during the entire month of December and other business districts will also be appropriately decorated. A special program of entertainment will be staged on the opening night.

Power Rates to be Investigated

GLENDALE, Nov. 24. — Comparison of the rates charged for electric power in Glendale and other cities in the Los Angeles metropolitan area will be made by a special committee appointed by the City Council, following assertions presented by local business interests that the Glendale figures are higher than those in other municipalities.

Councilman Frank P. Taggart, as Public Service Commissioner; City Manager J. W. Charleville, and Peter Diederich, superintendent of the Public Service Department, will constitute the committee.

Mayor C. E. Kimlin advised representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, who urged an investigation and adjustment, that data now being compiled will be submitted to Diederich's attention as soon as he returns from Washington, where he attended the Boulder Dam conference called by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur.

Malloy Aids Boy Scouts to Camp

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 24.—Through the generosity of an Inglewood business man, George C. Malloy, Boy Scouts of this section will be enabled to finance their vacation sojourn at Big Pines camp, it was announced today by B. K. Richardson, Scout commissioner for this district.

The Scout Council, it was announced by Richardson, has introduced a savings plan, similar to savings stamps systems, each stamp being worth 25 cents. When the book is filled, it has a cash value of $12.50, or sufficient to pay the cost of ten days in the 1930 Boy Scout camp. Malloy, it was said, has advanced to the Council $100 necessary to secure the system and has also agreed to handle the stamps at his store.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS BENEFIT

HUNTINGTON PARK, Nov. 24.—The annual benefit entertainment for the Camp Fire Girls will be held on the evenings of December 2 and 3, at the Shelley Theater, when a certain percentage of the proceeds will go to the organization to assist in carrying on the winter's work. The annual banquet is to be held in the coming spring. Louis H. Hamilton is president of the organization.

Traffic Bureau Chief Deposed

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 24.—Following several months of disputes, Arthur Hilt, Chief of Police, has issued an order transferring McConnell Neely, lieutenant of police, for the last two years at the head of the police traffic bureau, to command of the La Jolla substation, the most distant outpost of the local department. The order which relieved Lieut. Neely of his duties at Central Station directed Lieut. Henry W. Churchman, in command of the La Jolla station, to take over the traffic station. The shift will become effective tomorrow.

After the order shifting Lieut. Neely was posted, rumors gained considerable headway that other changes may be made in the department and that a general shake-up may be in prospect. Back of these rumors was a report that a patrolman recently became eligible for appointment to the traffic squad but was informed "He might as well forget trying to get the appointment as a big shake-up in the department was coming."

In going to La Jolla, Lieut. Neely leaves behind him two years of notable work and achievements in the traffic division. He had put into operation many innovations in the handling of traffic, which are credited with having kept traffic crashes and fatalities at the lowest possible figure. Lieut. Churchman has been stationed in La Jolla about three and a half years and is said to be not acquainted with the functioning of the traffic department. It will be necessary, it is said, for him to acquaint himself with the operation of the traffic bureau and its many duties.

Lieut. Neely joined the local department in 1920 and has been connected with the traffic division since that time.

WOMAN PIONEER OF HERMOSA SUCCUMBS

HERMOSA BEACH, Nov. 24.—Word was received here last night of the death in Grant's Pass, Or., of Mrs. Louise S. Burleigh, pioneer resident of this place and wife of A. A. Burleigh of 1145 Camino Real. Mrs. Burleigh had gone to the home of a daughter, Mrs. B. M. Lane, in Grant Pass, in hope of benefiting her health, and had she lived until Thanksgiving Day of this year she and her husband would have rounded out fifty-four years of married life.

The Burleighs came to this city twenty-three years ago and have been prominent in civic and fraternal circles.

The remains will be brought to Inglewood Park Cemetery for interment, the time of services to be announced later.

BRETHREN IN CHRIST MEET

Upland Chosen for Annual Conference This Year

Bishop Wagaman Will Open Gathering Tomorrow

Local Churches to Join in Thanksgiving Service

UPLAND, Nov. 24.—Brethren in Christ churches of the Pacific Coast have chosen Upland for their fifteenth annual Bible conference, opening Tuesday and continuing through Friday. The conference will be held in the Brethren in Christ Church, Third avenue and F street.

Bishop J. H. Wagaman will open the conference, and later in the morning will speak on "What Is a Revival in a New Testament Sense?"

One of the outstanding talks of the afternoon session Tuesday will be made by Elder J. H. Byer, whose subject is, "Are Our Bodies Raised in the Resurrection?"

Other interesting themes to be discussed during the conference include: "What Does the Bible Teach on the Dress Question?" by Elder Adam Book; "The Glory of the Church—Do We Have It?" by Bishop C. C. Burkholder; "The Relative Value Between Preaching and Teaching in the Pulpit," by Elder B. M. Books; "The Power of Parental Influence for Raising the Standards of Our Church," by W. E. Bohen; "The Difference Between Modern and Apostolic Christianity," by Elder H. G. Brubaker; "Fortifying Our Children Against Atheistic Teachings," by Mrs. Elmer France.

Beulah College will provide the musical program at the Thanksgiving Day service starting at 9 a.m. Thursday. All churches of Upland will unite with the conference for the Thanksgiving service, which will be addressed by Dr. Bert Foster, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church.

Thursday afternoon's sessions will be devoted to a missionary program; Friday morning to an educational program, and Friday afternoon to a Sunday-school topic.

MEN DON APRONS AND PROVE ADEPT CHEFS

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 24.—Headed by Joe Thoburn, president, and "Scotty" Jonathan, vice-president, members of the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church donned aprons last night and prepared and served bountiful and delicious refreshments to wives, children and friends. The occasion was the annual "Harvest Home" gathering of the organization.

The women of the church, who throughout the year have loyally prepared a sumptuous dinner once a month for the regular meeting of the men's organization, were given the surprise of their lives last night, it was declared, at the skill and dexterity with which the men folk not only did the cooking, but also by the suave dexterity with which the male waiters served the viands, Leonard Bush and Ray Magee particularly coming in for honorable mention.

RHODES CANDIDATES CHOSEN BY POMONA

CLAREMONT, Nov. 24.—Pomona College candidates for the Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford University are announced as follows:

Richard Armour of Pomona, Henry Cobb of Laguna Beach and Chandler Ide of Redlands. Armour graduated in 1927, has had two years' study at Harvard University and one year at Texas University. Cobb and Ide are outstanding members of this year's senior class.

The final selection for California will be made by the State Rhodes Scholarship committee sitting at San Francisco, December 2.

MISSION BAY MAY BECOME SALT LAKE

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 24.—Tentative plans for making Mission Bay the largest salt-water lake in California and the second largest in the United States are under consideration by Fred Lockwood, City Manager of operation, it was disclosed today.

Under these tentative plans a bridge with tidal gates would be installed across the mouth of the bay, when the time comes for renewal of the present bridge at that point.

THANKS SERVICE PLANNED

VAN NUYS, Nov. 24.—All residents here have been invited to take part in a union Thanksgiving service that will be conducted Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., at the Van Nuys Methodist Church, at Erwin street and Tyrone avenue. Rev. A. E. Worthy of the Van Nuys Christian Church will preach the Thanksgiving sermon.

CAMPUS EXODUS DEPLORED

Week-end Hegira of University of Redlands Students Causing Great Concern at Institution

REDLANDS, Nov. 24.—The week-end exodus of students from the campus of the University of Redlands is causing great concern among the officials and also the students. Larry Cook of Hollywood, editor of the "Campus," has written several strong editorials deploring the fact that there is an exodus of 33 per cent of the students each week, according to the findings of Dr. Herbert Cole, student adviser. The students took the matter up in public meeting.

It was the unanimous agreement of the group that such a situation is not an ideal one, that it breaks into the college consciousness of the student, that it tends to lower his scholastic standing, and that it does not make for an unified spirit among the student body.

Several suggestions were made to help remedy the situation, one that the establishment of Saturday morning classes would prove successful in keeping the students on the campus during the week-end and another that more privileges from a social standpoint be granted and that more social opportunities be offered.

These discussions will be continued in the next two meetings and Ed Espy, chairman, announced that a committee would bring before the group next week a list of definite and practical suggestions.

PRODUCING & REFINING OIL and MINING IN THE EARTH

PUMPER GROUP TO BE REVIVED

General Will Open Up Lost Hills Projects

Seventy-two Preparing for Operating Again

Output to Blend With Light Kettleman Product

While production curtailment is being practiced in the flush oil fields of Southern California and many oil-field workers are laid off, the General Petroleum Corporation plans to keep a lot of its workmen busy by opening up a lot of pumpers in the old Lost Hills field.

Ninety-two small producers in that area, which have been closed down for seven years, are to be opened up at once, according to an official announcement from Bakersfield. The wells will be cleaned out, fitted with new sucker rods, and returned to production.

In doing this the company will bring back to production between 2500 and 3000 barrels a day of heavy oil from Sec. 19, 19-26 and Sec. 13, 26-20, near the town of Lost Hills. The company states that it wants this heavy oil to mix with the extremely light oil of the Kettleman Hills field, where the company recently built a pipe line for the purpose of running the product of that field to market. Thirty workmen have been assigned to reopen the Lost Hills wells.

PLANS FOR FLOTATION MILL PEND

Old Octave Property in Wickenburg Section May Get 150-Ton Plant

WICKENBURG (Ariz.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Statement is made that such success has attended operation of a fifty-ton mill on the Octave property, north of this point, that plans are being made for installation of a 150-ton flotation plant. An abundant supply of good ore is reported ahead in the Joker vein. The property is an old one, extensively developed, and once equipped with a large mill that failed to secure the gold values. J. S. Coupal is in charge.

In the same section the Antelope Gulch Mining Company is developing, with aid of electric power recently brought on the ground from the Prescott system. Senum & Co. have taken over the big Congress mine and mill dumps and is preparing for extensive operation. Water will be pumped from wells. West of Congress, a new hoist and camp buildings have been placed on the Aristo property, one developed to 135 feet of depth. The operators are Los Angeles residents, represented by P. M. Steinkamp and William Berger.

Ore shipped from the Unida property, near Wickenburg, is reported to have run 26 per cent copper and $16 gold. Ownership is in the Golden State Trust and Mining Company, N. S. Oberon, manager.

Onyx Property Again Operating

MAYER (Ariz.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Extensive operations have been resumed by the Yavapai Onyx Company in its quarries near this point, with ten faces opened on a broad deposit of the rock.

Shipment is made in the rough state to Dyersville, Iowa, where shaping and polishing is done. The principal demand is for building finishing in Chicago, though much of the finer stuff is fashioned into table tops and lamp stands and mantels.

NORTH FORK PLACERS IN FULL BLAST

Diggings of Los Angeles Company Reported to be on Steady Production

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—With five giants in commission and twenty men on the pay roll, the North Fork Placers, Inc. of Los Angeles, has settled down to steady production. An immense quantity of profitable gravel is reported exposed, with sufficient water available for hydraulicking practically throughout the year. The placers are located on the north fork of the Trinity River, near Helena.

The Paulsen ranch at Lewiston, near Weaverville, has been acquired by E. E. Chenoweth, Los Angeles mine operator, and is to be extensively mined by gold dredgers. Chenoweth obtained title to the property by paying delinquent taxes of $5000. The property is said to contain extensive placer deposits, and the new owner plans to expend a large sum on development work and installation of dredges.

Rediscovery of the long-lost Central Hill channel in the Taylor mine has stirred considerable interest in the Murphys section of Calaveras county. Owners of the Taylor state that the paystreak was encountered at a depth of eighty feet, and that it samples nearly $700 per cubic yard of gravel. Work is being prosecuted vigorously to determine magnitude of the strike. Rich gravel is also said to have been found in the adjacent Keystone property, and numerous deals for adjoining groups are proceeding.

The Mountain Copper Company has placed its new cyanide plant in commission on copper ore, and raised its daily output to about 600 tons. The flotation mill has been treating 340 tons of ore daily for several months. The product comes from the No. 8 property. The management states shipments of pyrites from the Hornet mine has been indefinitely suspended.

NEVADA MINING DEAL REPORTED

RENO (Nev.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive) — Control of the Majestic Mines Corporation, owning large mining properties in the Cortez district, south of Beowawe, has passed to Southern California interests, headed by Miss Belle McCord Roberts and G. A. Smith of Long Beach, and M. J. Hough and R. S. Baverstock of Los Angeles. Preliminary work has begun under management of M. J. Hough, vice-president of the company. Miss Roberts is the new president.

The properties adjoin the noted mines operated by the Cortez Consolidated Company, and are credited with containing extensive deposits of commercial ore. Shipping ore was opened last spring and several shipments made, but the owners were forced to discontinue work because of a lack of development funds.

The Sunset Mining and Development Company, controlled by Belle McCord Roberts and G. A. Smith of Long Beach, has completed remodeling of its mill on the Arizona group near Unionville, and expects to start production this week. The plant is equipped with the cyanide process and has a daily capacity of seventy-five tons. Recent work is said to have exposed a substantial tonnage of excellent ore in new ground, with old workings showing a fair reserve of milling-grade ore. The Arizona is credited with a production exceeding $10,000,000 and ranks among the famous silver properties of Nevada.

There tunnels have entered the cinnabar deposit near Belmont being developed by the Raymond Van Ness Quicksilver Company of Beverly Hills, Cal., according to information reaching Reno. The deposit has been demonstrated for a distance of 1500 feet along a contact and is said to carry ore running fairly high in quicksilver. Erection of a furnace is understood to be under consideration.

Tulsa Goldfield Acquires Claims at Diamond Field

RENO (Nev.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—The Tulsa Goldfield Company has acquired a group of claims in the Diamond field district, north of Goldfield, including ten formerly owned by the Talmage Mining Company, and plans vigorous work. The locations adjoin the Yellow Rose property, where rich gold ore is said to have been found.

Discoveries of rich silver-lead ore in the new Cosgrove district, about eighteen miles northeast of Hawthorne, are attracting much interest, with prospectors flocking to the scene.

Elmer Cosgrove and wife are credited with the development of a strong vein of high-grade ore on their claims, with the ore body showing consistent improvement with depth. Rich material has also been found on adjoining locations. Work has not advanced sufficiently to fully determine merits of the strike, but indications are reported favorable for the making of an important camp.

Increase Shown in Deposits of Mexican Banks

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—An increase of 2,000,000 pesos in the deposits of Mexican banks in foreign banks is shown in the aggregate statement of Mexican banks September 31, as compared to that of August 31.

HUGE OUTLAY ON OIL FIELD

Development Costs of 1200 Acres Embraced in Signal Hill Area Estimated at $25,000,000

To the laymen it may seem a trifle expensive to say that $125,000,000 have been spent in the last eight years in the development of the geological uplift known as Signal Hill—an area not embracing more than 1200 acres, but that probably is a conservative estimate.

Last week the field rounded out 1000 oil wells on the active production list. While some of the wells cost much more than $100,000 each, a great many of them have cost fully $150,000, and scores have ranged between $125,000 and $150,000. No account is taken of the many outpost holes drilled in search of field extensions, especially toward the northwest. The cost of these would range well over $100,000 each.

In addition to the 1000 active wells on the hill, there are dozens of gasoline absorption plants, refineries, dehydrators, rectifiers, etc., and untold miles of pipe lines, together with quite a number of fire departments and extensive fire fighting equipment. It is considered doubtful if any similar area in the State has seen such a tremendous capital investment.

Second to this comes the Santa Fe Springs field which has 550 active producers. Their cost, as a group, has been considerably less, a great number of them having been drilled several years ago, when shallow depths prevailed and the initial cost was considerably less than $100,000 each, but the low average will doubtless be sharply overturned as a result of the deep-drilling campaign now going on there.

Santa Fe Springs now has 175 wells drilling, and most of these are going down to depths of between 6800 and 8800 feet, some going even deeper than 8000 feet. Such a drilling program is going to bring up the average cost per well to a high point. On the other hand Signal Hill has only sixty-six wells drilling, and while these will go to depths between 6400 and 7500 feet, it is considered doubtful that many will go as deep as 8000 feet, because the drillers apparently have struck bottom at Signal Hill, and they are not at all sure that they have gone through all of it up on the middle of Santa Fe Springs.

The Midway-Sunset field, which strings out for miles on miles, has 2153 active wells, but they are comparatively small producers. The Kern River field, likewise an area of many pumpers, has 1086 active wells. The Huntington Beach field has exactly the same number of active wells as Santa Fe Springs—550, while Torrance has 593, Inglewood has 227, and Fullerton has 370. In the whole State there are 10,690 wells producing oil. The largest number of producing oil wells that the State ever had was 11,383, in 1925.

OLD VIVIAN ON ACTIVE LIST AGAIN

Los Angeles Syndicate in Control of Property Near Oatman, Ariz.

OATMAN (Ariz.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—The famous old Vivian property again is active, having been taken over by a Los Angeles syndicate, under lease by Francis H. King, A. E. Place and other Coast mining men. Electric power has been wired over from Oatman, where is to be milling of the ores produced.

Work is being prosecuted on the Leland vein, one located by California soldiers from Fort Mohave as far back as 1862, when its outcroppings were found speckled with free gold. Rich ore was found along the vein till it faulted and there was abandonment of a mill that had been in profitable operation.

Announcement has been made that the Tom Reed mill will continue in operation during mine development work, in the sinking of the main shaft and prospecting over to the vein below the 950-foot level, to which depth a winze is in fine ore.

The Imperial Mining Company, a Coast incorporation, is reported to have struck a new vein in its work of development.

A new shaft is to be sunk to 500 feet on the property of the Del Rey Gold Mining Company, heretofore operated mainly through a tunnel. The ledge is stated to run from four to thirty feet in width and to sample $7.50 where tapped on the tunnel level. Joseph Walker is manager.

Old Dominion Held Deepest in Southwest

GLOBE (Ariz.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)— Old Dominion claims distinction as the deepest lode copper mine in the Southwest, operating on vein matter that remains profitable as low as 2800 feet, after work that has been constant since about 1878. Since the workings passed below the level of the bed of Pinal Creek, the mine has been a very wet one, the water lifted from all levels by powerful pumps and latterly sold for use in the Miami mills. On the 2400 a new and valuable area is being mined to the westward, out beyond the creek, where the company owns much ground that has almost no surface showings. Increasing difficulty is being known in mining, due to the water flow at high temperatures. The company no longer operates its smelter, shipping ore and concentrates to the Miami smelter.

Hope that tungsten soon will be a local product is based upon success said to have attended operation of a new type of amalgamating concentrator, the invention of John E. Hansen, who is backed by Kansas City capital. His machine has been installed at the O'Brien mill, in South Globe.

KERN FIELD OPERATIONS HOLDING UP

Seven New Projects in Various Parts of Area Start During Week

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Seven new holes have been added to the list of wells now being drilled in Kern county. Two are to be drilled on the Kern front. The General Petroleum Corporation will spud in its Wetmore No. 11 on Sec. 14, 28-27. The other Kern front well is the Pan-American Petroleum Company's, 653 feet south and 309 feet east from the northwest corner of the northeast quarter section on Sec. 22, 28-27.

North of the Poso Creek field, A. Bruce Frame is about ready to drill his Dominion No. 3 on Sec. 28, 26-28, the derrick having been erected 1520 feet south and 3760 feet east from the northwest sectional corner.

Drilling activities continue in the Sunset-Maricopa area, the latest hole to be started being the North American Oil Consolidated's Lincoln No. 2 on Sec. 18, 11-23.

In the Midway field, the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company is ready to spud in its No. 75 well on Sec. 8, 32-24, the site being 2646 feet north and 885 feet west from the southeast sectional corner.

The Tannehill Oil Company is spudding in its No. 25, 1200 feet south and 400 feet east from the northwest corner of Sec. 34, 12-25, in the Hovey Hills area.

The Elbe Oil Land Development Company has taken out a permit for its Freeman No. 5 well in the Round Mountain field, and will drill 189 feet north and 1633 feet east from the southwest corner of Sec. 20, 28-29.

OPERATIONS RESUMED AT RAY SILVER

Noted Mine in Arizona Active Again Under New Phelps Dodge Control

RAY (Ariz.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive) The noted Ray Silver Lead property, three miles from this camp, again is being worked, taken over by Phelps Dodge interests. Red carbonate ore, running about 50 per cent lead, with values also in silver, are being packed over a mountain, for shipment hence by rail to the Phelps Dodge lead stack at Douglas, there welcomed as fluxing material for the galenas of the border mines.

Ray Silver Lead has been worked for years, mainly under leases, with little regard for systematic development of its great mineral dyke. Local miners believe the ores merely a capping for a copper body, following the geological history of the section.

Ray Consolidated steadily is sending to its Hayden mill about 10,000 tons of ore a day, averaging from 1.25 to 1.40 per cent copper, and is making money, even with such low values, this due to a system of rare economy in mining, first developed under Louis Cates, now with the Central Nevada Consolidated organization, at Salt Lake City. R. W. Thomas is manager at the present time. In addition to current received from the Hayden works, the company is receiving power from the Coolidge Dam, with a maximum contract for 5500 kilowatts.

Mexican Mine Production in 1929 Decreases

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Figures published by Boletin Financiero, leading Mexican financial publication, show that production of all important minerals in Mexico showed a decline during the first eight months of 1929, as compared with the corresponding period in 1928.

The figures follow: Gold, 1812 kilos in 1928, 1596 kilos in 1929; silver, 281,231 kilos in 1928, 251,904 kilos in 1929; lead, 19,707,185 kilos in 1928, 18,752,303 kilos in 1929; copper, 5,458,804 kilos in 1928, 4,836,714 kilos in 1929; zinc, 13,478,923 kilos in 1928, 11,299,359 kilos in 1929; mercury, 7285 kilos in 1928, 6819 kilos in 1929.

PROMISE OF DRY HOLE SURPRISES

Operators Get New Lesson in Palisades Field

Project Develops Oil After Being Suspended

Proves Lack of Showings Not Always Conclusive

Oil operators in Southern California have learned recently that though a well which shows symptoms of being a dry hole, while drilling may, if allowed to stand idle long enough, eventually come in unassisted and become a steady producer.

Such has been the experience of the Lincoln Drilling Company. Several months ago, this company leased seventy acres one-half mile west of the old Palisades field just west of Santa Barbara and announced its intention to seek an extension of the field discovered by the Olympic Oil and Refining Company.

The latter drilled Lomas No. 1 six months ago and developed a 1500-barrel producer which later sanded up and now is pumping approximately 150 barrels of 24 deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 2297 feet.

Lincoln Drilling is said to have sprayed the drill of its Medcliff No. 1 with a bottle of real champagne, and to have spudded in and drilled to 2400 feet. According to officials of the company no real oil sand ever was found, while at the bottom a wet, gray sand was penetrated. Operations were suspended and indications were then that no further effort would be made to test out that area.

The other day one of the officials of Lincoln Drilling visited the location of Medcliff No. 1 to see that the drilling equipment and other material about the place was unmolested. Making a closer investigation he discovered that the hole was filled with oil. After cleaning out to bottom and allowing it to flow, it was found that the well was good for at least fifty barrels of 15-deg. gravity oil per day, with a slight cut.

In support of the belief that more oil may be obtained when the well is reopened, a 500-barrel storage tank now is under construction and the output will be taken by the Seaside Oil Company.

Lincoln Drilling does not plan to prospect further on the seventy-acre lease, at this time, but has announced that something may be done early next year. Another seventy-acre lease belonging to the same operator is along the coast west of Santa Barbara, and has yet to be prospected.

A month ago the Athens No. 8, originally drilled by the Julian Petroleum Corporation in the old Athens field, blew out suddenly after standing idle for years, and put out approximately 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day from a depth of 4500 feet. This project had been technically abandoned in January, 1926, although final papers were never issued by the State Mining Bureau. Since this unexpected blowout, however, the Athens No. 8 has been killed, plugged at bottom, and officially abandoned.

Oil Search to be Renewed in Phoenix Area

PHOENIX, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Still another effort is to be made to find oil in this locality. Two drilling rigs are on the way here from Oklahoma, according to F. B. Becker, who states that he will drill on land owned by Aliasio Carrera, about five miles east of this city, at a point where a hard sandstone conglomerate formation extends down as far as the channel of Salt River.

To the northward are sandstone buttes, on the Papago Saguaro National Park, north of which three or more attempts have been made toward finding oil. There is agreement that geological conditions favor but no material depth ever has been attained in drilling. Becker's first well is to start with a diameter of thirty inches.

MINERS IN NORTHERN CALIFORNIA ORGANIZE

With a membership of 125 mine operators and prospectors, the Northern California Mining Association representing Trinity, Siskiyou and Shasta counties now becomes the Northern California chapter of the Mining Association of California as a result of action taken at the annual meeting of that body last Saturday. That swells the membership of the State body to well over 300 members.

EASTERN LEA IN SPOTLIGHT

Wildcatting Operations of Major Concerns Most Active in New Mexico County History

ARTESIA (N. M.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Eastern Lea county is now getting the heaviest play in its history from the major oil companies. Wildcatting operations extend north from Jal in the southeastern portion of the county toward Hobbs, forty-two miles distant, and northwest to eighteen tests, the majority of these being along the eastern edge of the ward Lea, thirty-five miles away. The major operators are drilling county in Township 18 and 19, Range 38.

The greater portion of the operations in eastern Lea county are on government land. There is a large area checkerboarded in this vicinity with from 5 to 7 per cent of it owned in fee. The State of New Mexico given leases on approximately 6,000,000 acres for oil and gas development.

A list of operations in these areas include the Cranfill & Reynolds State 3-B on Section 2, 21-33; Cranfill & Reynolds, 1-C on Sec. 16, 23-36; Empire Gas and Fuel Company Lindley No. 1 on Sec. 14, 25-36; Fisher-Lawree-Penn, Inc., on Sec. 11, 18-36; Humble Oil and Refining Company, Lindley No. 2, on Sec. 13, 25-36; Midwest Oil and Refining Company, Lindley No. 2, on Sec. 10, 9-38; Midwest's Terry No. 13, on Sec. 10, 19-38; Ohio Oil Company, State No. 1, on Sec. 30, 18-38; Shell Petroleum Company, McKinley No. 1, on Sec. 19, 18-38; Shell Petroleum Company, Thorpe No. 1, on Sec. 10, 19-38; Snowden & McSweeney, State No. 1, on Sec. 1, 21-33; Sun Oil Company, McKinley No. 1, on Sec. 5, 19-38; Texas Production Company, State 1-A, on Sec. 2, 21-33; Texas Production Company, State No. 2-A, on Sec. 2, 21-33; Midwest Oil and Refining Company, Wright No. 6, on Sec. 6, 14-38; Harrison et al, State No. 1, on Sec. 35, 18-38; Continental Oil Company, Sholes No. 2, on Sec. 13, 25-36; Continental Oil Company, State No. 2, on Sec. 1, 21-33.

LEA DISTRICT LEADS

According to field reports the Lea district leads the county in production. During October this district produced slightly under 100,000 barrels of oil. The Cranfill & Reynolds State No. 1 well led with approximately 59,000 barrels, making slightly under a 2000-barrel daily average for the month. There are only three wells in this area connected with the pipe line. The Lynch No. 1 of the Texas Production Company on Sec. 34, 20-34, is the second largest producing well, making an approximate average of 1000 barrels daily.

GETTY PRODUCERS

Two wells in the Getty area of Eastern Eddy county are now undergoing production tests. So far the properties of the Getty Oil Company have been the most prolific of any shallow area yet uncovered in the State. The last well to be drilled in that sector, is Dooley No. 5 of the Getty Oil Company, on Sec. 23, 20-29. It has produced an average of 1400 barrels daily from a depth of 1378 feet.

The Rawson No. 1 of the same company on Sec. 13, 20-29, has averaged slightly over 200 barrels daily. These two wells have filled a new 80,000-barrel storage tank half full of oil. Arrangements have been made to drill Dooley No. 5 two feet deeper. It is understood that the company plans to drill another test west of the Dooley No. 5 and should this test come up to expectations, the company will build a refinery.

Operators in the Artesia field are discussing means of boosting the production by employing either the gas or air lift method. Several operators have indicated that they will install one of these methods as soon as market conditions justify an increase in the output of crude.

New Producer at Poso Creek Added by Union

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—The Union Oil Company has completed it S. & M. No. 7 well on Sec. 28, 27-28 in the Poso Creek field and has shut in the production. The well was finished at 1681 feet with the casing cemented at 1594 feet.

Union has three other wells on the same section, one of which is being drilled. It is Tribe No. 6, down nearly 1700 feet. Rigging up is going ahead on Tribe No. 8, and location has been staked for Tribe No. 9.

Another completion is the Shell Oil Company Glide No. 2 on Sec. 15, 27-28. This well is now going on the pump after being drilled to 1499 feet.

A. Bruce Frame is rigging up his Dominion No. 1 on Sec. 28, 26-28 and will spud in soon.

MINE SHAFT TO HAVE ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

CHLORIDE (Ariz.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Electric shaft equipment is being installed by the Chloride Consolidated Mines Company, under direction of Horace Armianaw. The corporation now controls the well-known and deeply developed Big Tennessee property here.

MINE PLANS FOR LARGER OPERATIONS

Equipment on Surface of Greene-Cananea to be Put in Shape

CANANEA (Son.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Greene-Cananea, locally known as Cananea Consolidated Copper Company, is bringing all its surface equipment and structures up to the best of condition, in preparation for greater activity. In charge is Clyde E. Weed, recently named as general manager.

While attention is being focused largely on the phenomenal Colorado ore body, near the Capote and Veta Grande mines, a three-compartment shaft is to be sunk on the company's Sonora Hill area, while there is to be development also of the Cananea-Duluth ground. The corporation owns an enormous mineralized area, covering much of the Cananea Mountains, with ore bodies undeveloped as far as twelve miles from the headquarters camp.

Greene-Cananea Extension, a Bisbee incorporation, is to resume development of property between the holdings of the North Cananea and Butte-Cananea companies.

Completion is announced of a fifty-ton flotation unit on the Silver Plume property of the Minaret Consolidated Mines Company, a Los Angeles incorporation. Formal opening has been scheduled on arrival of a carload of Coast stockholders.

Two Projects in Maricopa Field Near Completion

MARICOPA, Nov. 24. (Exclusive) The Doyle Petroleum Company is nearing production in two Maricopa Flat wells and has the rig up and ready to spud in another.

On Sec. 8, 11-23, the drilling crew topped the oil sand in Son-Crail No. 1 at 3439 feet. A water shut-off test is being made in Weir No. 3 hole on the same section. The latter is down 3600 feet with casing cemented at 3591 feet. Weir No. 4 is almost ready to be spudded in.

Doyle is now planning to drill a wildcat well in the Shale Hills. The site has been selected 250 feet south and 250 feet east from the center of Sec. 14, 27-18. This well is about five miles from the Day Oil Company's No. 1-A well on Sec. 1, 27-28, which is temporarily inactive at 1505 feet.

Drilling Slow at Tupman Test

TUPMAN, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Less than 200 feet of hole a month is expected to be made from now on in drilling of the Standard Oil Company's deep test in the Elk Hills on Sec. 31, 30-23.

The crew is checking the degree of incline in the hole to ascertain if the well is straight. It has already been drilled to a depth of nearly 8175 feet. Blue shale formation predominates. Drilling equipment at present consists of the "macaroni string," with two and one-half-inch drill stem.

Hoover . . the Market and Thanksgiving . .

IT should be a real Thanksgiving this year. American business has withstood the greatest market upheaval in history, and has come through sounder, and with brighter prospects than ever. In Washington, our president is working with business leaders to insure continuance of this great prosperity.

Thus, on the basis of a normal market, do we come to another season of Thanksgiving. Let us be truly thankful that our nation's business is sound, and that for a leader we have a man worthy of the task.

To the Stockholders of the Sun Realty Company

What is the matter with the quotation on Sun Realty common stock?

In our opinion it is simply a lack of appreciation of the value of the stock on the part of the present stockholders.

Sun Realty stock has just been allowed to remain dormant because no particular brokerage house took an interest in it and because attention has not been called to its intrinsic merit and tremendous potential possibilities.

In our opinion Sun Realty common stock should be selling at $6.00 or $7.00 per share and we believe it will reach that price in the very near future.

We believe that it will advance in price because we are calling this stock to the attention of our customers and because we are advertising it to the investors throughout Southern California, and because we are interesting other brokers, who, in turn, will call it to the attention of their customers.

It seems unnecessary to remind you of the wonderful progress made by your company in the short years of its existence. Do you realize, however, just what the management of the San Realty Company has accomplished during the past four or five years, while real estate conditions in Los Angeles have been considered quiet by many authorities? Sun Realty has not been quiet. On the contrary, it has gone ahead putting up one magnificent building after another, adding to its income, and, as you know, has built up a surplus until at present the actual book value of the stock is approximately $10.00 per share.

With the recent completion of the Sun Realty Building at Seventh and Hill Streets, during the past year, greatly increased income for the company, while the Roosevelt Building—the largest office building in Los Angeles—and but about three years old—is now approximately 100% filled.

We have prepared a little booklet and treatise on Sun Realty Company which we would be glad to send you if you would like a copy. In the meantime we believe it a particularly opportune moment for you to add to your holdings while you can obtain the stock at anything like present quotations. At the time this is written, stock can be bought on the Los Angeles Exchange at around $3.00 per share. We believe it to be the best buy on the Los Angeles Exchange today. We recommend that you not only hold on to every share that you now own, but that you increase your holdings now.

You can, of course, buy through your own broker, although we would naturally be pleased to execute your order at the market.

KINGMAN MINING ACTIVITIES TOLD

Move Reported for Custom Milling Plant

New Find in Yucca Tungsten Estate Promising

Feldspar Consolidated Plans for Expansion

KINGMAN (Ariz.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—A local movement has started for establishment here of a custom milling plant, capable of giving selective flotation concentration to the ores of the county's mines. In this connection much stress is placed on the cheap hydro-electric power expected from the Boulder Canyon works.

A new three-foot vein has been cut by the Boriana company in its Yucca, tungsten property, near Yucca, west of Kingman. Sampling of the ore developed already is stated to show that the company has all the material that will be needed for years to come, and of profitable grade. The organization uses its own product in a coast manufactory, selling to steel works. A camp has been established and all needed surface equipment has been installed.

A mill, with capacity for 2000 tons a month, is to be established in Kingman by the Feldspar Consolidated Company, which has deposits of the material at Stockton Hill. This decision followed a visit here of H. P. Margerum and R. W. Lawson, president and manager of the company. Raw material now is being shipped to Los Angeles grinding mills.

A high percentage of separation has been known in a small mill operated on A. Kempf property in the Chemehuevis Mountains, with recovery of about 24 per cent lead, five ounces gold and twenty-four ounces silver.

Los Angeles financial interests are reported to have taken over the Great Bend Mining Company, formerly controlled by John C. Peyes.

The Los Angeles Exploration and Metals Company, Ltd., now is owner of an extensive copper property near Fredonia and the Utah line, one managed by J. Van Daam of Kanab, Utah. Headquarters are in Los Angeles.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimen. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Three Specimens

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—Question: I am sending under separate cover two samples of rock from north of Calico and would be pleased if you would test them for minerals. In panning sample No. 2 I find a black mineral of some kind which the magnet will not pick up. I shall also send you a sample which I shall mark No. 3, which I take to be gypsum, but am not sure. M. P. S.

Answer: No. 1 is a multicolored mixture of altered lime carbonate; available potash none; hematite and black titaniferous iron found more or less present. No. 2 is probably a grayish, partly altered Rhyolite carrying some titaniferous iron (ilmenite,) iron oxides, and water soluble potash absent. No. 3 is not Gypsum; it is crystallized lime carbonate (Calcite,) but it is not the high grade mineral known as clear, transparent "Iceland Spar".

Garnet and Magnetite

POMONA, Nov. 5.—Q.: The enclosed sample comes from San Bernardino county, southeast of Victorville. What is it? It fuses easily and leaves a dark substance, and while hot runs like lead. I also enclose, with the sample, a piece of the fused mineral referred to. H.

A.: The sample, at sight, resembles a rare mineral, but, when coming down to chemical analysis, it shows, in reactions, that it is composed of massive iron-aluminum garnet mixed with magnetic iron in the fracture seams of the specimen. The fused sample is simply a mixture of garnet, iron oxides, and it, too, is slightly magnetic.

Five Samples

PIOCHE (Nev.) Nov. 6.—Q.: Am sending five samples of rock from northern Lincoln county Nevada, which I would appreciate a qualitative analyses upon. The white specimen I thought might be Pollucite (?). M.

A.: Sample No. 1 is altered manganese silicate containing amygdaloidal, altered chalcedony. No. 2 is altered Clinochlore (chlorite in part,) and aluminum-magnesium silicate present. No. 3 is not radioactive; it carries no copper phosphate; it is in part green sand with copper in low percentage. No. 4 is of quartz, and chalcedony (also quartz,) hydrous iron peroxide present and similar ore might assay gold. No. 5 is barytocalcite, but, it is chiefly lime carbonate. The pulp of Nos. 2 and 4 indicate ores of uranium near the locality. For gold and silver please consult assayers.

Two Samples

JOHANNESBURG, Nov. 7.—Q.: I am sending you two samples for determination and I thank you for your courtesy. Your In the Earth department is doing a wonderful work for the prospector! Mrs. W.

A.: Thank you for encouraging words! No. 1 is the rock Garnetyte (garnet rock) and the grayish bright colored matter present is garnet of no gem value. No. 2 seems to be from another correspondent—"M. L. R." of your town and requests that it should be tested for silver, gold, and copper; this specimen is altered iron silicate which is also known as "Rosin Rock" by the mining boys in the hills. Free gold absent, and no copper present.

Free Gold Absent

WHITTIER, Nov. 7.—Q.: I am sending you piece of rock to be assayed for white gold and silver. The sample was taken from north of Mancos, Colorado. P.

A.: The sample carries no flake platinum. It reacts for manganese, lime carbonate, microscopic pyrite in low percentage, and for silver values you are politely referred to assayers.

Uranium Absent

CALEXICO, Nov. 8.—Q.: Enclosed find small sample of ledge matter I found in the Palm Spring locality. I am interested to know if it carries ores of Radium. Kindly advise and send me bill for any charges. H.

A.: This department of The Times makes no charges to those seeking free analyses on ores, earths, and minerals. The two specimens are not radioactive minerals. Both carry manganese, iron oxides, low-grade amorphous graphite, and represent doubtful commercial values.

Three Samples

CORONA, Nov. 9.—Q.: The three samples I am sending you were found in the hills near Corona. Please classify them for me. Do they contain any valuable minerals? Thanking you for past favors. S.

A.: No. 1 carries traces of pyrite and arsenopyrite. No. 2 is low-grade aluminum silicate probably stained with smalt-blue Dumortierite, (aluminum silicate.) No. 3 seems to be amygdaloidal lava; reacting for iron and aluminum and further on this quantitative work is called for.

Two Samples

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—Q.: Have been a subscriber to The Times since 1911 and request that you give me a report on the inclosed samples of rock found in San Bernardino county. Thanking you for your kindness. M.

A.: The samples in sack are mixtures of feldspar, quartz, and mica; in part pegmatite. The specimen in pasteboard box is altered conglomerate rock. There is no available (water soluble) potash in either sample.

Two Specimens

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 11.—Q.: Please find under separate cover two samples which were picked up in the Santa Ana Canyon northwest from the city of Santa Ana. Please report upon them. K.

A.: The reddish samples are of jasper-iron and not of gem value. The yellow matter in one of the two jaspery specimens is limonite. The other specimen is altered sandstone conglomerate, probably of no commercial value.

Of Doubtful Value

NILAND, Nov. 11.—Q.: Am sending under separate cover sack containing five samples of mineral. Please make qualitive analyses thereon and publish results in your In the Earth Column. Sample No. 1—what is the residue besides iron? No. 2, is this chrysotile or of the Serpentine group, from the Chocolate Range. Is not this piece of fine-grained white rock, one of the "spark plug" minerals? No. 4 seems to contain sulphides, and probably contains some metal that mercury takes up. Hoping I may hear from you through your Monday In the Earth column, it being my favorite newspaper enjoyment, so never miss it. Thanking you for all past favors. E.

A.: Sample No. 1 carries two members of the pyrite group—microscopic pyrite and microscopic marcasite. No. 2 reacts as altered Serpentine and shows a nest of "peacock iron." No. 3 appears to be a whitish mixture of Tremolite (hornblende) and some sericite; it reacts for aluminum silicalcite also. No. 4 is a radiated glassy actinolite. Flake platinum is absent; some titaniferous iron present with micaceous iron. Mercury "sickens" from the pulp of this mixture. No. 5 is a low-grade mixture of iron, manganese, and some sulphur anhydride found. No. 3 comes close to low-grade Cyanite and Andalusite in chemical reactions. As received the samples were found in broken-open envelopes, numbered 1, 4 and 5, and too small, in quantity for satisfactory results.

A DEPRESSION-PROOF BUSINESS

PEOPLE do not drink less water when the markets are down nor are fire hydrants shut off when business declines. Household demands, fire control and sanitary requirements for water obviously are not affected by business reaction.

80 per cent of water company revenue is derived from domestic consumption.

Community Water System supplies more than 100 cities and towns throughout this country. The principal properties are within the commuting areas of New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. As these cities grow, the income of this company grows.

The simple financial structure consists of Bonds, Preferred and Common Stocks. There are no warrants or issues convertible into Common Stock. More than 90 per cent of the funded debt matures after 1946.

The Common Stock is Listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange and the New York Curb Exchange

High Yield Stocks Are Attracting Buyers

After the tumbling market only so recently experienced, buyers of securities are seeking principally high-grade dividend-paying stocks, or those stocks selling out of line in comparison with their present and estimated earnings.

We have made a careful selection of a dozen such stocks, showing yields from 5 to 15 per cent, and have prepared a brief digest of these 12 stocks. This digest shows market price and range, dividends and earnings and gives other essential data.

The turn for the better in the stock market is now apparent. Buyers at present prices should reap a substantial reward both in a much enhanced return on their money and by increased prices on their holdings.

We shall be pleased to mail this digest to those interested. Write for it, or call in person at our offices.

For your convenience we shall remain open till 9 P.M. Monday and Tuesday this week.

You may arrange to make purchases from 5 shares upward on our Partial Payment Plan of 20 Per Cent Down.

Negro Slayer's Career Short

MADISONVILLE (Ky.) Nov. 24. (AP)—Chief of Police John N. Ashby, 65 years of age, was shot and killed here today by Houston Cooksey, negro, and Cooksey in turn was shot and killed by members of a posse who trailed him to his home.

Chief Ashby, a veteran police officer, had received a report from residents of a negro district that two negroes had stopped a car and searched three white youths and were walking up and down the street flourishing guns, and was killed when he and a patrolman answered the call.

Mad Radio Man Taken From Ship

VALETTA (Malta) Nov. 24. (AP)—The wireless operator on the British steamer Baron Elcho, who started four destroyers rushing to his aid when he sent out S.O.S. calls last Thursday saying an attempt was being made to murder him, has been removed in custody to the destroyer Witch.

The master of the Baron Elcho said the operator still maintains everybody was trying to poison him. He was found last night hiding in a ventilator.

The Witch with the three other destroyers that answered the S.O.S. calls headed back to Malta.

YALE FENCE BACK FROM CAMBRIDGE

Treasured Relic Stolen for Showing at Banquet of Harvard Lampoon

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Nov. 24. (AP) The famous fence, Yale's treasured relic of by-gone days, is back in its home city today. Missing since the day of the Yale-Princeton game, the fence was shipped from Cambridge, Mass., after its appearance at a banquet of the Harvard Lampoon Friday night, and arrived at the local office of the railway express agency early today.

The bulky package containing the three-rail fence was consigned to the photographer's studio from where it was stolen.

The shipper of the fence, according to the tag attached to the package, was "Eric Gustafson." A person using several variations of this name flooded the Yale Daily News after the mystifying disappearance of the fence with telegrams containing "clews" as to the whereabouts of the relic.

A value of $4000 was placed on the fence by its shippers.

HEAVY GALE LEAVES RUIN IN PORTUGAL

Troops Rush to Scene of Destruction as Floods Add Horror to Situation

LISBON (Portugal) Nov. 24. (AP)—Troops from neighboring districts tonight were hurried to the northeast coast where a fierce Atlantic gale is reported to have done great damage.

Torrential rains and floods hit the coast city of Vienna Do Castello. At the near-by town of Arcos Valle De Vez the Limia River burst its banks, swept away bridges, uprooted trees and carried off cattle. The populace fled in panic before the swirling waters. Early reports described peasants marooned on cottage roofs screaming for help.

Enormous damage was done to crops and two factories were blown down. The local power station was submerged and the town plunged in complete darkness, making the rescue work more difficult.

Campaign Begun for Monument to GoodWill Flyer

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—A campaign has been launched by El Universal, Mexico City newspaper, to raise funds by popular subscription for a monument to the memory of Emilio Carranza, Mexican good-will flyer to the United States, who was killed July 13, 1928, at Mt. Holyoke, N. J.

If possible, the first stone of the monument will form a part of the program of Mexican Aviation Week here December 10 to 16.

ALFALFA CROP GOOD

Wedding Date of Rich Indian Remains Secret

PARIS, Nov. 24. (AP)—Aga Khan, wealthy Indian sportsman whose approaching marriage to Marcelle Carron, a comparatively poor young French girl, has attracted wide attention, will not have to have the banns published. He has been given dispensation by the French State's Attorney, for he is ranked as a sovereign, because of being religious chief and head of the Ismailis, the dominant branch of Mohammedanism in India.

His wedding date, therefore, is his secret.

Portland Loses Lumber Leader

PORTLAND, Nov. 24. (AP)—O. M. Clark, 78 years of age, for many years identified with the lumber industry and business life of the Pacific Northwest, died in a hospital here today after a short illness.

In addition to being president of the Clark-Wilson Lumber Company and the Portland-Southwestern Railway, he served as vice-president of the Willamette Valley Lumber Company and the Ochoco Timber Company. He was twice elected president of the Portland Chamber of Commerce and was a member of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

W. J. Burns in Better Health

SARASOTA (Fla.) Nov. 24. (AP)—William J. Burns, former head of the United States Secret Service, was reported much improved at his home here today.

His physicians said today that Mr. Burns has been suffering from ptomaine poisoning and that he is not in a serious condition. He has been living here for three years.

Dogs Guarding Mystery Car

LONDON, Nov. 24 (Exclusive)—Fourteen Alsatian wolf-hounds, which are fastened by rings to long wires giving each dog a 100-yard range of activity, are guarding the mystery car which Capt. Malcolm Campbell is building in a little town in the quietest part of Surrey. Campbell expects to reach 300 miles an hour in his new machine.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

POR EL PROFESOR RAMON GUERRERO

En el primer párrafo de mi Plática anterior dice "el abuelito enfermo", en vez de "al abuelito enfermo".

Doña Benita le cuenta al abuelito lo siguiente: "Dicen que va a venir un rey de las Indias a comprarla (la ermita); con los castaños de la cerca y el río que pasa junto a las tapias . . ."

Las voces "cerca" y "tapia" tienen significación análoga, si bien "cerca" debe considerarse como el término genérico, y "tapia" como el que denota una de tantas especies de cercas. Hay en español una gran variedad de voces para designar las construcciones más o menos ligeras que en inglés llevan los nombres de "fence", "hedge", "barrier", "inclosure wall", etc. Voy a pasar en revista las principales, señalando las que son sinónimas entre sí, y marcando los caracteres específicos que corresponden a algunas de ellas.

"Cerca", que es, según dejo dicho, el término genérico, es cualquier construcción que se levanta a lo largo de una línea determinada para servir de reparo o resguardo a un terreno o propiedad raíz cualquiera, y separarlo de los limítrofes. Dentro de una misma propiedad se levantan también cercas para hacer en ella divisiones. Las cercas se construyen de formas y materiales muy variados, y de allí que tengan denominaciones distintas.

Haremos observar desde luego que las divisiones de esta clase que se levantan en las heredades o haciendas de campo llevan el nombre, ya de "cercas", ya de "setos". Dase el de "cercas" a las que se construyen con filas de postes o pies derechos, generalmente de madera, hincados o empotrados en el terreno a cinco o seis metros uno de otro, y unidos entre sí, sea por otros postes o tablas, sea por hiladas de alambre galvanizado liso, o alambre espino o de púas. En regiones donde la madera abunda se ven cercas hechas de series de postes horizontales colocados uno arriba de otro. Los postes de dos series consecutivas forman ángulo y tienen sus cabezas trabadas entre sí (las cabezas de los postes de una serie con las de los postes de la serie siguiente). Estas cercas forman una línea quebrada sobre el terreno. En comarcas de Hispanoamérica donde abunda la piedra, se construyen en los predios rústicos largas cercas de piedra suelta, acomodada a mano de modo que trabe bien y quede firme. En muchos países de América se emplean indistintamente las voces "cerca" y "cerco", y es seguro que cosa igual ocurre en algunas partes de España, pues el Diccionario de la Academia Española, al definir la palabra "vallado", nos dice: "Cerco que se levanta y forma de tierra apisonada, etc."

Los "setos" (hedges) son cercas formadas con ramas secas entrelazadas (setos muertos), o con ramas entrelazadas de plantas vivas (setos vivos; "quick-hedges", en inglés). Para hacer un seto muerto se hincan, clavan o introducen en el suelo pies derechos a 50 o 60 centímetros de intervalo; después se entrelazan con ramas medias secas, pero aún flexibles, de encina, castaño, sauce o aliso, de dos a tres metros de longitud, de modo que la parte gruesa de dichas ramas quede en la superior del seto. En las comarcas donde abundan las cañas se forman cercas con los tallos de dichas plantas. Se les escoge de metro y medio a dos metros de largo, y se plantan uno al lado de otro en una zanja cavada con tal fin. Luego se atan las cañas verticales con otras horizontales amarradas a las primeras con mimbres o alambres.

Los setos vivos están formados por arbustos o arbolillos en estado de vegetación, y si han de servir para defensa, es bueno hacerlos de plantas espinosas de follaje y ramaje muy tupidos, como el espino albar, el espino negro, la aliaga, el acebo, el enebro, etc.

Dase el nombre de "tapia" a cada uno de los trozos de pared de cerca, que de una sola vez se hacen con tierra amasada y apisonada. Llámase también tapia toda la pared formada de tapias. "Tapial" es el molde de madera en que se echa la mezcla o mortero de tierra para hacer la tapia. Suele también darse el nombre de tapial a la tapia misma. Alrededor de los huertos y jardines públicos y privados se construyen a veces costosas tapias de fábrica o de hormigón, en vez de tierra, las que se designan más propiamente con el nombre de muros o paredes de cerca.

"Valla" es una línea formada de estacas hincadas en el suelo, o de tablas unidas, para cerrar algún sitio o señalarlo. Se las ve mucho en las ciudades, pues se levantan para defender los sitios donde se está haciendo alguna obra, impidiendo la libre entrada del público. En las estaciones de ferrocarril, fábricas, etc., sirven para impedir que la gente entre a sitios donde estorba o corre peligro. En lo interior de una ciudad, las vías de ferrocarril van a veces entre dos vallas. El término "vallado", que es sinónimo de valla, por más que el vallado se hace a veces de tierra apisonada, se aplica más bien a construcciones de esa clase hechas en el campo.

"Barda" es una cubierta de sarmientos, paja, espinos o broza, que se pone, asegurada con tierra o piedras, sobre las tapias de los corrales, huertas y heredades para su resguardo. En Aragón, es un seto de espinos. "Bardal" es sinónimo de barda, en la citada acepción. "Estacadas" o "empalizadas" (stockades, palisades) son defensas o reparos hechos con fuertes estacas clavadas en tierra. Se emplean, sobre todo, en obras de fortificación. "Barrera" o "talanquera" es la valla que se construye alrededor del redondel de las plazas de toros. Indague el estudiante lo que significan las locuciones figuradas, "Hablar desde la talanquera"; "Ver desde talanquera".

REOPENING PLANNED OF LOST HORSE GOLD

The Lost Horse M. & M. Company, T. C. Ryan, president, owning a developed gold mine fourteen miles out of Palm Springs, in Riverside county, and having a past gold production of several hundred thousand dollars, is to be placed in operation again in the near future, according to Mr. Ryan, who states that property is equipped with a stamp mill which is to be rehabilitated for active service.

UNITED VERDE'S CHIEF AT MINE

C. A. Clark Visits Property in Jerome District

New Plans for Development Under Inspection

Improvement Program Calls for Large Outlay

JEROME (Ariz.) Nov. 24. (Exclusive)—Charles Clark, president of the United Verde Copper Company, has been spending a week here, inspecting the mine and passing on plans that involve expenditure of $2,000,000 within the next couple of years. The main work will be a 3000-foot shaft, its collar to be near the railroad station on the open 300-foot level.

Ore will continue to be hoisted only to the 1000-foot level, there transferred to trains running to the crusher, through the Hopewell tunnel. There is to be abandonment of the material and ore shafts, No. 5 and No. 6, with hoists on the 1000-foot level, this due to caving and moving ground, following an extensive mine fire last spring.

All work will be done through the new shaft, with a powerful surface hoist to be erected. Ore production is to be stopped for awhile above the 1200-foot level, from which moving ground is noted up to the open cut on the 300 foot level.

To make place for the hoist and the shaft operations, it will be necessary to move about 500,000 tons of material in the steam shovel dumps including much waste that slid into the big pit. In the meantime the great property will be operated with the usual output.

It is asserted that drilling has not found bottom to its chalcopyrite ores, while it includes a vast amount of attractive, though unproven ground, especially in the section that stretches toward Walnut Canyon, back of Jerome, along the South Haynes fault.

Calculations Made Simple by New Slide Rule

COLUMBIA (Mo.) Nov. 24. (AP)—The electrical engineer's calculations have been simplified by a log-log vector slide-rule invented by Prof. M. P. Weinbach of the University of Missouri.

His device, which includes features of ordinary slide-rules and adds the opportunity to figure vector quantities, makes it possible rapidly to ascertain the activity of electric current in time and distance.

Although the rule is designed for general use, it is particularly adapted for the electrical engineer, with trigonometric and hyperbolic scales permitting easy conversion of vector quantities from one mathematical form to another.

Sixteen separate operations by ordinary calculation, coupled with references to books of functions which aid orthodox slide-rule operations, can be done with three movements in as many seconds on Prof Weinbach's rule.

New Blood Test Developed in United States

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Nov. 24. (AP) Reports of the health committee of the League of Nations rate as superior to the famous Wasserman test a blood-disease test developed by Dr. R. L. Kahn, youthful director of the laboratories of the University of Michigan Hospital.

The report serves to emphasize the rapid advance of the new world scientists in medicine.

A decade or two ago most discoveries came from Europe. Now America has the Park diphtheria immunization, the Dick scarlet-fever susceptibility test, the Minot-Murphy liver treatment of pernicious anemia, the vitamin and nutrition work of Mendel, McCollum and Steenbock, and the co-operative study of tuberculosis led by Dr. Charles White of Washington.

Banting of Canada developed the insulin treatment for diabetes.

Mystery Metal Available for Motor Cylinders

PARIS, Nov. 24. (AP)—Nitruated steel, called the "mystery metal" a short time ago, is available now for motor cylinders.

The maker of one of the finest French cars started using the new steel a year ago in car and aviation motors and in reports to the Academy of Sciences affirmed oil consumption was reduced to a fifth or tenth of normal and wear became negligible.

The real appeal of the steel-lined motor is that no running-in is said to be necessary and it remains a tight, high-compression engine.

UNIQUE MINING VENTURE PENDS

Healdsburg Sulphur Deposit to be Worked by Steam From Geysers

The great sulphur deposit of the Geysers Development Company, fifteen miles northwest of Healdsburg is to be mined with steam from the geysers as the source of power.

It is estimated that more than 1,000,000 tons of material running 80 per cent sulphur is exposed on the surface and can be mined at a cost not exceeding $3.50 a ton. John D. Grant is president of the company and C. Crowley of Los Angeles is engineer.

SILENT-FILMS STAR RETURNS AS TALKER

Dorothy Dalton

Dorothy Dalton is back in Hollywood again. The same "dimpled Dorothy" who gained international fame a decade ago in the silent drama is back to pick up the threads again but this time for the spoken screen.

At the height of her career and one of the highest-paid actresses on the screen, Miss Dalton deserted Hollywood to star in Morris Gest's spectacle, "Aphrodite," in New York. Then she became the wife of Arthur Hammerstein, son of the lat. Oscar Hammerstein, and gave up her professional career.

Her marriage to Hammerstein, however, proves to be the indirect result of her return to the screen. She persuaded her husband to accept a contract from Joseph M. Schenck, president and chairman of the board of directors of United Artists, to come here to link his producing talents with talking pictures.

Then Hammerstein got the consent of his wife to accompany him to Hollywood to launch a new career in talking pictures as a member of the all-star cast of a musical color production, "Bride 66," that Hammerstein will make for United Artists.

"We had to come back to California to be with our New York friends," said Miss Dalton as she stepped from a transcontinental train. "They all seem to be out here now, making or appearing in talking pictures. Broadway is moving to Hollywood, and I am joining the procession. I suppose I shall find everything changed in the studios, but I'm extremely happy to be back and can hardly wait for my first talkie to start."

It was announced yesterday that Rudolph Friml, composer, and Reginold Hammerstein, a nephew, are due in Hollywood to help prepare for the picture.

Victim of Gas Explosion Dies

Burns, received when gasoline she was using to clean clothing ignited from a gas heater, yesterday resulted in the death of Mrs. Rachel Lawrence, 75 years of age, of 209 South Spring street, at the General Hospital.

The accident occurred at 3130½ Clinton street where Mrs. Lawrence was visiting, according to a police report of Saturday evening. Fumes of the volatile liquid, igniting from the gas heater flame, enveloped the woman in a sheet of fire, burning her from head to feet.

Official Will Hear Sentence

After long service in the Postoffice Department, Guy O. Squire, formerly assistant postmaster at Alhambra, is scheduled to appear today before United States District Judge James for sentence. Squire had previously pleaded guilty to a charge of conversion of postoffice funds. The amount involved is reported to be about $7500.

OUSTER ACTION STARTS TODAY

Mayor Charged With Filing False Election Costs

Suit Asserts $17,000 Not Accounted For

Porter's Attorneys Silent on Defense Plans

What promises to be a hotly contested court fight will begin this morning when the hearing of the suit to oust Mayor Porter from office on the charge of violating the law requiring public statement of election expenses, starts before Superior Judge Hahn, especially assigned to hear the case by Presiding Judge Craig. The Mayor is accused of failing to list most of his campaign expenses.

The contest, which was filed by H. H. Merrick, real-estate and insurance dealer, will be represented by Attorney Arthur S. Guerin, who will attack the campaign - expense statements of Mayor Porter filed after both the primary election last May and the general election on June 4. Merrick asserts the statements as filed are untruthful and as such are a violation of the law.

LAW SETS LIMIT

According to the plaintiff the law limits the campaign expenditures of a candidate for office to 20 per cent of the salary he receives the first year in office. Twenty per cent of the Mayor's salary for the first year, Merrick holds, would be $2000. He asserts that more than $6000 was spent in Porter's campaign for newspaper advertising alone on the day prior to the general election. Advertising records of six Los Angeles daily newspapers have been subpoenaed to back up the charge, according to Attorney Guerin. Porter's statement lists about $1500.

Attorneys Joe Scott, George Bush and W. J. Clark will represent Mayor Porter. They decline to make any statement as to their plans of defense.

CHARGES ITEMIZED

Mayor Porter is accused of "willfully failing and neglecting" to set forth all of the money paid, loaned or contributed to his campaign or expended by him during the time he was campaigning for the office of Mayor, and he also is charged with failing properly to itemize his statement; of failing to show all the money spent on his behalf for rent and furnishings of halls and rooms during his campaign, or the names of persons to whom money was paid; the amount of money spent for speakers, for printing and distribution of campaign literature; for clerk hire, for telegraph and telephone tolls in connection with the campaign.

It is asserted that in excess of $17,000 was spent for which he failed to itemize under the election laws.

Charles R. Rowett, secretary of the grand jury when Mayor Porter was foreman and for a time in charge of the finances of the Mayor's campaign, it is asserted, will be one of the key witnesses for the prosecution.

Signs Point to Frost for Interior Area

Frost, which it is explained is not expected to be killing, is predicted for the interior this morning by the local weather observer, Col. H. B. Hersey. Continued fair weather is expected also.

The lowest temperature yesterday was at Pomona, where a reading of 34 deg. was obtained in orchard exposure. Registrations of 39 deg. were obtained at Riverside.

"The orchardists are watchful but so far have not found it necessary to start their oil heaters," Col. Hersey said yesterday. He also explained that "local frosts" mean that the lower parts of the valleys are colder than other places and that frosts might occur in these low parts.

The humidity was very low in Los Angeles yesterday, registering but 15 per cent at noon. The lowest temperature here was 54 deg. and the highest was 74. Last year the rainfall at this time registered 1.96 inches and the normal rainfall at this time of the year is 1.78 inches. So far but .32 of an inch had fallen this season.

BOULEVARD REFERRED

On recommendation of the Traffic and Lighting Committee, the Council has referred to the Board of Building and Safety Commissioners the matter of creating Brooklyn avenue as a boulevard-stop thoroughfare from Mission Road to Indiana street.

MACKAY ON TRIAL TODAY

Chief Trial Deputy Under Keyes Will Face Court Accused of Accepting Bribe

Selection of a jury is scheduled to get under way today in Superior Judge Wilson's court in the case of Donald MacKay, charged with accepting a $7500 bribe while he was chief trial deputy during the regime of former Dist.-Atty. Keyes.

MacKay was indicted by the county grand jury several months ago on testimony given by Ben Getzoff, Spring-street tailor and so-called "pay-off" man in the cases involving Keyes and Harold L. (Buddy) Davis, Keyes's chief deputy.

"LAYING DOWN" CHARGED

According to the indictment, MacKay received the $7500 from Getzoff to "lay down" in a prosecution of A. I. Lasker, former finance company head who at the time was charged with several counts of violating the State Corporate Securities Act.

Keyes and Davis both have been convicted and now are in the County Jail pending decisions on their appeals from sentences to San Quentin.

Getzoff, convicted with Keyes, but now at liberty on probation, is expected to be the State's principal witness against MacKay.

JURY BATTLE DUE

MacKay, who is represented by Attorney Richard Cantillon, denies receiving any bribe from Getzoff and it is expected he will attempt to prove that the charges against Lasker were dismissed by him on orders from Davis.

Lasker was reindicted by the county grand jury on evidence presented by Dist.-Atty. Fitts, convicted and sentenced to San Quentin. His appeal also is pending.

Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart and Dep. Dist.-Atty. William McKay will conduct the prosecution of the case against MacKay. It is expected all of today will be consumed in efforts to obtain a jury.

AID SOUGHT TO CHECK POISONINGS

Health Board Requests Prompt Reports by Public on Tainted Food Cases

As the result of food poisoning cases in the city, including eight reported at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the Municipal Health Commission has passed a resolution asking citizens to report directly to the health department as soon as any such cases are discovered.

The commission's action followed the statement by Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, that news of such food poisoning is not received soon enough to enable the department to obtain samples of the food for tests. As a result, he asserts, other persons have suffered needlessly.

The resolution declares that the health department should have full co-operation of all citizens so that repetition of such poisonings may be prevented.

Report Adverse to Playground

On recommendation of Supt. Hjelte, the Playground and Recreation Commission has declined to take action on the request of the Vermontshire Association for the creation of a playground at Oakwood, Madison, Juanita and Middlebury streets because the whole plan appears to be predicated upon the purchase for $30,000 of a portion of the block, an area 200 by 150 feet, for which no funds are available. The association had suggested the remainder of the project be accomplished by a proposed bond issue of $200,000 in the district.

The association sent its request to the City Council, which referred it to the Playground Commission.

Letters of protest against the plan were received by the commission from the Dayton Heights P.-T. A. and residents of the district.

PETITION APPROVED

The Council has approved the petition for the paving and improving of streets in the Courtenay-avenue and Courtenay-Terrace improvement district.

BRINGING the skins of 3000 rare birds, Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Moore of Pasadena, accompanied by their small daughter, Marilynn, returned on the Dollar liner President Garfield yesterday, after a seven months' exploration into Eucador. Dr. Moore is professor of zoology at California Institute of Technology, and the collection is for that school.

Moore scaled Mount Chimborazo, a 17,000-foot peak not climbed since 1880, and declares he reached the top of Mount Sangai, 17,500 feet up, and never ascended by anyone except the ill-fated Col. Fawcett, and George Dyatt, who last year solved the mystery of Fawcett's fate. The Moores devoted seven months to the expedition.

An entire month was spent by the Moore party in the Sangay climb. Mrs. Moore went as far as the 17,000-foot level with her husband and awaited him there while he scaled the remainder of the peak. Thick brush growth and sheer cliffs were the worst impediment to progress, only a few feet of advance being achieved on many days. Every day of the month that was spent in the ascent was marked by a heavy rain. Sulphurous fumes from the volcano were another handicap.

Although acclaimed internationally for his daring achievement, Mr. Moore was inclined to be more interested in the 3000 specimens of South American birds, the skins of which he is bringing to Caltech, when ship news reporters sought him out on the President Garfield. Numbered among his trophies are many rare specimens which Mr. Moore believes will be of considerable aid in zoological research. Four months were spent in amassing the collection.

Northcott Case Attorney Suing Riverside County

Suit was on file yesterday in United States District Court, filed by R. L. Maitland, a lawyer of British Columbia, against the county of Riverside for services said to have been rendered by the attorney in connection with the case of Gordon Northcott, under sentence to be hanged as the result of a series of "murder farm" deaths.

The attorney states in his complaint that he is entitled to $3000 for services from September 2 to November 24, 1928, and $44.66 for expenses. He states that the services were performed for Riverside county.

TURKEY PRICES LOWER BUT GOOSE HANGS HIGH

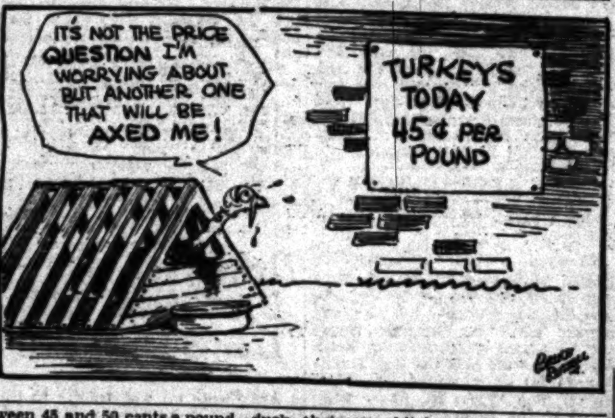
One $10 bill will provide a delectable dinner this Thanksgiving Day for six persons, comprising turkey with a filling of oysters, fresh mushrooms and chestnuts, cranberries, pumpkin pie, a salad, three vegetables and finishing with coffee and an imported cheese.

Turkey this year will range between 45 and 50 cents a pound, duck may be had for 50 cents and goose for 55 cents a pound. Chicken comes at 50 cents. These prices are those quoted at the better markets and they are not expected to vary much between now and Thanksgiving Day.

Fresh oysters may be had for 45 cents a dozen, fresh mushrooms at 75 cents a pound and the imported kind in tins from 30 to 45 cents. These, with blanched fresh chestnuts, make a delicious filling.

Pies may be had at 65 cents. Those are the good old-fashioned pumpkin type and are large enough to cut for six servings. Some grocers have their own brand of mincemeat made with bonded brandy in their own kitchens. This comes in two sizes at 80 cents and $1.50 a quart and is of unusually fine flavor.

Preserved oranges, stuffed with raisins and cherries and colored a rich red, also are served as a garnish for the turkey platter. They usually are halved or quartered



IT'S NOT THE PRICE QUESTION I'M WORRYING ABOUT BUT ANOTHER ONE THAT WILL BE AXED ME!

MOTOR CRASHES FATAL FOR SIX

Five Women and Man Die of Traffic Injuries

Quintet Reported Dying as Result of Mishaps

Several Less Seriously Hurt Over Week-end

Five women and one man are dead, two women, a man and a boy are reported dying, and three other women, two other men, a girl and two boys are recovering from less serious injuries as the result of automobile accidents in and near the city over the week-end.

The dead: Mrs. George E. Barstow, Formosa Court, Hollywood; Floyd Brandon, 5914 Lime avenue, Long Beach; Lillian Brandon, 5914 Lime avenue, Long Beach; Mrs. M. E. Plasterer, 409 North Kenmore street, Glendale; Mrs. Lucille Atwell, 1136 West Court street, and Mrs. Marie Mussman, 118 West Avenue 34.

Mrs. Barstow, whose only address was given as Formosa Court, Hollywood, suffered her fatal injuries in a spectacular crash on Riverside Drive near Dias street. She was a passenger, with Mrs. Z. D. Clark of 1302 North Sycamore street, and Mrs. Mary Newell, whose address was not learned, in a large touring car driven by Mrs. Clark's husband, when it struck a small coupe a glancing blow and was overturned.

ALL INJURED

All four occupants of the car were taken to the North Hollywood Receiving Hospital, where Mrs. Barstow died shortly after arrival. Mrs. Clark was given emergency treatment for a fractured skull, broken jaw and compound fracture of the left ankle, Mrs. Newell for internal injuries and a crushed chest, and Clark for a fractured clavicle, broken nose and lacerations. Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Newell later were transferred to the Good Samaritan Hospital, where surgeons last night held out little hope for their recovery.

After first-aid treatment, Clark was removed to the prison ward at the General Hospital, booked on a charge of suspicion of manslaughter.

The coupe which Clark's car struck was driven by Gus A. Schaefer of 512 Wolfskill street, San Fernando. He was not hurt, nor was his machine badly damaged.

LARGER CAR TOPPLES

According to Detective Lieutenant Ainsworth of the valley division, who investigated, eye-witnesses reported Clark was speeding along Riverside Drive, about forty miles an hour when his car sideswiped the coupe, which was traveling in the same direction at only fifteen miles an hour. By one of those inexplicable tricks of traffic crashes, the glancing blow caused the larger and heavier car to careen widely off its course and overturn.

Brandon, 24, and his sister, Lillian, 21, died in the Seaside Hospital, in Long Beach at noon yesterday, twelve hours after the car in which they were riding with Philip Brown, 30, of Belvedere Gardens, collided with a municipal bus at Long Beach Boulevard and Market street, North Long Beach. Brown is in the same institution, with less than an even chance of recovery, surgeons reported. All three suffered fractured skulls.

The death car, witnesses told police, was traveling along Long Beach Boulevard. As it approached Market street, the bus turned into the boulevard directly across its path. Brandon's car crashed broadside into the bus, telescoping itself. Neither the bus driver nor his lone passenger was injured.

INQUEST TODAY

The bodies of Brandon and his sister are at the B. W. Coon mortuary, Long Beach, where Deputy Coroner Donlin will conduct an inquest today.

Mrs. Atwell, 50, died at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital from internal injuries received when the car in which she was riding with Oliver J. Bell of the same address collided with another machine at Washington street and Grand avenue. The other car, police reported, was driven by Louis Heller of 1731 West Sixty-seventh street. Neither Bell nor Heller was injured.

Mrs. Marie Mussman, 58, of 118 West Avenue 34, died in St. Vincent's Hospital from injuries received when she was struck by an automobile at Pasadena avenue and Avenue 38. She received a skull fracture, a broken leg and broken arm, and lived for about four hours after the accident.

She was struck by a car driven by Alfred E. MacDonald of 2940

ELI P. CLARK CELEBRATES BIRTH EVENT

Pioneer Street Railway and Business Executive 82 Years of Age Today

Eli P. Clark, an outstanding figure in the development of Los Angeles, will celebrate his eighty-second birthday today. He will, as usual, be seated at his desk in the Subway Terminal Building, under which electric cars roar out into the subway and on their way to Hollywood, Glendale and San Fernando Valley. One of the pioneers in the construction and development of the electric railway systems of Los Angeles and vicinity, Mr. Clark and his associates purchased the site of the present terminal building twenty-six years ago.

Mr. Clark's office is on the tenth floor of the building, one of the city's most modern office structures and terminal stations. On the opposite side of Hill street is the Clark Hotel, which he built and equipped in 1913.

"What was on the site of the hotel across the street when you first saw the property?" a reporter inquired of him.

"Oh—there was a house there. Hill street was all residence property along here then," he replied, while continuing to sort over a stack of correspondence on his desk. He is still very active with his business affairs.

TYPICAL EXECUTIVE

As he enters his office, erect and steady in gait, removing his gloves and giving a word to his secretary and the stenographer, he is the typical American business executive. One never would guess that he is more than 60 years of age.

It was in 1891, with Gen. M. H. Sherman, his brother-in-law, that Mr. Clark organized the Los Angeles Consolidated Electric Railway Company, the first successfully operated street railway system in California. Gen. Sherman was president and Mr. Clark was vice-president and general manager. They were pioneers in the field of electric railways and were confronted with many difficulties.

EARLY DIFFICULTIES

For instance, at that time the largest generator in existence was of 150 horsepower. Mr. Clark, who had gone east to study the successful electric systems, insisted that the line out here must have at least one 500-horsepower and two 250-horsepower generators. The Westinghouse Company finally agreed to furnish the generators, and the large one was the first of its size to be built. Two years later Westinghouse was building 5000 and 10,000-horsepower generators for the Niagara Falls plant.

In 1894 Mr. Clark urged the construction of a line between Los Angeles and Pasadena. His suggestion was carried out and on May 5, 1895, the first car went over the line. From the first day it was a success. The line went out Pasadena avenue to Fair Oaks and into Pasadena. In 1898 it became the

CHEST FORCES RENEW TASK

Community Workers to Take Field Again Today Refreshed by Week-end Respite

After a brief week-end respite approximately 17,000 unpaid volunteer solicitors will take the field today to continue canvassing every part of the city until the Community Chest campaign, which has reached a little more than 60 per cent of its quota Saturday, will have reached its goal of $3,200,000.

As many thousands of dollars were collected over the week-end and more will be collected today, campaign officials are awaiting with interest the complete results of the efforts of the workers since Saturday, which will be announced at a Biltmore report luncheon tomorrow noon.

This report luncheon will be one of the best attended of the entire campaign period, it was announced. Majors, captains, colonels, lieutenants and all the ranking officers of every Chest campaign division will be present.

TROPHIES AWARDED

Color will be added to the meeting by the presentation of various trophies to campaign teams which have achieved the highest percentages of their quotas to date in various divisions. Harry F. Henderson, chairman of the business district division, announces that a unique trophy will be awarded to the team in the business district division which has reached the highest percentage of its quota.

E. E. Manning, assistant general manager of the Southern California Telephone Company, and chairman of the industrial department, will award a beautiful desk trophy to the chairman of the industrial section having the largest percentage of his quota.

The ten captains in the residential districts having the largest number of pledges will be honored in some signal manner at the meeting by Mrs. Albert Crutcher, presi-

IT IS all right if the girls intend to change voices and manners with the length of the skirts; turn simpatica and clinging; but couldn't they just sort of sag down little by little, as it were?

SOUNDS TERRIBLE

I am inclined to think that the change is accomplished the other way around. The free-and-easy manners of the cocktail era became a little cloying on the flappers themselves. They are dressing to suit the new mood; rather trying to make their voices sound like long skirts.

Personally I am not so sure I like the transformation. Of the two the sweet old-fashioned girl who yearned and listened with wondering eyes was a little harder on the nerves than the raucous young lady who performed her morning toilet in the street car.

AIR BATTERIES

The photographs published in The Times of one of our new antiaircraft batteries looks terribly ferocious.

It happens, however, that I have seen several airplane raids within the last year. The airplane never hits anything and the antiaircraft batteries never hit anything; so it turns out usually just to be a pleasant affair all around.

MEXICO

The new President of Mexico—Senor Ortiz Rubio—faces a great responsibility to the whole world.

South of our international line is perhaps the most marvelous country upon which the sun shines. It has everything—mineral wealth, lush agricultural lands, oil, a faithful hard-working peasantry, a strategic position in relation to the world markets.

All it needs is peace of mind. No country in the world ever had less excuse for disturbances. In a larger sense, it has not a reason in the world for making trouble.

CROOKS

If the plans of the District Attorney and his conferees pan out, this is going to be a tough winter for crooks in Los Angeles.

The attitude of most public officials is that these criminal gangs are inevitable and can't be broken up. The experience of Mussolini in Italy shows that they can be. He confronted a problem worse than ours—if that be possible.

The great criminal societies of Sicily and Southern Italy formed a network that absolutely dominated parts of that country. They ruled courts, public officials, terrorized juries and ruled even the business world. They levied tribute with the same systematic zeal that taxes are collected.

Il Duce broke them into tatters in a few months. At heart all crooks are bluff.

SPEEDERS

The drive of the traffic officers against speeders is a gesture of despair. The motorists have brought this upon themselves because a few idiots couldn't be decent.

The speed limit fixed by the law is too low. It is impossible to gauge the speed of high-powered modern cars down to the snail walk fixed by statute. The police tried to relax the rule and leave it to the honor of the motorists themselves. It has been discovered that a large proportion of the driving public were not equipped with any such commodity.

THREE QUIZZED IN PARTY DEATH

Man Booked on Suspicion of Murder in Tragedy

Two Women Questioned on Companion's Demise

Victim Said to Have Keeled Over After Drinking

William R. Buckley, 40-year-old [illegible] salesman of 335 South Coronado street, yesterday was booked on suspicion of murder, and two women acquaintances were taken in custody and held in the County Jail as material witnesses in connection with the unexplained death late Saturday night of John [illegible] Young, 50, an electrician, who was found dead from a head wound in front of an apartment-house at [illegible] Lyman Place, where he lived.

The women being held are Mrs. Edith Todd Jones, 40, manager of another apartment-house at 1642 Lyman Place, and Mrs. Edith (Betty) Anderson, 38, a tenant in the same building.

A third woman, police announced, will be requested today to present herself at headquarters for questioning. She is Mrs. Myrtle Dehn of 3225½ DeLongpre avenue.

Shortly after the women were taken in custody by Detective Lieutenants Sanderson, Ryan and Kyser, working under Capt. Cato of the homicide detail, Buckley surrendered himself to the officers at police headquarters, stated he had heard they were looking for him and declared his willingness to be questioned concerning the death of Young.

According to the detectives, Buckley said he was about to drive away from the apartment-house to obtain some more liquor for a party in which he had been indulging with Young and Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Jones, when Young emerged from the building, accompanied by one of the women. Suddenly, he declared, Young keeled over, striking his head on the sidewalk. The woman returned to the house and came out a moment later with a pitcher of water, with which she tried to revive him.

Attention of the police was directed to Young's death as the result of an ambulance call telephoned by Chester Heyber, a guest in the apartment of Ira Horn in the building in front of which Young was found.

Heyber told the detectives he was returning home shortly before midnight when he noticed the prostrate form of Young on the lawn.

"This man's hurt," Heyber said he called to Buckley who was seated in the automobile at the curb.

"No, he just drunk," Buckley replied, according to Heyber's story.

Heyber then bent over the better to examine Young, and discovered he was dead. When he told Buckley the man was dead, according to the officers, Buckley remarked: "No—just dead drunk." Heyber then went into the apartment and telephoned for an ambulance.

Examination of Young's body revealed that he was attired in pajamas under his street clothes, and was without hat or shoes.

In the light of Buckley's admission concerning the intended purchase of more liquor, the detectives last night were speculating with the theory that the two men may have quarreled over the matter of which one was to pay for it.

The dead man, it was learned yesterday, has been living apart from his wife, Mrs. Mary Young, of 435½ South Catalina street.

PRIZE-HORSE POISONER SOUGHT BY DETECTIVES

Search for the person who poisoned and mutilated the prize riding stallion of Charles M. Hackley, blind millionaire, was begun by detectives yesterday. The horse, described as "buckskin," was particularly valuable to Mr. Hackley because of its ability to pursue a course through heavy traffic while the blind owner was horseback riding.

According to Detective Lieutenant Beavis, who is investigating, someone broke into the horse's quarters at the Griffith Park Riding Academy, 3240 Riverside Drive, and after shearing off the animal's mane and tail, administered poison.

The act was discovered at noon when attendants went to feed the horse. Veterinary surgeons and the police were called. The veterinarians asserted they will be able to save the life of the stallion. According to Hackley, the horse was used by him daily.

He said the animal had a peculiar sense of caution and was able to take its master on the daily rides over the boulevards and bridle paths. The nature of the poison given the animal has not been determined, although it is believed to be arsenic.

The horse is named Palomine and is known in equine circles throughout the country. Pictures and stories of the animal, with Hackley astride, have been published in magazines dealing with horses and animals.

first unit of the Pacific Electric system.

In 1895 Mr. Clark took the first step toward providing an electric line to the beaches by acquiring the property of the old steam railroad from Los Angeles to Santa Monica, known as the Los Angeles and Pacific Railroad. This was rebuilt and re-equipped and opened April 1, 1896.

Gen. Sherman and Mr. Clark developed the Los Angeles Pacific project until the system included 200 miles of suburban and interurban lines, through Colegrove and Hollywood, with four connecting lines to the beaches from Santa Monica to Redondo. In 1905 E. H. Harriman acquired a half-interest in all the electric railway holdings of Clark and Sherman, and in 1909 they sold the remainder to Mr. Harriman, retiring from the electric railway field in California. Later Mr. Clark organized the Mt. Hood Railway and Power Company, which he sold in 1911.

NATIVE OF IOWA

Mr. Clark was born on a farm at Solon, Iowa, near Iowa City. He is a scion of one of the oldest families of America. He farmed and was a school teacher in his youth and came west, first to Arizona, in 1875, having left home with his own team and $20. He was clerk and assistant postmaster at Prescott and at the age of 30 was appointed Territorial Auditor, a position he held for ten years. It was at Prescott that he met Gen. Sherman, whose sister, Lucy, he married in 1880. There are four children, all prominent in business and social affairs.

Mr. Clark is president, vice-president and director of numerous institutions and financial organizations. He is vice-president of the board of trustees of Pomona College, vice-president and chairman of the finance committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, a member of a number of clubs and organizations. Some of his present business activities include the presidency of the Eli P. Clark Company, the Clark & Sherman Land Company, the Del Rey Company, Main Street Comany, the Capitol Crude Oil Company and the Empire Oil Company.

DAILY CAR RIDER

With his great background of activity in the development of the electric street railway, Mr. Clark rides to his work daily on the street car from his home in the West Adams district. He has taken the car from that same district daily for many years.

A solution of the traffic problem? Well, he says, it will take considerable time and study. It will have to be solved by experts who know what they are talking about and not by some one who thinks he knows all about the traffic problem and its solution simply because he is selling automobiles or anything that happens to be connected in some way with traffic.

MOTOR CRASHES FATAL FOR SIX

North Avenue 37. MacDonald told the Lincoln Heights police he saw Mrs. Mussman in the center of the street and when his car approached she appeared confused and darted in front of it.

Another traffic death was that of Mrs. Plasterer. She died in Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital there yesterday as the result of injuries suffered Saturday night when struck by a hit-and-run driver's automobile while standing in a safety zone on Brand Boulevard between Broadway and Wilson street, Glendale. Her 18-year-old son Milan also was knocked down, but escaped with minor injuries.

Shortly after the accident police arrested H. B. Merritt of 1234 Fifth street, Santa Monica, and booked him on charges of manslaughter and driving while intoxicated.

BOY KNOCKED DOWN

Harry Mills, 11, of 1303 East Florence avenue, sustained a possible fracture of the skull, surgeons reported, when he was knocked down by an automobile while crossing in disregard of a stop signal at Compton and Florence avenues. The car, according to police, was in charge of J. A. Parsons of 11814 Ingraham street, Watts. He was not held. The injured boy is at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital and his recovery is reported doubtful.

As the result of a collision on Cahuenga Pass, in which two women and a girl received minor cuts and abrasions, E. Z. S. Hoover, 32, of 5726 Craner street, North Hollywood, was booked by Hollywood police on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. According to Policeman Rice, who took him in custody, Hoover drove his car into a machine driven by K. P. Schlandt of 123 West Bourchette street, Glendale, injuring Mrs. Schlandt and the couple's daughter, Lois. Schlandt's car then rammed another automobile driven by Havelock C. Boyle of 256 South Reeves Drive, Beverly Hills. Boyle escaped injury, but his wife was cut by flying glass. All three injured women were given treatment at Dickey and Cass Emergency Hospital.

Three persons were seriously injured in a collision between automobiles at Avalon Boulevard and Pearson street, Wilmington. They are D. L. Watkins, 224 South Palm Drive, Beverly Hills; his wife, Nellie and a son, Jack, 16 years of age. The Watkins car collided with one driven by John L. Buck, 1647 West Two Hundred and Sixteenth street. The injured were taken to the Seaside Hospital in Long Beach.

THREE APPEAR TODAY IN COUNTERFEIT CASE

Charged with counterfeiting United States money, Bert C. Bennett, Dr. T. J. Wilson, a dentist, and Mrs. Charlotte Wilson, his wife, will appear today for hearing before United States Commissioner Head. The three were arrested last Thursday in an office on South Main street, where W. W. Ashe, chief agent of the Treasury Department, and Police Detective Lloyd found one of the most complete counterfeiting plants seized recently.

The three were arraigned Saturday before Commissioner Head, and the men were placed under $10,000 bail each. Because of the fact that Mrs. Wilson has two small children to care for, she was released on her own recognizance.

NEW SHOOTING SUSPECT SEIZED

Full Story of Hijack Affray May be Related

Two Victims Reported Hit by Liquor "Customers"

Le Gros, Believed Wounded Fatally, Seals Lips

Detective Lieutenants Bergeron and Leslie late yesterday took into custody a suspect who, they believe, will tell the story of how James F. (Big Dempsey) Le Gros, asserted hijacker, and Robert Murphy, Le Gros's companion, were shot down by gangsters near Gardner avenue and Beverly Boulevard late Friday afternoon. His identity withheld, he was taken to the Wilshire police station where he was to be booked on a charge of suspicion of assault to commit murder. His fingerprints were taken at Central police station.

After being questioned by Captain of Detectives McCaleb he was to be taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital to confront Le Gros. The result of this meeting was problematical, as the asserted hijacker has refused to name his assailants or give the police any information regarding the shooting other than to make the significant remark to William (Snipe) Griffin, a second suspect held by police, "the least you can do is get me a night nurse."

For the first time since the investigation began after Le Gros and Murphy were taken to the receiving hospital with possibly fatal bullet wounds, police yesterday revealed information which they say discloses the motive for the outbreak of gangster warfare.

LIQUOR CONFISCATED

The detectives learned, they said, that Le Gros, who was known better as Dempsey, visited a local address where Griffin had a plant of liquor and, posing as a police squad leader, "confiscated" the liquor. In the parlance of bootleggers and rum runners, it was hijacked. Dempsey had with him on this visit three confederates who acted as his "squad," the detectives say.

The liquor was placed in an automobile truck rented from a local auto rental agency and driven to one of Dempsey's hangouts, according to the detectives. Later part of it was sold to a bootlegger. The remainder, listed by the detectives as ten cans of alcohol and six quart bottles of Bourbon whisky, was put into another rented car, a large sedan, to be sold to another customer.

This was the load, the detectives assert, which Dempsey, assisted by Murphy, drove to the 100 block on Gardner avenue. Within a few minutes after their arrival at this supposed rendezvous a yellow roadster and another car drove up.

"HAVE YOU GOT IT?"

"Have you got the stuff?" one of the men in the yellow roadster asked Le Gros.

"Yes, it's here," answered Le Gros, according to the story Murphy told police.

Without warning gangsters in the roadster opened fire with revolvers. Le Gros dropped by the side of the sedan with a bullet through his abdomen. Murphy leaped from the car and ran for the protection of near-by dwelling. Three gangster bullets sped after him. One of them struck him in the back and penetrated his abdomen.

The gangster car was driven rapidly away. Dempsey, according to the detectives, recovered from his wound temporarily, stepped into the sedan and drove to 1320 South Flower street. From there he went to the office of Dr. E. A. Harrison at 1069 West Sixth street, according to detectives, to have his wound treated. Dr. Harrison notified police and he then was taken to the receiving hospital.

MURPHY ASSISTED

Murphy, in the meantime, had been assisted by residents in the neighborhood of the shooting who communicated with police. He also was taken to the receiving hospital.

So far, the detectives admit, they have been unable to locate the rented sedan or the liquor it is supposed to have contained, but intimated that this will be accomplished soon after questioning of the latest suspect arrested.

While Detective Lieutenants Bergeron and Leslie were pursuing this angle of the investigation other detectives under Capt. McCaleb sought again yesterday to break the silence of Le Gros, but without any reported success. Le Gros, true to his first determination, refused to talk.

"I'm not saying a thing," he said, "and that's all, even if I have to go out that way."

LITTLE HOPE FOR HIM

Little hope for recovery is held out for the asserted hijacker by police surgeons. Even should he live they say he may be a cripple as the gangster bullet which struck him injured the spine.

Murphy, the surgeons stated, has a slight chance to live. His brother, C. J. Murphy, following a hurried trip from San Francisco, visited at his bedside in the Receiving Hospital. He told police he last saw the wounded man about four months ago when he left the northern city.

"This is certainly a great shock to me," he said. "Bob was always an easy-going but level-headed boy. He had several good jobs with different oil companies up home and never was in trouble before."

Murphy, police say, has no police record. Le Gros, according to the detectives, has been arrested here before in connection with bootlegging activities.

Demurrer of Dr. Citron Will Come Up Today

Arguments on a demurrer to the indictment against Dr. I. Jesse Citron, Beverly Hills physician, accused in a Federal indictment of twenty counts of falsifying prescriptions for narcotics, will be heard today by United States District Judge James.

Russell Graham, defense attorney, asserts that the indictment is faulty and will argue that question today.

Hothouse tomatoes, with tender skins and rich in hue, are being offered at 25 cents, while local grown come at two pounds for 25 cents. New asparagus is quoted at 50 cents a pound and new string beans at two pounds for 45 cents. New peas may be had at the same price. Cranberries, New England grown, are 25 cents per pound. Celery is being sold from 15 to 25 cents per stalk, according to the size, while celery root, which makes an interesting salad, is offered at 20 cents per root.

FOREIGN TIDBITS

In the better markets the offering in tinned and preserved novelties from France, Germany and Italy is extensive. There are wee pearl onions, for example, scarcely as large as peas, anchovies, marrons (which is the French name for chestnuts) in syrup, and many other delicacies.

There are luscious cheeses from Hungary and France for appetizers and others to be served with the coffee, water crackers and bar le duc, this latter being offered as a touch of color, rather than for its value in contributing to a dinner.

Mrs. Los Angeles may entertain at $1.60 per plate and by choosing carefully may make her Thanksgiving dinner of 1929 a memorable one for her family and friends.

Girl Flyers Set to Start Time Flight

Following two days of successful refueling contacts and steady flying, Elinor Smith and Bobbie Trout, girl air skippers, intend to take off from Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport at 7 a.m. today in an official attempt to set an air endurance refueling record for women.

The two young flyers landed their Sunbeam biplane yesterday at dusk, after six hours in the air and a perfect contact with their refueling ship.

A. B. Green, president of the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation, builders of the Sunbeam endurance ship, said that another day of practice would be scheduled today, but a later report from the Consolidated hangar stated the official take-off will be made this morning.

HIS PIPES BRING DREAMS TO NOTED

Artist in Meerschaum Has Plied Trade in Three Countries

PURVEYOR of that serene solace that comes only to those who achieve the esoteric art of tobacco pipe smoking, Otto Loder, an artist of the time-honored and noble profession of pipe making, has plied his benevolent trade in Los Angeles for nearly a decade.

Herr Loder was born in Vienna three-score years ago. His father before him was a pipe maker. Two of the elder Loder's carvings in meerschaum once were deemed appropriate to convey the boon companionship of Lady Nicotine to none less than the Czar of Russia. The son followed in his father's footsteps and his pipe creations have smoothed out some of the troubles of the Prince of Wales, John Pierpont Morgan and other personages of high degree.

For nine years he has been here with Ball's Big Pipe Store, ever since he came to America in fact, and still turns out carved and plain masterpieces in meerschaum and brier just as he did for sixteen years in Piccadilly shops in London, and in those of his native Austrian fatherland, despite his sixty years.

PAIR TAKEN WHEN TIRE GOES FLAT

Two Youths Said to Have Tried to Steal Another Auto for Getaway

In an asserted attempt to make a quick change from one stolen automobile to another when the first machine limped with a flat tire, two youths fell into the hands of police early yesterday morning. They gave their names as Jim H. Grady, 22 years of age, of 447 South Olive street, and Jay L. Roll, 21, of 420 South Beaudry avenue.

Officer Singleton reported observing the youths slow down at Westlake avenue and Ninth street in an automobile with a flat tire. Leaving the car at the curb they attempted to drive away in another machine, he said, when he ran up to investigate. Both suspects ran. After a chase of a block he caught Grady, he said. Twenty minutes later other officers called to the scene found Roll hiding in a clump of shrubbery near by.

The first car taken by the pair, according to police, was registered to Henry W. Phillips of 1248 South Genessee street. The second machine belonged to Virgil Buckhart of 1401 Beachwood Drive, it was stated.

NEW PLANT CHIEFS ARRIVE

Willard Battery Factory Branch Will Employ 150 Men from Start Next Month

How the establishment of branch factories in Los Angeles is responsible for increased population, and further, how these new industries also aid the labor market, was illustrated yesterday with the arrival of officials who will be in charge of the new plant of the Willard Storage Battery Company.

Headed by C. H. Starr, vice-president and general manager of the new plant, the party arrived here over the Southern Pacific and was met at the station by Paul H. Voth, engineer in charge of construction of the new plant, and Elmer P. Querl, automotive engineer of the Chamber of Commerce. With the arrival of the group, six families were transplanted to Los Angeles from Cleveland, where the Willard company's main plant is located.

How the plant will recruit nearly all of its employees in this city was explained by Mr. Starr, who said that aside from the six officials brought from Cleveland, the remainder of the 150 men required at the outset of operations will be hired here. The plant will commence operations on December 15, next, with a production schedule of 2000 automobile batteries a day.

Other officials arriving with Mr. Starr were: Carl F. Norberg, manager of production; C. H. Ketridge, superintendent; E. E. Bowman, secretary-treasurer; Norman Jones, chemist; H. L. Macomber and J. E. Farthing.

Lack of Lights Leads to Arrest

Because he drove an automobile without lights, Jack Palmer, 24 years of age, of 2312½ Union avenue, found himself in the City Jail yesterday charged with driving while intoxicated, possession of liquor in violation of the Wright Act and suspicion of grand theft of an automobile.

Palmer was arrested at Grand avenue and Hope street by Officers Reeves and Steffins. The officers reported observing him driving without headlights and followed him to investigate. In the car they said they found a quart of liquor and a small Punch and Judy show, the owner of which is being sought. The automobile, they declared, was registered to Mike F. Filka of 2312½ Union avenue. Filka, the officers reported, declared he had left his car locked in an auto park near his residence.

POLICE SPY BADLY USED BY QUARRY

Battered Youth Ascribes Injuries to Suspects on Whose Trail He Was

His jaw broken, one eye blackened and displaying various contusions and abrasions about the head and face, a youth who gave his name as Bud Rogers and who declared he was an operative for the police vice squad, walked into the Venice police station early yesterday morning and told a story of having been "taken for a ride" by two suspected bootleggers and beaten up.

"I was trailing a couple of bootleggers on Wilshire Boulevard," the man informed Officers Crevlingen and McDonald, "when they got hep to me, dragged me into their car and took me down on the Coast Highway. They threw me out of the car, beat me up and left me on the beach."

Rogers was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where he was given treatment and then sent home. According to the Venice officers, Rogers was identified as having worked as an operative for the central vice division.

The victim gave the officers complete descriptions of both of his asserted attackers. One of them, he said, according to the Venice report, was called "Happy."

NAVAJO TRIBES REVIVING BLANKET-WEAVING CRAFT

Navajo tribes whose blankets have made them famous throughout the world, are reviving their fine art of weaving, according to Charles Amsden, curator of the Southwest Museum.

In his lecture yesterday he said: "These tribes are outstandingly versatile and artistic. Contact with the efficient machines of the white man and a price for blankets which barely covered the cost of the wool convinced the Indians that months of patient weaving were wasted effort. Therefore, Navajo blankets were in danger of becoming a lost art.

"When the supply of blankets ceased, demands from peoples everywhere showed that this unique art is appreciated. Traders who had taken the native craft as a matter of course, were roused by the demand. They extended the Indians credit during the many months needed to make the blankets. Although the modern weaving does not equal that of the finest period fifty years ago, it is approaching its former supremacy. Even the traders pay more for superior work and encourage the revival of ancient designs and methods of dyeing.

In silver and bone crafts, the Navajos have developed an original art of a high order. Without using molten metal, the peshlakei (silversmith) pounds his intricate earrings, bow guards and bracelets from silver coins, preferably the soft half-dollars of the Mexicans. Coins are pounded first into thin sheets, then into molds of the desired shape dug out of sandstone. Finally, they are polished and decorated by stamping patterns on them with metal dies. Turquoise settings decorate the jewelry. The popularity of Indian silver work has caused it to be copied on machines, but the native art never is rivaled by the white man's machine."

Aid Requested in 'Skeeter War

Mosquitoes in Venice? Whoever heard of such a thing?

And there will be none in flying distance of Venice if the County Board of Supervisors follows out the suggestions contained in a letter from City Clerk Robert Dominguez.

Dominguez writes that Council directed him to ask that the Supervisors do something toward cleaning up the channel of Ballona Creek (in the county just outside the city limits) so the mosquitoes will not have so much encouragement to make their homes near Venice.

According to the City Clerk's letter the city's efforts to banish the pests are negatived by the county's neglect.

SUIT NOW PONDERED BY COURT

Litigation Over Apartment House Under Submission After Five-Week Trial

After a trial lasting five weeks Superior Judge Yankwich took under submission his decision in the suit brought by Luther T. Mayo, Inc., contractors, against the Ince Investment Company, wherein the sum of $45,881.44 is asked for commissions following the building, on a cost-plus basis, of the Chateau Elysee Apartment-house at Franklin and Tamarind avenues at an asserted cost of $565,484.50.

In a cross-complaint, heard at the same time, filed in the action by the Ince Investment Company, headed by Mrs. Thomas Ince, widow of the late film producer, damages in the sum of $99,160 are asked of the plaintiff.

According to Mrs. Ince, the contractors agreed to build the apartment-house on a cost-plus basis. They were to get 10 per cent of the cost of the building as commission and one-half of what was saved, provided the cost of the structure did not exceed $495,000.

Mrs. Ince further contends that there were departures from the plans by the contractors which brought the building's cost far above the guaranteed price; that the commission asked is excessive and that she is entitled to damages to compensate her for the extra cost over the guaranteed price.

The contractors were represented in court by Attorney G. C. De Garmo. Attorney Ingle Carpenter was counsel for Mrs. Ince.

ARGUMENTS TO START IN DEATH CASE

Selph's Trial Scheduled to Proceed Today Before Superior Judge Fricke

Arguments to the jury are scheduled to get under way today in Superior Judge Fricke's court in the case of Herbert H. Selph, oil worker and former border-patrol officer, who is seeking to prove he was insane at the time he is asserted to have shot and killed Mrs. Georgia Greggins Bowman, his reputed sweetheart.

Selph was convicted a week ago of first-degree murder in connection with Mrs. Bowman's death, and faces life imprisonment in San Quentin unless successful in his efforts to be adjudged insane.

According to evidence presented by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson at the murder trial, Selph killed Mrs. Bowman in front of her home in Watts September 3, last.

Selph took the witness stand in his own defense and testified he was intoxicated at the time of the shooting and had no recollection of what occurred. He is being defended by Attorney M. A. Stutsman.

Week's Topics of City Club

"Congressional Reapportionment" will be discussed by George B. Bush, Los Angeles county campaign director of the Republican Central Committee, at the open forum of the City Club this evening, following a dinner at 6 o'clock.

A meeting of the county and municipal government and the State affairs sections of the club will be conducted tomorrow at noon, when speakers will discuss "Check Dams Versus Reservoirs for Flood Control."

Next Wednesday's luncheon program will be featured by an address on "The Political Cycle in Mexico," by Col. Rey Bowles.

S-Line Service Issue Declined

On recommendation of its Public Utilities Committee, Council has refused to take up the request of Rufus C. Porter for better service on the S line of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation.

The Board of Public Utilities and Transportation reported to the committee that inasmuch as the city is contending for a return to the 5-cent fare, it is in no position to demand a revision in the service.

WHY NOT?

Dr. Mayo advises Americans to whine less and think more. In other words, whine not.

SOUNDS FAMILIAR

A score or more of persons were killed in riots in Mexico on election day. That must have made it seem like old times to the pioneers.

THANK HEAVEN

The designers are always fussing. They are often designing women. So it is that fashions come and go, but girls go on forever.

FOR MEN WHO KNOW

Any way you figure it the stock market is no place for children or men with weak hearts. Neither is it a trysting place for strangers.

AMONG THE PIRATES

Chinese pirates are getting too fresh. First thing we know somebody will be writing a postal card to the League of Nations asking to have the matter looked into.

STRICTLY PURE

The Carnegie researchers found no scandal in the background of the college whose team was defeated the other day to the tune of 60 to 0. Thank heaven, those boys are free from any taint of commercialism.

THE BIG FAMILY

The late Judge Widney established the first real estate office in Los Angeles back in 1871. He started something all right. No one at that time, however, could even have feebly dreamt of what the realtors would later do to the town—and perhaps some of its people. They were a right prolific bunch.

LONG AND SHORT OF IT

Is the greater lure in concealment or revealment? This was the real text of the question before a gathering of the women voters of an Eastern State. Of course it deals with skirts and until it is disposed of politics can wait. It is, in fact, the long and short of womanly interest.

SAVE AMATEUR FOOTBALL

A sports writer pleads for the salvation of college football. His plan of salvation calls for the reduction of the admission fee to a dime. He figures that with a 10-cent charge at the gate and no reserved seats all hint of commercialism would be kicked out and the game would go back to the students, where it belongs. The alumni will receive this suggestion with guffaws—whatever they are.

COUNTY MANAGERS

Experts and theorists are now recommending the manager plan for the administration of counties. There are city managers in more than a hundred American municipalities, but no county of magnitude has tried this plan of government, although there is much argument in its favor. The theorists say it should work better in counties than cities. The county politicians do not think so. They wouldn't.

SHY AT THE ALTAR

Of 500 young women at Stanford University but five indicate a fixed purpose to marry and become housewives. The vast majority of maidens seem for the moment to prefer what they call "careers," but it is predicted that there will be quite a slump in the ranks before many years have elapsed. Of course there are a lot of men who are not worth marrying, but on the other hand there are many maidens who can scarcely qualify for the kitchen. The situation craves a bureau of adjustments.

EQUITY'S NEW THREAT

A new threat to organize the film and talking-picture actors despite the defeats of 1920, 1924 and 1929 is made in a just-published history of the Actors' Equity Association by Alfred Harding, editor of the Equity Magazine. The warning, which is thus made semiofficial, declares these backsets were "only temporary" and that that of last summer was caused by "defeatism and downright treachery in Equity's own ranks."

Instead the principal contributing factors were a revolt against Frank Gillmore's one-man leadership, disinclination of film players to dictation of their affairs by the stage actors, the absence of any real grievances and Gillmore's refusal to enter into a reciprocal agreement with the stagecraft and studiocraft unions calling for mutually sympathetic strikes on occasion. Had Gillmore agreed to reciprocate, these latter unions might have come to his aid last summer, as he expected them to do, but they were wise enough not to fall into the trap.

That the announcement in Harding's book is a real threat and not a mere piece of bravado is made sufficiently plain from other sources. Steps have already been taken in Chicago to enlist professional gangsters and racketeers to have charge of a new unionizing drive against Los Angeles, with the film industry and the building trades as the first points of attack.

The campaign to "get" Chief of Police Davis is an important part of the plan. It is necessary to the success of the scheme to have a chief and a police force which will look the other way while the gangsters' operations are going on. Davis will not "program," so he is to be replaced by some one acquiescent with such unionizing methods before they can be launched.

So far as the film industry is concerned, the Harding announcement is a warning to the producers that the only hope of continued peace in their industry lies in the establishment of the open shop throughout. They have beaten Equity three times and, with no change in conditions, will do so again and again, since the Hollywood actors are still, and will continue to be, opposed to domination by Gillmore and have in the Academy of Motion-Picture Arts and Sciences a sufficient safeguard of their interests. That is to say, the producers will always win on the merits. But if Equity should form an alliance with the studio unions at a time when those unions are dominant, it would prove a more formidable adversary.

Such an alliance would interfere with the "all-for-Gillmore" policy under which Equity is now being run, and there are no signs, so far, of Gillmore being willing to put himself in a position of having to help somebody else.

An alliance could not function, of course, without a sympathetic strike which would involve contract-breaking, and both sympathetic strikes and contract-breaking are always illegal and enjoinable. Federation of Labor unions seldom worry about whether their actions are illegal or unethical; only injunctions give them pause; and an injunction is at best a poor substitute for a loyal working force. Loyal working forces can only be built up under open-shop conditions, by a square deal for all concerned.

Whether Equity's announcement of its purposes means anything or not, the producers will do well to be prepared and the best preparation they can make is to re-establish the open shop in all branches of their industry, as rapidly as it can well be accomplished. They should not, of course, indulge in contract-breaking to do it.

ONE IN EVERY SIX

Faulty family adjustment has been found by the advisory board of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs to be the reason why so many marriages in this country go on the rocks. In its latest report on the subject the United States Department of Commerce says that one in every six marriages is followed by divorce or separation. During a recent twelve-month period, according to the report, the number of marriages has fallen 18,656 below those of the preceding year.

What to do about it is the chief concern of the New York women's clubs, which are making a strenuous campaign to remedy the evil. As a part of their educational movement they are engaging experts in psychiatry, social and mental hygiene, psychology, housing and nutrition. These experts deliver lectures to which all men and women are invited without charge. The aim of the lectures is to lessen the number of divorces and separations by revealing their causes to the unsuspecting principals and to endeavor to make home life more compatible by pointing out errors.

With newly married couples of this age the art of living together seems to have been found more and more difficult year by year during the last decade. That education along the lines of harmony and compatibility is badly needed in many quarters is quite apparent. To give good advice to married people with problems involving domestic relations seems a proper course. But what would our grandparents have thought if they had been told at the altar that in case of marital disagreement they should consult an expert who would treat their problem scientifically and adjust it "free, gratis for nothing"?

DISARMING SCIENCE

The big war did much to rub out the line of demarcation between the combatant and noncombatant. If some of the advances of science continue, there will be no distinction.

The Washington conference in 1921 secured a drastic cut in capital ships. Cruisers and submarines are now under surveillance. Armies will doubtless find themselves under the ban in time.

However, there are those who feel that even these reductions are not sufficient. The range of artillery has been increased to a possible 300 miles. Chemists assert that gases have been developed and kept in secret phials by governments capable of destroying entire cities. Physicists claim that a lump of sugar has potential possibilities of devastating populations and territory equal to that of the United States. Yet the most diabolical of all weapons for the next war is the transmission of disease germs for epidemics that will sweep over the world.

If all this be true, it would seem to an ordinary layman that something should be done about it. Mere reduction of arms and armaments is but a bagatelle. The scientist should also be checked.

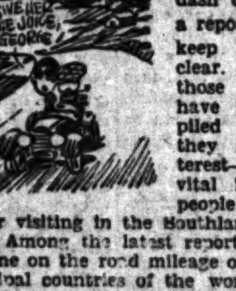
Science has usually been constructive. The invention of gunpowder in China was doubtless for religious observance and play days. Nobody dreamed of its possibilities.

The super-explosives of today were formulated to blast paths of peace through sea and land. That fiends subvert these findings cannot be laid at the door of the scientist. Even the atomic energy discovered in a lump of sugar has been offered for the engineries of peace. However, civilization's job is to hold these in leash for constructive work. In the hands of Mars, they become a deadly asset. Only a supermoral power can control terrific physical energy.

We come around the circle again to the point of starting. The governments must disarm science as well as navies and armies.

The
LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

IF THERE'S any subject under the sun on which the research department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce hasn't a report, just tell Guy F. Marion about it and he'll dash out and get a report on it, to keep his record clear. And yet all those reports have been compiled because they are of interest—often of vital interest—to people living in or visiting in the Southland.



GIVE HER THE JUICE, GEORGE

Among the latest reports issued is one on the road mileage of the principal countries of the world, and it offers convincing proof that one should see America first if he wants to scoot here, there and yonder by motor car—the only way to see a great deal of a country within the time most people can spare. This report shows that the United States has approximately seven times as much real road mileage as has any other country, the nearest competitor being France, with Russia, Canada and Australia following. The figures are: United States, 3,005,604; France, 410,085; Russia, 430,365; Canada, 424,014; Australia, 360,000. The other countries surveyed, in the order named, are India, United Kingdom, Germany, Poland, Italy, Sweden and Japan.

Where Mexico Leads

Another report Marion's department has compiled is on the number of automobiles per mile of road, and in that list—because it has so few roads—Mexico leads the world. The figures follow: Mexico, 37.7; Cuba, 27.3; Hawaii, 23.5; Belgium, 22; Argentina, 14; United Kingdom, 10.4; Switzerland, 10; Colombia, 9.7; Netherlands, 9.5; Egypt, 7.5; United States, 7.8; Germany, 6.8.

Those figures would indicate 23,444,869 motor cars on the 3,000,000 miles of road in the United States and, for purposes of comparison, 872,052 on the 128,000 miles of road of Germany.

Boomerang!

Golly! We started out to prove how much better it is to travel or tour in this country. But this comparison may make every fellow who drives out on a Sunday and has to dodge more of the 23,000,000 American cars than can be found anywhere else, wild to go to Germany.

But roads count more than all things else to the motorist. California has 6565 miles of State highway alone, and the county highways multiply those figures. In Los Angeles county, for instance, there are 4078 miles of State and county road, exclusive of that within the limits of incorporated cities, of which only 309 miles is State highway.

More Personal Testimony

Leeside: In re your recent story about the courteous rattlesnakes of the Mojave Desert:

I know of a case in which one of them crawled into a parked car, while the driver was eating lunch. When the driver finished, he tossed several doughnuts into the back seat. One hit the snake and annoyed it, but it bit only the holes of several doughnuts. The doughnuts quickly swelled to such an extent that a little farther on my friend was arrested for stealing tires, and his explanation was not fully credited until the snake obligingly woke up, bit the hole in another doughnut and convinced everybody. After that the driver made a pet of the snake and every time he got a flat would get his reptile friend to bite it and the tire would swell up hard again. But finally he had to get rid of the faithful pet because the snake, in its overenthusiasm, got to biting the tires so effectively that they swelled too much, and burst with loud reports.—Holmes B. The metals of the earth are heavy stuff,
But you and I have seen them ride the sky
When fashioned into grace from shapes as rough
As those of stones which on the mountain lie.

With wings and frame and struts of metal make,

And heart of steel can make the shadows shake
When magic breath of fire through it drones.

It moves! Along the mother soil it runs!

WE LIVE AND LEARN
By James J. Montague

I met a native Eskimo
Whose humble race was run
Amid surrounding ice and snow
Beneath the midnight sun.
He dwells beyond the range or reach
Of our enlightened mind,
And so I sought to suit my speech
To his untutored mind.

"No ketchum railroad train," said I,
"No see from your igloo
Big smoky engine hurry by
And go 'choo choo! Choo choo'"?
"To look for engines," he replied,
"On Greenland's snows is vain,
If I should need to go outside,
Of course, I'd go by plane."

I modified my dialect,
His manner was severe.
"Yet still," I told him, "I expect
Your life is rather drear.
You hear no lectures, see no shows;
The world of modern men
To you, who dwell among the snows,
Must be beyond all ken."

"You probably forget," said he,
"That though our life is slow,
It is not what it used to be:
We have the radio.
And having nothing much to do,
Excepting hunting bears,
We probably know more than you
About all world affairs."

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

ADMISSION TO THE BAR
[New York Sun]

The annual address of the president of the American Bar Association, Gurney E. Newlin, is weighty and full of meat, as becomes an official utterance of such importance. The eyes of laymen are naturally arrested by its pronouncements on two related problems of the profession—requirements of education and character for admission to the practice of the law and the rule-making powers of courts.

Two sentences stand out on the printed page: (1) "The strength of the law depends ultimately upon the confidence of the people;" and (2) "No man has a constitutional right to be an officer of the court." There can be no doubt that popular confidence in the legal profession has been somewhat shaken because of the ease and celerity with which incompetent and unproved persons are enrolled on its rosters. Indeed, there appear to be those among lawyers who think that any man has a right to be a lawyer provided he can learn enough in a cramming school to pass his bar examinations. This is not, as Mr. Newlin reminds his hearers, the case. If the State is to confer particular privilege upon an individual it has more than the right—it has the solemn duty—to impose the conditions upon which that privilege may be obtained. The fitness of an applicant on grounds of education and mental ability is only part of the story. Moral qualification is of equal importance.

BLUFFING AND RAZORS
[Buffalo Courier-Express]

"A second best navy," remarks Rear-Admiral Rodman, "is like a second best poker hand—and if any of those listening in ever have heavily backed a full house against four of a kind, you know what I mean."

Rear-Admiral Rodman is not entirely happy in his comparison. The grand old game of poker always carries a good deal of the element of bluff—sometimes with a razor just under the edge of the table. Naturally the Army and Navy are strong for poker.

What this spokesman of a war establishment forgets is that bluffing—and the razor—have got the world into a lot of trouble in all the years since man collectively has been contending with his fellows. Occasionally some one—also having a razor in his possession—called the other fellow's bluff and then there was trouble. For ten years now the world has been trying to recover from the effects of the last bluff, plus the razors, and it is only beginning to feel its way to a rehabilitated condition.

The state of mind to which the MacDonald-Hoover effort will lead us is that state in which there will be no occasion to make a bluff, and no razors, concealed or otherwise, to back the bluff. It may not offer so much excitement, but it will do a lot to promote other things better worth while.

THE CASE FOR EVOLUTION

BY EDWARD C. KRAUSS

The monograph of Gerrit S. Miller, Jr., curator of mammals of the National Museum, in which he points out the scarcity of paleontological evidence of man's animal descent, seems certain to precipitate a new storm of controversy, which will not be allayed by the curator's own declaration that he still believes the evolution theory, or by the explanatory note of Dr. Charles G. Abbott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, who says Mr. Miller merely means to point out a need for a more thorough search for such evidence.

More should not be read into Mr. Miller's paper than the paper contains, though it undoubtedly will be. The fact is that the paper is a restatement of facts already well known to students of the subject, in a new and more forcible form, and with a new and independent judgment upon them. Its importance cannot be discounted, but neither should it be overemphasized. After all it represents no more than Mr. Miller's opinion—an opinion entitled to great respect, and coinciding in the main with conclusions previously reached—but not necessarily the last word on the subject, even with regard to Piltdown man and to Pithecanthropus erectus, as these fossil remains are customarily described.

The case for man's evolution rests, as Mr. Miller would be the first to declare, upon far broader ground than the evidence furnished by paleontology. Evidence of it, according to experts on these subjects, is found in comparative anatomy, in biophysics, in biochemistry, in embryology, in pathology, in bacteriology and in other kindred lines of inquiry. The case for general organic evolution is far stronger, finding what is considered abundant evidence in paleontology also, since the lines of descent of a number of animals and plants have been traced with considerable completeness.

There is the additional fact that all of the evidence at hand points generally in a single direction, though some of it is conflicting as to detail and awaits adequate explanation. The agreements are far more numerous and important than the differences. The lack of proof to which Mr. Miller calls attention is a condition that applies to man's case alone.

Of course proof in no case is absolute, but since the days of Bishop Berkeley man has ceased to demand absolute proof of anything. The most that exists is a strong probability. There are wide differences of opinion concerning the interpretation of certain facts, but with this reservation the consensus seems to be that the theory of organic evolution furnishes the most probable explanation of man's origin and that his kinship with all other living beings is established beyond a reasonable doubt.

A mere lack of conclusive paleontological evidence, unfortunate as Mr. Miller deems it, cannot upset this consensus. It can be upset by the discovery of conclusive negative evidence, but this, so far, has not been made.

Why paleontological evidence, or better paleontological evidence, of this kinship is not at hand is another question. It may be for lack of exhaustive search, as Mr. Miller suggests; it may be because of the imperfection of the geological record, which was Darwin's explanation; or it may be because the force or forces in control do not propose to let man read the riddle of the universe. Providence is under no known bond to be wholly frank.

As to imperfection of the geological record, it has been pointed out many times that dawn man, if such a being existed, probably was not present on earth in vast numbers; that he probably was a frequenter of the dry uplands where he was not likely to leave fossil remains; that his intelligence kept him out of such dangers as were furnished by the La Brea pits, the muds, the quicksands and other fossil traps of the world; and that it is even possible that his early days were spent wholly on some now lost continent, such as fabled Atlantis, or in the Mediterranean basin before it was inundated by the sea.

Then, too, there are vast areas still unexplored, and almost any of these may hold the secret or secrets.

What Mr. Miller has done is to bring to sharp attention the fact that the fragmentary evidences of Sussex and Java are pitifully inadequate.

TREASURES

It was but yesterday I sought to find
Some dull prosaic document that lay
Deep in a wooden chest where treasures stray,
And old discarded knick-knacks are consigned,
Or anything that cumbers up the space
Of heart or home too filled with mundane things
For memories. Their ghostly presence brings
A blush of shame to my world-hardened face,
And as I close the chest and turn away,
I know I lock my heart with bar and chain
Lest I should feel.
In musty disarray
Letters of love and friendship there remain;
The last most precious one my father sent—
Oh! we are too hard pressed for sentiment!

OUR LAWN KILLERS

By William Hamilton Cline

The long, hot (whisper on that!) summer being over and the fall rains being in the offing we home folk are trying to save what lawns we have left around our modest domiciles.

And I rise to protest—echoed, I believe, by many thousands of other like victims—against the worst pest, nuisance, debilitator and enemy of velvety greensward known to an aspiring and prideful householder; that is, the irresponsible, unthinking, uncaring man or boy who distributes unsought, unwanted, unwelcome handbills, dodgers, throw-aways and such.

Now, there may be a legitimate purpose in the broadcasting promiscuously of such printed matter. At least, it gives jobs to printer folk. But beyond that, it must be admitted a sad waste of paper and ink, for few are read and still fewer ever acted upon. It is the crudest, most primitive form of advertising, and the percentage of waste in its use is well-nigh 100, if not more. It makes for ill-feeling, resentment and an adverse sentiment toward the firm using it. Most of it goes to kindle fires on vacant lots.

But beyond the mere fact of this matter, and the cluttering up of premises thereby, is the means of distributing the same. And here we come to the crux of the complaint:

To get this so-called publicity on doorsteps and into mail boxes are hired men and boys. They are given armfuls of it and are paid by the piece. The sooner they dispose of it the more they earn.

We householders have constructed walks to and from our front doors, the use of which obviates transit across our lawns—which, be it said, are costly enough in this land of sunshine and little rain. The utilization of the walk saves the grass—especially at this season, when fertilizer is spread and kept wet that the new-sown seed may sprout and attain its growth.

You'd naturally think that any human, seeing a soggy, seeded space surrounded by concrete passageways, would respect the former and tread upon the latter. But do these distributors of dodgers and such? They do not! To them, only one fact is worthy of consideration—a direct line connotes the nearest way between two points. And they take it, regardless.

The tender green just peeping forth, the soft bosom of fecund Mother Earth, makes no appeal to these gentry; all they see is a new destination via the shortest, quickest route; and the expensive nurture of a sward-to-be means nothing whatever to them save something easier for roughshod feet and a means of eliminating a yard or so of distance.

Between my neighbor's and my own home is a well-nigh barren trail worn by intruders of this ilk. Diagonally across my frontage is another, leading to the next house. They have been pounded down till they are almost the consistency of baked clay. A few spears of struggling and puny blue grass are trying vainly to match the luxuriant verdure around them, but the effort is so hopeless when, every time they look upward, some huge brogan crushes them back to earth—they not being truth, doomed never to rise again. Two streaks of almost barren ugliness accentuated by the cool refreshfulness that surrounds them.

Can nothing be done about this? Is there no recourse in law? Cannot these vandals be reached in any fashion? Must suffering home owners be compelled to submit to this desecration and ruin?

A constant watch is impossible. An effective dog is dangerous. A shotgun means trial at words, they laugh at and scorn, law and trouble. Warning What to do? What to do?

WHERE CAN I LEARN
English Grammar?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is included. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The Sentous Evening High School, 1205 West Pico Boulevard, has organized a class in English grammar and spelling, meeting on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and taught by Miss Anna Latimer, an English teacher of special training in this line and of many years experience.

The beginning class meets from 7 to 8 p.m. in room 216 and the advanced class meets from 8 to 9 p.m. in the same room. Students may visit both classes and decide for themselves in which they wish to enroll. In both classes student mistakes are corrected, and then explanations are given why a certain form is a mistake. The work also includes much drill on correct forms until good English grammar becomes a habit.

There is no charge for either of these classes and excellent books are loaned free, with just about $1 deposit asked for each book. People of all ages are welcome.

EDUCATION

That man has had poor education who's always lived on Easy street, who's known no trouble and privation, who never lacked good things to eat. Oh, I have trained with hoboes and wenches who know all manner of despair, and I have slept on outdoor benches when snow was flying in the air. And I have longed for crust and wiener as misers long for minted gold, and found my paunch growing leaner, because of hunger, thirst and cold. And I have walked the ties and rubbered at palace coaches roaring by, at dining cars, wherein the cupboard was well supplied with cake and pie. And now I'm located on the street called Easy, my gratitude is most complete, as I go toddling, old and wheezy, from garden seat to garden seat. Whenever I confront a plateful of vittals rare that do not cloy, I tell my aunt how truly grateful I am for blessings I enjoy. And when at night, I find a mattress soft and deep, I think of times when, cold, despairing, I sought a box in which to sleep. With happy, smiling around me, beneath my banyans and my pines, I think of who used to hound me, and harshly talk of jails and fines. I have unmixed appreciation all the good that now I know, because of want and grim privation that I encountered ago. And I have sympathy abounding for all who misfortune's grind, for who are the pavements pounding in search of jobs they can not find. I gathered up a lot of learning in hobo jungles and cold, collected lore at every turning that makes me now I'm old.

BROTHERHOOD IN INDUSTRY PLEA MADE BY PASTOR

James More Quotes Lord's Prayer in Pointing Way to Daily Bread

"With the coming of a broader, finer understanding between employers and employees, we can be assured of more bread because of a better brotherhood," declared Rev. James Harold More in his sermon yesterday at Plymouth Congregational Church.

"It is heartening to note how the spirit of democracy gradually is taking the place of force, how the credo of faith is being substituted for the credo of fear in industry," said Dr. More.

Speaking on "Our Daily Bread," the pastor spoke in part, as follows:

"If we could understand all that is involved in answering the prayer, 'Give us our daily bread,' the request again would seem insignificant. In the reply to that petition is the ministry of spring, the glory of summer, the snows of winter, breezes blown from afar and the gifts of sunshine and falling rain. Our bread is a gift, yet it comes to us through the labor of human workers bearing for us the heat and burden of the day. Again, this prayer can be answered only through human brotherhood. If we are to have more bread—that is, a higher scale of living—we must have more brotherhood, in industry and in the social, political and religious life of our nation."

BETTER UNION SOUGHT FOR JEWISH PEOPLE

Rabbi Martin Zielonka of Temple Mount Sinai, El Paso, Tex., was the speaker yesterday at Temple B'nai B'rith, preaching on "Just Among Ourselves." Dr. Zielonka said, in part:

"There is a current myth that will not down. No matter how often it is denied, there is the legend that the Jews are the best organized group in the world. Go where you will, the population is under the impression that there is a central organization and that every Jew responds immediately to the dictates that come from some unseen and unknown quarter. No matter how often, by printed word or eloquent address, attention is called to the fact that the Jew is the world's greatest individualist, the legend is still believed. Yet we have always been the least organized of social groups. People may believe that we are united, but we, within, know how divided we are. This November visit which brings me to your city gives me this message is the opportunity for the strong and vigorous Jewish population of America to announce to all that will make possible the development of a Judaism that will bring harmony and happiness to our children and children's children. I bespeak your co-operation in this work, so that American Jewry may develop an American Judaism that will satisfy our religious need, keep faith with the past, and at the same time keep faith with the spirit of freedom and fair play of America."

HAND OF GOD SEEN IN AMERICAN LIFE

"The Hand of God in American History" was discussed yesterday by Dr. H. C. Culbertson in his sermon at All Souls' Congregational Church. Dr. Culbertson said in part:

"One of the most marvelous facts of life is the way in which the free-will and free choice of human beings are supplemented and guided, controlled and when necessary, thwarted, by the mysterious overrulings of divine Providence. The story of our country is filled with instances of this moving and shaping by heavenly purpose. It was at the time when Europe was crushing tyrannically all impulses of freedom that Columbus was moved to discover a new world where political and religious liberty might develop.

SPIRITUAL UNITY OF CHURCHES ADVOCATED

"Truth is larger than any interpretation of it ever can be," declared Dr. W. Remfry-Hunt in his sermon yesterday at Brea Christian Church.

"Life is bigger than its processes and, like rivers of life, sometimes overflows its man-made banks," said Dr Hunt. "America should lead the world in team church programs. Our heterogeneous population should make this possible and the people should insist upon it. The varied colors of our creeds should be burned into the white prism of love. When the religious regiments step in tune and march in time to one grand anthem the world will believe. This is the supreme challenge to the church."

PASTOR CHANGES HIS VIEWS ABOUT DEITY

Celebrating the thirty-fifth anniversary of his ordination into the ministry, Dr. John Snape, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, in his sermon yesterday told his audience that if he knew he had thirty-five more years to live or thirty-five more lives to account for, he would put all those years or lives into the work of the Christian ministry. Discussing his changing conceptions of the Godhood, Dr. Snape said:

"Once I thought of God as a benevolent old gentleman with spectacles, then I thought of Him as a magnificent man, then that He was a policeman parading the beat of the world; then that He was a severe sovereign. Now I think of Him as an intelligent, toiling personality, as omnipresent and imminent Spirit, as a living, loving Father.

HOW MIND DEVELOPS CHARACTER EXPLAINED

"Some Simple Secrets of Finer Living" is the subject discussed yesterday by Dr. Sheldon Shepard at First Universalist Church. Dr. Shepard spoke in part as follows:

"The heaviest wheel in the determining influences of a career, a personality, a character, is turned by the thoughts which run in continual procession through the mind. We often hear the lie that thinking is hard work. Thinking is not only easy, it is inevitable. Every minute of every waking period every human being is thinking. Some of us try to fool ourselves into the impression that we are engaging in some process different from the average person's thinking. This is not so. The mind is a gallery of moving pictures and every flash on the screen tunes the life into its own nature. This, the simplest process in human life, is the most effective. Let us never forget—'As a man thinketh, so is he.'"

SELFISHNESS SCORED BY DR. J. G. DORN

"The Antidote of Selfishness" is the topic of a sermon preached yesterday by Dr. J. George Dorn at Hollywood Lutheran Church. Dr. Dorn said in part:

"There are many people who have a notion that the church is a sort of an ark in which the elect few may take refuge and float along in comfort over a perishing race. There are those who think the church is a kind of fairy boat intended to transfer idle passengers to the heavenly shores. There are those who believe that the church is a sort of an eternal life-insurance company, all obligations to which are discharged when the annual pledge or premium has been paid, and there are those who believe that the church is a sort of club organized to furnish an agreeable Sunday entertainment. The church is none of these. It is a life. It is to be the body of Christ, an instrument, a medium through which His spirit and life are to be made known in the world. This is the primary function of the church. Whenever a church sidetracks this function it is not minding its business, it is unfaithful to its commission and it belies its Master."

NEW AGE BELONGS TO YOUTH, PASTOR HOLDS

"The New Image of Jesus" is the subject discussed by Bramacharee Nerode yesterday at Mount Washington Center. Excerpts from the sermon follow:

"The new age belongs to youth that doubts and reasons, stumbles and yet pushes onward and forward. Youth demands a new orientation of all values and therefore a new image of Christ that can stand the rational and pragmatic criticism of this scientific age. Jesus, the Prince of Peace, was also a Prince of Reason. Living always in spirit, He gave matter its due in the saying, 'Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's.' He accepted no authority except that of truth. The revolt of youth that discards all precedents, laws and traditions was sublimated in Him as a righteous and ceaseless war against all iniquities and untruth. He postulated the freedom of thought and action in the sphere of spirituality. He brought out the immortal truths that the man is more important than the moralist, practice than theory, love than logic, character than wealth."

"SOUL AND BODY" MADE SUBJECT OF LESSON

"My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him." This declaration of David's confidence in God constituted the golden text in the lesson-sermon on "Soul and Body" yesterday in Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. Among the Bible texts in the lesson-sermon were these verses from Luke relating to Christ Jesus: "And he said unto his disciples, 'therefore, I say unto you, take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on. . . . And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. . . . But rather seek ye the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added unto you.'" A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," cited these words of Mary Baker Eddy: "If we follow the command of our Master, 'take no thought for your life,' we shall never depend on bodily conditions, structure or economy, but we shall be masters of the body, dictate its terms and form and control it with truth."

WOMAN'S WILL IN SHORTHAND

Unusual Document Filed After Explanation by Attorney

The will of Mrs. Hattie Newman, written in shorthand by her friend, Mrs. Harriet Nohmiller, was filed with the Probate Court yesterday, after Attorney Frank C. Dunham had explained to Superior Judge Stephens the unusual circumstances surrounding the drawing of the document.

Mrs. Newman, fearing death, asked her friend to hurry with the will. Before it could be transcribed she died. Her estate, valued at $10,000, is left to relatives.

STRONG CALLED TO WASHINGTON

Assistant Agricultural Head for State Honored

Becomes Director of Plant Quarantine Service

Los Angeles Man Wins Way to High Position

The Federal government has reached out again to draft a former Los Angeles boy for a seat among the mighty. This time it is L. A. Strong, who goes back to Washington to head the plant quarantine and control administration.

L.A. STRONG

Strong has arrived here from Sacramento, where he resigned as assistant Director of Agriculture for California, and will visit old friends a few days before assuming his new post at the national capital Sunday.

BEGAN HERE

Strong's career, now carrying him to the highest chair existing in quarantine work, began as a horticultural inspector for Los Angeles county in 1910. Two years later he inaugurated plant quarantine inspection at Los Angeles Harbor.

"In those days," he told Al Messenger, now chief of quarantine at the port, "I had no office, and had to learn of ships' arrivals from cigar stores. I finally made a deal for desk room in the office of the old San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company office, in return for checking baggage. I also swept out.

WINS PROMOTIONS

"In 1914 I found a vacant office in the old wharfinger building at Berth 88, and moved in. I couldn't find anyone to kick me out, so I held on till the State finally got its own offices."

Strong rose to the top of California quarantine work, developing it into the country's strongest, and three years ago went back to Washington to direct national port inspection work. His advancement to assistant Director of Agriculture for California brought him back to Sacramento, and he now returns to Washington to a still better job.

Engineer Tells of Savings Made on Storm Drains

Considerable saving in time and expense in the handling of storm-drain construction has been effected as the result of innovations inaugurated by the engineering department, City Engineer Shaw and Storm Drain Engineer Armstrong have reported to the Board of Public Works.

Two local companies, according to the report, are producing a reinforced concrete pipe by a centrifugal process for both sewer and storm-drain construction. This type of pipe is so strong, it is stated, that it can be made in lengths twice as long and will eliminate the concrete cradle, thus cutting down the cost and the time spent in construction.

The pipe also eliminates the offset at the joints, the report states, so that the water flows more swiftly. Since two companies manufacture this pipe, it is declared, the board gets competitive bids.

The savings will apply, the report declares, to Section 5 of the Jefferson-street storm-drain system, the contract for which recently was awarded, and the Alhambra-avenue and Valley Boulevard district, soon to be advertised.

Pitch Propeller Company Now Being Formed

A corporation for the manufacture of a pitch propellor and electric starter for airplanes is being organized in California by the Airplanes Appliance Company, on behalf of C. M. Fuller, president of the Richfield Oil Company. The articles of incorporation now are being prepared, according to an announcement of Meserve, Mumper, Hughes & Robertson, attorneys.

It is proposed to go into immediate production. No public offering of stock will be made as the corporation is completely financed and has been in informal existence the past two years, it was announced.

A. K. McLeod, mechanical engineer, has been conducting the experiments at the Fokker Aircraft Corporation field, Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., and with Col. Arthur Goebel at the Aero Corporation of California flying field here.

STRONG-ARM BANDITS GARROTE SAN PEDRAN

Ambushed in a dark alley near James Court and Center street, San Pedro, James Burns of 940 Seventeenth street, San Pedro, was choked into unconsciousness by two "strong-arm" bandits and robbed of $140 in cash, he reported to police late Saturday. Burns told police he had just started to cross the alley when the two men leaped upon him and dragged him into the shadows of the narrow street. As one twisted his arms behind his back the other choked him until he lost consciousness, he said. When he regained his senses the bandits were gone with his money.

AIR TOURISTS INCREASE

Tourists are using air transportation to California to a greater extent this year than ever before, J. T. Whitlaw, traffic manager of Standard Air Lines, Inc., said yesterday in announcing a substantial increase in west-bound traffic over the company's route between El Paso and Los Angeles. An investigation, he declared, has revealed an increase of 27 per cent over the amount of west-bound traffic in 1928.

RADIO FEE PLAN STUDY FINISHED

Senate to Get Commission's Report at End of Month

Dill and Others in Favor of Levy on Broadcasters

"Chasin' the Blues" Program on Schedule for KHJ

> The Times Forum, over KHJ at 10:30 a.m. will present Lee Shippey, editor of "Lee Side of L. A."

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The Federal Radio Commission practically has completed its investigation of the advisability of imposing upon radio transmitters a fee system, receipts from which would be used to defray the expenses of government control, according to advices from the national capital. The commission's report will be submitted to the Senate at the end of this month, in compliance with a resolution adopted last March at the instance of Senator Dill of Washington.

If, as is expected, the commission recommends introduction of the fee system, Senator Dill has announced that he either will submit a bill to put it into effect or seek to have it incorporated in the bill introduced by Senator Couzens of Michigan for the creation of a Federal Communications Commission.

COST OF CONTROL

Federal control of radio is expected to cost about $1,000,000 a year for some years to come. Senator Dill and others believe that the owners of broadcast stations should bear some if not all of that burden, instead of the taxpayers generally. With this in mind he introduced the resolution adopted by the Senate, asking the commission to recommend a scale of fees for the 600 broadcast stations, 16,000 amateurs, 2000 ship stations and 5000 or more stations of other types which now operate under Federal licenses.

Charges on transmitting stations long have been considered the only means by which the government can defray the cost of controlling radio and adhere to the policy that the listener is not to be taxed, as is done in most other countries. A tax on listeners would be provocative of friction, it is believed, and would tend to reduce the number of people who can have radio sets. The tendency in the United States has been to make radio as widespread an entertainment and educational factor as possible.

LAFOUNT OPPOSITION

There is considerable doubt as to whether the commission will be unanimous in its report to the Senate. When the matter first was broached, Commissioner Lafount expressed decided opposition to the plan, declaring it would react against the government by the curtailment of the contributions of time and service given by the stations to Federal, State and local agencies.

Assuming that 40,000,000 people use receiving sets daily, Lafount estimates the cost of Federal supervision of radio to be about 3 cents a year for each listener and believes that, in view of the great amount of service which the stations give the government, the latter well can afford to absorb the cost of control.

CHASIN' THE BLUES

Particularly popular with hospital patients and shut-ins, judging from KHJ mail, is the late afternoon program of the Don Lee station from 4 to 4:50 o'clock, which is termed "Chasin' the Blues." Today it will bring the pep of Charlie Wellman, the soothing voice of June Parker, the Four Blue Boys chasin' butterflies, Elvia Allman singing "Love Ain't Nothing But the Blues," with little Nell at the organ, and several happy numbers by Raymond Paige's orchestra.

At 8 p.m. KHJ will offer the "Blue Monday Jamboree" from KFRC, the Don Lee station in San Francisco, one of the most popular weekly programs on the Pacific Coast. Reversing its field smartly tonight, the jamboree will dive, delve or detour into the realm of classic literature and ancient history. The program will present "at great expense and as the result of extended research," the true account of Horatius, "the Roman youth who single-handed held a bridge against an army of invading bill collectors."

HERBERT MELODIES

Lovers of melodies from the pen of Victor Herbert will find a treat in a symposium of his music which is to come from KFI between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. The interpretations will be by Olive Kline, soprano, Allen McQuhae, tenor, and Theodore Webb, baritone, assisted by a splendid orchestra under the baton of Adrian Schubert.

Out of the ordinary should be the telling of a Blackfoot legend over KFI at 7:30 o'clock, by Chief Two-Gun White Calf, whose likeness appears on the Buffalo nickels. The program will be built around a small group of people who meet with adventure while making an inspection of Glacier National Park.

NEWLY INVENTED PIANO IN DEMONSTRATION

Western music lovers had their first opportunity last evening to hear a piano, invented by John Hays Hammond, Jr., with special sounding board equipment to increase and diminish the volume of sustained tone during the Atwater-Kent national broadcast hour. The piano was played by Lester Donahue, former resident of this city, who has been heard here in recent years with the Philharmonic and the Hollywood Bowl Orchestras.

Mr. Donahue played the piano during the program at 6:30 Pacific Coast time, on which Louise Homer, contralto, and Fritz Reiner, conductor, were the other artists. The numbers included "La Cathedrale Engloutie" by Debussy, "To a Water-Lily" by MacDowell, and "Liebestraum" by Liszt.

The tonal richness of the instrument is unique, and was demonstrated best in the Debussy composition, and portions of "To a Water-Lily."

Especialy in sustained chord passages were the instrument's individual qualities disclosed.

Mr. Donahue has played this piano at numerous concerts in the East and in Europe, and employed it as a soloist with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra on tour.

After spending seventeen years in New Zealand, Abraham Black, 65, recently returned to Leeds, Eng., and was promptly arrested and given the choice of paying his wife $1500 back alimony or going to jail for three months.

BOLD CASE WILL GO TO JURY TODAY

Whittier Physician Denies Responsibility for Death of Woman

The case of Dr. Francis J. Bold, Whittier physician charged with second-degree murder in connection with the death September 12, last, of Mrs. Carmelita Wilhite, is scheduled to go to the jury this morning in Superior Judge Wilson's court.

The State charges Mrs. Wilhite died from the effects of an illegal operation asserted to have been performed by Dr. Bold. The physician testified that Mrs. Wilhite already had been operated on when she first called on him for treatment and he denied being responsible for her death.

Arguments to the jury have been concluded and Judge Wilson will instruct the jurors immediately after court convenes this morning. If convicted Dr. Bold will face a prison term of from five years to life.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Barnes is prosecuting the case, while Attorney William T. Kendrick, Jr., is counsel for Dr. Bold.

Chinese Go Free as Officers Can't Tell 'Em Apart

Because Chinese "all look alike" to police officers who participated in a raid on 751 North Alameda street, twenty-eight of them were acquitted on gambling charges by a jury in Municipal Judge Sheldon's court.

The men, arrested for playing a Chinese guessing game, appeared for trial after Gin Wong and Din Wong, brothers had been convicted of conducting the game. Officers Southard and Duncan told of arresting the Chinese on October 28, last. On cross-examination by Al McDonald and S. W. Thompson, defense attorneys, they were unable positively to identify any of the defendants.

"They all look alike to me," both officers admitted.

Eight other Chinese, arrested for gambling with dominoes during the same raid, pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Lahey and paid fines of $10 each. Gin Wong and Din Wong will appear before Judge Sheldon tomorrow on a motion for a new trial.

Open Gas-Jet Fine Suspended

"Let the gas company worry about capping that gas jet," Sanko Zamanigan, second-hand stove dealer of 3701 South Vermont avenue, told Mrs. O. H. Douglas, 947 South Magnolia avenue, after disconnecting her gas stove, which he had purchased, she said.

Mrs. Douglas telephoned the gas company about it, with the result that City Plumbing Inspector Charles Bailey arrested Zamanigan on charges of failing to cap an open gas jet. He pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Lahey, who suspended a $150 fine on Zamanigan's promise to be more careful in the future.

Bailey produced in court newspaper pictures showing the result of an explosion which killed three persons last year. It was caused, the article declared, by an uncapped gas jet.

PAIR FREED IN CHARGE OF MURDER ATTEMPT

Charges of attempted murder against Albert Swindle, 44 years of age, of 3248 West Tenth street, and his wife, Mrs. Marie Swindle, 34, were dismissed by Municipal Judge Ballard at the conclusion of their preliminary hearing, following a motion by L. J. Moses, defense attorney, who contended that the evidence against them was insufficient. Testimony showed that Mrs. Swindle and her husband, armed with a tack hammer and a monkey-wrench, attacked Haig Postonian, a butcher employed in the Swindle grocery at 3311 West Tenth street, after he cursed Mrs. Swindle and struck her in the face. The court held that there was no evidence as to whether Swindle or Postonian struck the first blow, and that Mrs. Swindle's actions were clearly in self-defense.

WOMEN HURT IN FIGHT WITH HOME INTRUDER

Slashed with a knife and bitten by a burglar concealed in her apartment early yesterday morning, Mrs. Zella Johnson, with the aid of her mother, Mrs. Pearl Hill and daughter, Mrs. Tommy Catalina, severely beat the intruder and sent him fleeing. The man escaped through the communicating door of an adjoining apartment, leaving a trail of blood.

In a statement to police Mrs. Johnson asserted she was awakened about 2 a.m. when an acquaintance of her son-in-law's knocked at the door and asked for Mr. Catalina. She said the burglar leaped from a closet and grappled with her when she went into a front bedroom to inform Catalina of the visitor.

Using a heavy stick and an ornamental radiator cap as weapons, her mother and daughter came to her assistance, beating the man about the head and shoulders, Mrs. Johnson said. At this point the man began to bite and brought a knife into play, finally breaking away and escaping.

Mrs. Johnson was treated at the Receiving Hospital for knife cuts and bites on the hands and arms and Mrs. Hill for a bite, barked shins and twisted ankle. Mrs. Catalina was uninjured.

Catalina was not awakened in time to take part in the fight. Mrs. Johnson reported the loss of her purse and $40.

SCHOOL FOREST CENTER AT CLEAR CREEK OPENED

Forest Service officials, water conservation groups, teachers and school children took part in the dedication of the Los Angeles City School Forest Center at Clear Creek yesterday. The ceremonies were conducted in a unique dormitory building which had been constructed entirely from scraps of lumber by school pupils.

John Steven McGroarty was the principal speaker. He told of the great progress that has been made in dedicating the Angeles National Forest into a recreation area. The new center is located at the old Edison Camp No. 8 on the Vincent-Edison Road. Among those taking a leading part in the ceremonies was Frank A. Bouelle, superintendent of Los Angeles city schools.

Arrivals for the ceremonies began making applications for Federal passes over the Mt. Lowe road before sunrise. Most of those attending were hikers and several score were prepared to camp all night.

In his address Mr. McGroarty told of the work done by the government in converting a desert waste into a potentially valuable watershed.

CRITIC WINS IN DRAMA AT EGAN

"Her First Night" Given Premiere Showing Before Large Audience

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Aiming as it apparently does to make the world safe for dramatic critics "Her First Night," which opened last evening at the Egan Theater, certainly deserves a long and healthy run. A reviewer could hardly prognosticate less for a piece that is so obviously in favor of all reviewers as this particular one eventually turns out to be.

"Her First Night" is a piece written by Sidney Toler and William J. McNally, and is having its first production on any stage. The Egan Theater is under a management which, I believe, now hopes to make it the home of premieres, and assuredly far less effective beginnings toward this end have been made than the current attraction.

The play by Toler and McNally has several well-contrived dramatic situations, and reaches a bang-up climax at the end of the second act. There is so much suspense that you are likely to hurry back from the inevitable between-the-acts cigarette, that is provided you smoke one, to discover what is going to happen during the third.

Whether Messrs. Toler and McNally have a play that will actually go with the popular audience might be a subject of inquiry. There is a chance that "Her First Night" will be too restricted in its appeal, and also that it will lack the entertaining values in its earlier scenes. The first act, and a goodly part of the second, incline to drag.

However, things improve materially when the scheme of a theatrical producer to make a monkey out of a critic is fully launched, and when eventually the critic turns the tables on the theatrical producer and the actress who is a party to the hoax.

Briefly, the play presents the scheme of a star and her manager to get even with a dramatic reviewer for a bad write-up on a show. The idea is that the actress shall give said reviewer a personal exhibition of her talents by feigning to be a young lady much distressed because she is being forced into an unhappy marriage.

This very hokumish story goes over beautifully, but it so happens that one of the reasons that it does is because the dramatic critic had once had a chance meeting with the actress on a train trip. He never learned her name, nor was she at that time sufficiently famous to be identified by him from any stage appearances.

The scheme finally doesn't work out, because the critic stages his own show, and it is full of enlivening developments. Naturally, in the finale he is actually won over by an interest in the actress.

"Her First Night" includes a cast of only six people, with Gene Lewis, Jack Magee and Virginia Kami as the principals.

Mr. Lewis impersonates the critic, Miss Kami the actress, and Mr. Magee the theatrical producer. The performance of this cast has much to commend it in the later scenes. Lewis and Magee entertain royally for a while in the opening scene with their colloquy between the newspaper man and the producer. The dialogue here is very realistic. This opening act drops a little later on, however.

Miss Kami's portrayal of the girl seeking to intrigue the reviewer in the second scene is meritorious in its naturalness. She shows an increasing adequacy as the show progresses.

Arthur Allard, Robert Williamson and Arthur Lovejoy are in the cast, Williamson achieving favor in a small part. The mountain cabin setting of the second and third acts is attractive.

The audience for the play was near capacity.

George Arliss Essays Role of Prime Minister

The crowning achievement of Disraeli in securing for Queen Victoria the title of Empress of India forms the conclusion of the gripping drama, "Disraeli," the Vitaphone production in which George Arliss stars at Warner Brothers Hollywood Theater.

For the first time in English history, a sovereign Queen went to a reception given by one of her prime ministers. British rules of court etiquette were very strict on this subject. So it may be well imagined what a furor it caused when Victoria decided that an especial compliment should be paid Disraeli.

The plot of the story revolves around Disraeli's acquisition of the Suez Canal by purchasing the shares of the improvident Khedive of Egypt at a time when Russia was attempting to acquire them. Assisting Arliss in this dramatic picture are Joan Bennett, Anthony Bushell, Florence Arliss, David Torrence, Ivan Simpson and Doris Lloyd. Al Green directed.

"Bad Babies" Starts Again at Playhouse

"Bad Babies," the George Scarborough drama of modern youth, has reopened at the Figueroa Playhouse. The author has made a few minor changes in the play, mainly having to do with the language, but the lesson which the drama carries is as poignant as ever, it is said.

The reopening of the play was marked by two changes in the cast. Gloria Grey succeeded Jobyna Ralston in the role of Calla, and Rhoda Cross essayed the role of Goops, the slavey. Others are Mervyn William, Arthur Rankin, Annette Westbay, Elinor Flynn, Dario Shindell and Norman Peck.

KNOWS SHOW LIFE

Few persons in Hollywood know more phases of show life than Hal Skelly, featured player in Paramount's "Behind the Makeup." He has been in circuses, burlesque shows, medicine shows, musical comedies, dramas and is now in motion pictures.

PLAYHOUSE DRAMA CAST ANNOUNCED

Mabel Gibson Given Role Opposite Guy Bates Post in "Climax"

Henry Duffy has chosen Mabel Gibson, an Australian prima donna, for the role of Adelina Von Hagen in "The Climax," the comedy-drama which brings Guy Bates Post to the Hollywood Playhouse Saturday as guest star with the Henry Duffy Players.

This will be Miss Gibson's first appearance in America. She arrived recently on a holiday trip around the world, following six consecutive seasons in Australia in Gilbert and Sullivan operas, as Hugette in "The Vagabond King" and in the leading role in "The Year of Grace."

Guy Bates Post will have his favorite character role of Luigi Golfanti, the lovable and elderly music teacher, while his son, Pietro, the young composer, will be played by Manuel Galea, a pianist-actor, who was born in Cadiz, Spain. Gale Gordon, who was seen here last in "Skidding," has been chosen for the role of the doctor.

Harry Lauder to Present Varied Program Here

Sir Harry Lauder, globe-trotter, world character and versatile entertainer, will be the attraction with his company of assisting artists at the Philharmonic Auditorium starting tonight. It has been several years since the singing comedian appeared before a Los Angeles audience, and it is said to require no great stretch of memory to recall the crowds and enthusiasm of former engagements.

Lauder is a stage character who is not readily forgotten, and he seems to have the profitable faculty of keeping himself in the public eye, whether he is in America, Scotland or far off India. The little impersonator of Scottish characters has only recently returned from New Zealand, which was one of the high spots on his latest world tour. He has no idea of retiring.

It is doubtful, however, if Lauder will ever make another tour of the Pacific Coast and subsequent tours are likely to be confined to the Eastern States and Canada. Yielding, it is announced, to popular demand, he has revived a number of the old songs that first won distinction and a following for him on this side of the world.

Noted Director Also Adapter of Screen Success

When Luther Reed, R.-K.-O. associate producer and director of "Rio Rita," now showing at the Carthay Circle Theater, allowed his name to be publicized as the adapter of the noted Zeigfeld piece, he burned his bridges behind him.

If "Rio Rita" had been a "flop," Reed could have blamed the failure on the screen story, it is said, a procedure frequently followed by directors who have actually written their own adaptations but refused to take the credit for them.

Instead of shunning responsibility, however, Reed stood ready to take the full blame as the adapter director and cosupervisor, staking his entire reputation on the success of "Rio Rita" and in a large measure the reputation of the young R.-K.-O. organization, which had not only invested a fortune in the picture, but had selected it as its first "special" production.

DURYEA COMPLETES SIXTH SCREEN ROLE

George Duryea has completed his sixth screen characterization made during the past few months. With the final scenes shot on "Dude Wrangler," in which he plays the leading title role, Duryea's list of recent characterizations vary from the sympathetic boy part he enacted in "Thunder," at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, to the courageous American aviator in "Marked Money" at Pathe.

Some of his other recent roles are in "Honky Tonk," "Tide of the Empire" and "The Godless Girl."

ARTISTRY AT PIANO REVEALED

Ignaz Friedman Presents Variety of Fine Numbers at Philharmonic

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Ignaz Friedman, the great Polish pianist of the day, played before a large audience at the Philharmonic Auditorium yesterday afternoon and left his listeners spellbound by his musical eloquence. The superlative adjectives usually used in describing famous players of the past and seldom true of the concert pianists who crave attention today, are all applicable to Friedman. His technique is nothing short of astounding. He has the mastery of a great mind, the heart of an artist and has acquired the ripe mellowness of a life of rich experience with the genius of understanding.

We hear that piano-playing is going out. If the young pianists who attempt to gain the approval of the public by fireworks and modern superficialities were of the sort who could profit by the example of a Friedman, piano-playing would come in again.

This leonine Pole began with the delicacy of a Mozart Rondo done with as nice a taste as any displayed by the most finished string quartet. His runs were like neon lights, rippling along without a break and the way the melodies kept singing above the piano made one fall in love with Mozart anew. In contrast came the Bach-Busoni Chaconne, monumental work for an orchestral pianist. No others should try it. It was an inspiring performance, reaching great heights of tone without one minute of pounding and portraying the nobility of Bach with the utmost sincerity.

Eight Chopin numbers composed the second group. Many of them were new to most audiences. They were superbly played and Friedman seemed to grow young with Chopin. In astonishing rapidity he tossed them off, but every phrase was polished until it shone and not one slighted.

Schumann's Papillons, the Liszt F minor Etude, and intervening encores were all of this period, and then the versatile master played four Balcanic dances by Tajcevic, with all the mechanistic perfection of the extreme modernist, and followed these characteristic expressions, by Debussy's Soiree dans Grenade, in an impeccably correct manner. For the first time in the afternoon he did not realize the spirit of the composer. As a farewell, touched with sentiment, Friedman played two Viennese dances and generously responded to the great enthusiasm of his audience with many encores.

"RIO RITA" FIESTA PLANNED AT HOTEL

Tonight notables of Hollywood's film colony will assemble in the Blossom Room of the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel for the "Rio Rita" frolic, honoring the celebrities identified with the R.-K.-O. Ziegfeldian spectacle.

The gala atmosphere that surrounded the opening of the Bebe Daniels picture at the Carthay Circle Theater is expected to attend the Blossom Room event. John Boles, George Renavent, Bert Wheeler and Harry Tierney, the composer of "Rio Rita," will be honor guests, together with Luther Reed, director of the R.-K.-O. musical extravaganza

FAVORITES RETURN TO ORPHEUM

Van and Schenck Resume Variety Activity; Other Acts Also Please

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

There's another collection of tried-and-true troupers performing at the Orpheum this week.

Such names as Van and Schenck, Al K. Hall, Flo Lewis, Lew Pollack and Henry Dunn adorn the bill. They give elegant performances, too, for the most part; the same kind they have been giving the many years they have been coming to Orpheum parts.

Van and Schenck top the bill. From them come songs: "At the End of the Road," "I'm Goin' Back to Ireland," "Love is a Funny Thing," "I Ain' Got Nothin' Now," "What Do I Care," "Broadway Melody" and some more. Van sings a few numbers by himself; so does Schenck. Some they sing together. They're just the same jolly harmony boys they've been on previous visits, which means they're very good, indeed.

Now Al K. Hall is known sometimes as the big shoe comic. He wears an enormous pair of leathers which he flaps about as a duck does her webbed feet. He has a red bulbous nose, a derby and among his suits is that one which is traditional in all savory burlesque shows—the oversized one.

Hall called his offering "The Sap at the Beach." I didn't see any connection between the title and the offering, except that there were a couple of bathing girls in evidence. As a matter of fact, there wasn't much sense to anything that went on—there was just a lot of good old-time clowning that had the audience doubled up in their seats most of the time. Eddie Cassell, Heather Anderson and Lita Ridell were able members of the supporting company. Both the girls danced well and one was a pretty fair comedienne in her own right.

Although well toward the beginning of the program, Lew Pollack, song writer, and Henry Dunn, songster, appeared to excellent effect. Pollack was at the piano, Dunn by the side (singing) with two cute young things who danced, making occasional appearance. Among the songs were "I'd Do Anything for You," "Where Are You," "By the Way" (a new Pollack effort in collaboration with some one) and a medley of theme songs. Miss Alice Weaver danced the "Breakaway" and "Dance of the Painted Dolls."

All dolled up in plaids and plumes Flo Lewis did what she termed a "lyrical narrative in a musical setting" entitled "Give Us a Lift." It had to do with an automobile ride, was exceedingly broad, but very funny.

Neat rope tricks came from Don Cummings, the dude lariat twirler, while all kinds of tunes were played by Ross's Twenty-five Lilliputians, termed the only midget band in the world. And—there as a Spanish tango—a soft-shoe dance and a Russian folk number from Frank Evers and Greta, first on the line of march.

Fox Actress to Appear Tonight at Loew's State

As a special feature of the celebration of anniversary week at Loew's State, Marguerite Churchill, young Fox star, now appearing opposite Paul Muni in "Seven Faces," will make two personal appearances on the stage tonight in conjunction with the showing of the all-dialogue and romance picture.

To climax the offerings of the week, Fanchon and Marco are presenting a cast of seventy-five singers and dancers in their "Carnival Russe" idea, making it the most spectacular revue, in point of numbers, yet to reach the Loew's stage.

All of the color and abandon of the old Russia and the spirit of the new are reflected in the costumes, songs, dances and sets of the idea, it is said. The greater number of the entertainers, headed by Countess Sonia and Sam Linfield, are native Russians.

Frances Starr Tells Need for Better Dramas

"The so-called disappearance of 'great actors' can be laid to the fact that playwrights are no longer writing great roles for them," says Frances Starr, appearing with the Henry Duffy Players at El Capitan in the comedy, "The Shelf."

"There is no doubt that we are outgrowing the old forms and groping for something to express the medley of impressions that come to us day by day, but I hope the day of fine acting will return through the medium of fine plays. I don't mean the acting era of declamation that we read about, but new plays which will give us Cyranos and Shylocks, Portias, Rosalinds, and Noras—roles that have made acting an ambition."

DEBATERS SET FOR FIRST TILT

Triangular Contest to Take Place Tomorrow

U.S.C. Team Will Clash With Stanford Here

Another Group Will Take on Berkeley Men

"Resolved, That modern science tends to destroy theistic faith," will be the subject of the triangular contest when the University of Southern California varsity debate squad meets Stanford University and the University of California tomorrow in the first forensic battle of the 1929-1930 season.

Under the triangular arrangement the affirmative team of each university remains at home. The U.S.C. negative squad will engage the University of California squad in Berkeley, while the affirmative men meet the Stanford debaters in Bovard Auditorium.

In the debates the audience will decide the winning team, using the "shift of opinion" method.

Gregson Bautzer and Glenn Jones will represent S.C. in the northern city and Ames Crawford and J. Woodward Latham meet the Stanford contingent at home, according to Allan Nichols, varsity debate manager.

GUN USER DETAINED IN KILLING

Story of Chicken-Coop Robbery Being Checked by Officers

Shot twice through the abdomen, Bernardino Moreno, 35 years of age of 280 West Industrial street, Inglewood, died at the General Hospital early yesterday morning.

Transito Reyes, 55, of 441 Ballona street, Inglewood, who did the shooting, according to Inglewood police, is held at the Inglewood Jail. He gave himself up to Sergt. Spurgeon, the latter stated, admitting that he shot Moreno when he caught him in his chicken coop at his home on Ballona street.

Spurgeon declared Reyes's story is being checked as Moreno, he said, was shot in the front part of the body while Reyes says that he fired at Moreno when he was running away from the chicken coop.

RUM CRAZED POLICEMAN RUNS AMUCK

City Officer Later Jailed Misses Slaying Innocent Man Only by Accident

Crazed with liquor, it is believed, John G. Buchanan, police officer, ran amuck with an automatic pistol at Sixth and San Pedro streets last night, attempted to hold up two pedestrians and a killing was averted only when the automatic, thrust against the body of one of the victims, jammed.

He was captured hiding behind an automobile in a corner auto park a few minutes later by Officers Olewine and Wilson of the flying squadron after an excited crowd of spectators had collected and numerous cries of "lynch him" were heard.

LOCKED UP IN JAIL

Taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital he was pronounced under the influence of liquor by Police Surgeon Lopovitch. He was ordered locked up in City Jail on suspicion of robbery by Captain of Detectives McMahan.

The victims of the assertedly crazed officer who narrowly escaped death were Victor Kasman of 6354 South Cottage street and William Howard of 134 South Main street.

Kasman stated that he was waiting on the corner of Sixth and San Pedro streets for a girl when the officer approached weaving wildly across the street. Buchanan stepped directly in front of him, he said, and demanded a cigarette. Kasman said he proffered the cigarette.

"Stick up your hands," Buchanan suddenly cried, according to Kasman.

COUNCILMAN'S CHAUFFEUR

"I said I would not," declared Kasman, "and then he whipped the automatic from a pocket and thrust it against my stomach. He pulled the trigger several times as I yelled for help."

At this point Howard walked over. Buchanan whirled upon him and ordered him to also raise his hands.

"I took my money out of my pocket," said Howard, "and offered it to him."

By that time a crowd attracted by the yells of the victims and Buchanan's wild display of the pistol collected and the officer, declining the valuables, ran into the auto park.

Officers Olewine and Wilson passing at the moment on another call were called to the scene by several of the spectators. Weaving through the milling crowd they entered the auto park and after a brief search found Buchanan crouched behind a parked car, they said. Buchanan has been acting as chauffeur for Councilman Ingram, according to police.

STUDENTS TO ATTEND EXHIBITION

Classes in Architecture Will Inspect Display of Better-Homes Plans

Students of the architectural course at the Polytechnic High School will study the prize-winning drawings today in the 1929 National Better Homes Architectural competition being shown at the Architects' Building, Fifth and Figueroa streets.

The students, under the direction of the instructor, C. A. Faithful, will visit the exhibit at 10 o'clock this morning. Some of the outstanding features of the drawings will be pointed out in a brief talk by Harold O. Sexsmith, well-known architect and past president of the Los Angeles Architectural Club.

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock students of the architectural courses at the Roosevelt High School and the Frank Wiggins Trade School will visit the exhibit to study the designs. David Witmer, member of the jury of wards that selected the local winners in the competition, two of which won national honors, will talk to the students on the designs.

The exhibit enters its final week of display this week, and will be open to the public daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. It will not be open in the evenings and will not be open on Thanksgiving Day. There is no admission charge to the exhibit.

SET-BACK LINES SOUGHT

A petition asking for fifteen-foot setback lines in Lanewood avenue from La Brea avenue to Orange Grove avenue has been filed with the Council by C. M. McLaughlin and others and referred to the City Planning Commission and City Planning Committee.

Plans for New U.C.L.A. Chair Cited

Noted Thespians to Present Shakespeare

R. D. MacLean as Falstaff and Maude Fealey as Mistress Page in "Merry Wives of Windsor," to be presented here during Shakespeare Week.

PLANS to establish a chair of Shakespeare at the University of California at Los Angeles hinge on the success of the week of Shakespeare to be given at the new Westwood Theater, starting next Monday, under the auspices of the Shakespeare Foundation of California, the foundation has announced.

Success in Los Angeles may lead to similar action at the University of California at Berkeley.

Next week's offerings will include "Richard III" which opens Monday for three evening performances, and "The Merry Wives of Windsor," which opens Thursday for three evening performances and a Saturday matinee. Tickets are on sale at the Philharmonic Auditorium box office, Fifth and Olive streets.

PAVING PETITION AIDED

Another petition asking for the paving and improving of the new Third street from Figueroa street to Vermont avenue has been received by the Council, this time from the Heliotrope Drive and Beverly Boulevard Property Owners' Association. The request was referred to the Public Works Committee, which has the matter before it.

STREET EXTENSION PLEA REFERRED

The Council has referred to the City Engineer and Public Works Committee a petition signed by a number of property owners headed by Anna W. Walker asking for the extension southerly of Los Angeles street as contemplated in the Major Traffic Plan. The petition asks that Los Angeles street be opened and extended from Twenty-third street to Thirty-seventh street and that Woodlawn avenue be widened to eighty feet from Thirty-seventh street to Vernon avenue, thus taking the flow of traffic from the terminus of the proposed Los Angeles-street extension.

Of Interest to Women

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

Mrs. Duffield, wife of the publisher, Pitts Duffield, is in Paris for some months, with her husband. Their attractive daughter, Miss Carolyn Duffield, is taking several courses at the Sorbonne. Mrs. Duffield will soon publish in a Pacific Coast magazine a series of delightful reminiscenses of her days in Washington, D. C., as the daughter of Joseph McKenna, Representative, Attorney-General and justice of the Supreme Court, and her souvenirs, which give a remarkable portrait of President McKinley, rounded out with many happy sidelights and anecdotes, and told with much grace. Among the intimate friends of the Duffield family was the late Frank Munsey. In addition to her other qualities, Mrs. Duffield has the merit of being a Californian, and curiously enough proclaims it. She left the Pacific Coast at an early age; much may be made of a Californian if caught young.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Grace are among the prominent Americans sojourning on the other side at the moment. They have been traveling in Germany recently, but are returning to Paris this week. When in America, the Graces call Manhasset, L. I., their home.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bruce have arrived in Paris after a short visit in London and will be at the Hotel Ritz for several weeks. Mrs. Bruce will be remembered as the pretty daughter of Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury. When the Bruces were first married, he was in the diplomatic corps and was stationed in Rome. They are making their first long visit to Europe since Mr. Bruce resigned from his post in Rome to go into business in America.

Mrs. Earl L. Hambleton of Chicago, and her daughter Margaret, are stopping in Paris for the moment and becoming better acquainted with the French capital by taking out temporary membership at the Interallice, one of the leading clubs.

Among the present visitors to Paris is the very attractive young daughter of James H. Van Alen, who arrived on the liner Olympic and flew with her brother, William Laurens Van Alen, and her chaperone, Miss Gertrude De Voe, from Cherbourg to Paris. The Van Alen summer home Wakehurst is one of the beautiful places of Newport. The family also is identified with London, Mr. Van Alen having a home there. Miss Louise Van Alen is a niece of Mrs. Griswold Thompson, who is a frequent visitor to this side.

Mr. and Mrs. Elihu Clement Wilson and their daughter, Miss Adelaide and Betty Wilson, are at the Hotel Continental in Paris, going over last week from New York, aboard the Ile de France.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Negruzzi, Mrs. Constance Plant and Miss Elizabeth Wright were among the California passengers aboard the White Star liner Homeric which arrived at Cherbourg, France, from New York last week.

The unexpected might be expected from a young woman who was secretary to Edward L. Doheny one year and not long afterward a literary collaborator of Emma Goldman. Thus it is not surprising to hear that Miss Miriam Lerner has abandoned the pen for the paint brush. Miss Lerner, who has been in St. Tropez on the Mediterranean for the last five or six months, has returned to Paris where she is now looking at everything through a painter's eyes. She has put her novel and playwrighting pencil on the shelf for use in the distant future after she has her first one-woman exhibition.

Mrs. Mary Bartley and Mrs. Betty Locker, who have been traveling in Austria, were recent visitors to Vienna, where they registered at the Hotel Imperial.

Californians on the Ile de France included Charles J. Hall of Los Angeles, L. D. Stanley, wealthy rancher of Lancaster, and Mrs. Stanley; Howard H. Adams and Mrs. Adams of Los Angeles.

An interesting American colony wedding was celebrated last week at the American Women's Club of Paris when Miss Helen Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Nelson of Paris, became the bride of Arthur L. Ocheltree of Riverside. The Rev. F. W. Beekman of the the American Cathedral Church of the Holy Trinity officiated.

Franklin Riffle, retired civil engineer of San Diego, died in Paris last week at the age of 71 years. His wife was in constant attendance at the bedside.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Mixsell of Pasadena, are at the Miramare Hotel in Cannes, France, for the early winter season there.

F. M. Dean of Beverly Hills was a recent visitor to Genoa, Italy, where he registered at the Hotel Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford De Mar, who have been traveling in Switzerland, were recent arrivals in Zurich, where they stopped at the Hotel Baur au Lac.

Mrs. L. E. Kerckhoff and a party from Hollywood, have been visiting in Venice, Italy, guests of the Grand Hotel.

Harry B. Kingsbaker and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Von Neindorf are in Biarritz, France, for the winter season there, staying at the Hotel du Palais.

Mr. and Mrs. James Flood, who have been touring Austria, were recent arrivals in Vienna, where they registered at the Hotel Bristol.

Harry Morgan of Beverly Hills, is a guest of the Grand Hotel Baglioni in Florence, Italy. William Hamilton of Los Angeles has been stopping at the same hotel.

Vicomtesse Pierre De Rostang entertained at luncheon in her apartment in the Rue Raffet in Paris last week in honor of Mrs. Norman Spencer Dennis of Beverly Hills.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

PEANUT STUFFED GOOSE

Select a fat goose, thoroughly clean, and let soak for one hour in a mixture of equal parts of vinegar and water. Drain, dry and wipe well. Mix one cupful of fine bread crumbs with one-half a cupful of finely chopped peanuts, add half a cupful of cream, and two tablespoonfuls of the goose fat, rendered. Season with salt, pepper, a half a teaspoonful of thyme, and one tablespoon of onion juice, pare, core and quarter two sour apples, and stick two whole cloves in each quarter, combine these with the dressing, fill the goose with it, sew up, and roast. Serve with a grapefruit sauce.

GRAPEFRUIT SAUCE

Toast in the oven until nicely browned, enough stale bread to make one cup of fine crumbs, mix with them one-fourth of a cupful of melted butter, a seasoning of salt and pepper, two tablespoonfuls of tomato ketchup, one cupful of grapefruit juice, and one well-beaten egg. Place in a double boiler and cook, stirring carefully until the egg makes the mixture slightly creamy. Just before serving, stir in one-half a cupful of tart, red jelly.

EGG AND MUSHROOM CROQUETTES

Place in the top of a double boiler one-fourth of a cupful of butter and one-half a cupful of flour, and stir until the mixture boils, carefully stir in one cupful of chicken broth, and one-fourth of a cupful of cream, season with salt and paprika and stir until the mixture is smooth. Let simmer slowly for five minutes, then add the finely chopped whites of three hard-boiled eggs, the yolk of the three eggs pressed through a fine sieve, and one-half a cupful of finely chopped mushrooms, pour the mixture in a shallow pan and allow to chill. Then form into small balls, or cylinders, roll in crumbs, then in egg, again in crumbs and fry in deep hot shortening; serve garnished with asparagus tips.

PEACH BUTTERSCOTCH PASTRIES

Make a rich pie pastry, take one-half of a canned peach, drain well and fit the pastry around it, not covering the top, take six tablespoonfuls of butter, three tablespoonfuls of flour, one-fourth of a cupful of light syrup, three-fourths of a cupful of brown sugar, two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of mace, rub the butter and flour together and the syrup, sugar, lemon juice and mace. Place in a double boiler and cook until thickened, place the peach pastry in a baking dish, fill the centers with the sauce, cover with latticed strips of pastry, and bake in a hot oven. Serve with whipped cream.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

A Great Protection

When frying fish or anything that is likely to spatter grease, it is a good suggestion to slip an ordinary paper bag over the hand holding the fork. Many a nasty burn will be avoided.

Try and Do It

In your provision closet should be a can of soup, a package of crackers, a can of salmon or tuna fish, a jar of salad dressing, olives and a can of peaches. Then let anyone try to embarrass you by appearing unexpectedly for luncheon.

Much Safer

When you have plenty of time to stir the custard constantly a plain sauce pan may be used for the purpose, but if you are busy with many other things by all means use the double boiler so there can be no chance of scorching or sticking.

Hotter Food

Before carrying hot liquids to the sick room fill the container with boiling water and let stand for a few minutes. Pour out and fill with the nourishment. The food will stay hot longer and the journey through the house to the patient will not affect the temperature of the food.

The management of a London theater is introducing a novelty in the shape of a program which may be read in the dark, when the lights are down, for instance. This is accomplished by printing the program in white upon black paper and the type may be discerned very readily when held up in front of the eyes with the dim light shining through the white letters.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 9 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

PUT THE BABIES TO WORK!

When mothers say to me: "Tell me how I can get my children to help me with the daily tasks, without whining?" they have really put the whole question of how to live with one's children. There is one way which never works in any family and that is to make work a serious, unpleasant business, which isn't any fun and which any child will escape if possible, and to make it a whole-hearted game which is more fun to play than any other game.

This attitude is lost after five years. Before that time the child longs to imitate every adult activity and if allowed to do so will become a veritable dynamo of energy in the household. If told to "run along and don't bother mother" he or she runs along and when older the mother can plead, implore, hold out inducements, and shame the child for laziness all without noticeable effect. Begin early to let children help and they will grow into a sense of responsibility and find taking care of "their" house fun. If it is just mother's and father's house that is another question.

Mrs. H. is a notable example of the housewife who never finds it too much trouble to let the little ones help. She says:

"Here are some of the things my small family, all under four, do without being told. Last week I was busy with the laundry before they were up. When I came in they were dressed, they had swept and dusted and gone around the rugs with dustless mop and left it as clean as any grown-up could. They found a clean dress for baby and had her dressed. They had put their night clothes and sheets in a pile to go in the wash.

"All played outdoors all morning and after lunch took their naps. In the afternoon the oldest folded the clothes as I took them from the line. In the evening they helped get dinner, which to them is more fun than anything they can possibly do. One set the table, the other stirred the gravy, the third cut bread and then they all scrambled to see who would reach the pantry first, for the winner has her choice of a vegetable for dinner. I let them carry things to the table and though I often tremble, none has ever spilled a drop.

"They are full of energy, at one moment running along the peak of the garage, the next digging worms for pets, the next gathering flower seeds to put in envelopes for next year's planting. They are never still. Incidentally what would a doctor expect a mother to have in a medicine chest?"

Answer

The fewer drugs the better and all fresh. I suggest gauze, absorbent cotton, adhesive tape and a good scissors, mercurochrome or iodine, carron oil, vaseline, boric acid crystals, bicarbonate of soda and some simple laxative. One could meet almost any emergency with these and also our leaflet on "First Aid for Bumps, Burns and Cuts" would be excellent to keep right in the medicine chest for ready perusal in case of need. A self-addressed and stamped envelope will bring it to you, and at this time of year it ought to come in handy.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

by Honore Booth

FASHION EXPERT OF HARPER'S BAZAAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Sportwear is very interesting these days and is growing constantly in fashion importance. It is practically the daytime uniform of the smart woman whether she lives in the country or in town.

Fabrics Are Gay

The tweeds this autumn are rough in texture and delightfully colorful. Gay tones of red, yellow and orange are introduced into many mixtures with charming results. There is much tweed-woven jerseys used and this fabric is now of so firm a weave and so closely simulates the real tweed in design that it requires close scrutiny to discern the difference. Many other fabrics furnish interest to these informal clothes—silk and wool mixtures, tualikasha, wool crepe and flat crepe.

Skirt Length

There is much interest manifested in skirt lengths which have shown a decided tendency to drop. But in spite of the lengthening of more formal clothes, sportswear, while a little longer, still remains in the class of short skirts.

Most of the Paris couturiers favor a skirt length which reaches to the middle of the calf—fourteen inches from the floor seems to be the length agreed upon by most of the makers.

Waist Lines

There is accord among the dressmakers in the matter of waistlines. They agree that emphasis shall be placed at the normal waistline, with belts either of fabric or leather shown on almost every type.

There are many tuck-in jumpers with a belt attached to the skirt and one-piece dresses belted tightly and fitted over the hips with a low flare. Some of the smartest of these dresses are quite simple, buttoned all the way up the front. Many skirts have yokes, some are wrap around, some are plaited and others circular or with fullness introduced by godets.

Coats

One can hardly go wrong in the choice of a coat length. Every length coat is sponsored by some one of the Paris houses. The cardigan holds its place in favor, often forming a unit in a four-piece combination which includes also a long coat. For the suit the finger length coat is smart and useful. It is often belted and sometimes ornamented with four patch pockets, like a man's Norfolk jacket. Chanel does such a coat and it is extremely becoming.

For the sports ensemble the three-quarter coat shares honors with the full length type. Some of these are straight in line, but most of them have a tendency to flare toward the hemline.

Flat furs are used for scarf and collar treatment, as well as lapin which is now dyed in such delightful shades. There are many lapin coats to complement tweed and jersey frocks.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

BROTHS AND SOUPS

Broths and soups may be made in an appetizing and yet a wholesome manner. The same rules about food combination should be used in the making of soups as in the selection of other foods to be used at the meal. The meat broths made from cubes are not highly nutritious, but still act as appetizers, and can be used for the meat stock flavoring of a soup made from vegetables.

In many cases, those who like a hot drink with their meals will find an agreeable change in a thin broth made from the bouillon cubes or from an infusion which comes from boiling beef, mutton or chicken. This may be sipped along with the meal, as some people drink their coffee. Very good broth may be made from simply boiling a small amount of ground steak and using only the strained liquid, but of course the entire boiled ground steak soup may be used and possibly with the addition of some of the nonstarchy vegetables.

If one desires to make the most concentrated and nutritious broth, it is always well to cut the meat in small pieces or grind it through a meat grinder. It should then be put into cold water and slowly warmed, but never allowed to quite reach the boiling point. In this way more albumen of the meat is extracted and the natural flavor of the meat passes into the broth.

All broths and soups should be cooked slowly, and a richer flavor can always be obtained by this slow cooking over a long period of time, even as long as four or five hours. A good chicken broth can be made the day after a chicken dinner by boiling all of the bones left over and cooking for a long time to extract the gelatin. There is always a certain amount of meat left on the bones and this flavors the broth, together with celery, parsley and other vegetables which may be added.

Clam broth is made by washing the clams or oysters thoroughly and then putting them in a kettle of cold water to cook slowly. As soon as the shells open, the broth is ready.

It is now possible to buy minced clams in cans, and also to buy the clam broth itself. These minced clams or the broth may be used by adding a little water, or the clams or broth may be put into a soup made of a combination of vegetables.

A palatable and nutritious soup can be made from using any one of the nonstarchy vegetables, such as spinach, string beans, summer squash, etc. The vegetables should be cooked for a long time, then minced or run through a colander and again warmed up with the addition of a small amount of milk or cream. These vegetables should be cooked in only a small amount of water, but the water remaining after cooking should be used and the minced vegetables returned to this water or a small amount of hot water added if too much of the water had already been cooked away.

A good rule to remember in the making of soups is that the soup is much better from a dietetic standpoint if only a few articles of food are used and only such foods as would make a good combination if used in the ordinary way at a meal.

Interfraternity Group Fixes Banquet Date

The Council of the Interfraternity Alumni Association of Southern California has fixed December 21, next, as the date of its midwinter banquet. It will be at the Biltmore. Fraternity men are to make their reservations with their own fraternity groups. More than 800 are expected to attend.

Officers of the council are: Halcott B. Thomas of S.A.E., and Clayton M. Allen of T.X. The council is composed of forty-five different national fraternities representing more than 10,000 members in Southern California. Dwight W. Taylor is handling the entertainment for the banquet.

WOMAN PROMINENT IN CLUB WORK BURIED

Burial Saturday in Forest Lawn Memorial Park of Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Douglas, constituted the last rite for a woman prominent in club work of Southern California for the past forty years. Mrs. Douglas was born in Florence, Ala., seventy-five years ago, and spent the last forty-two years of her life in California, where she gained a large circle of friends, and held high positions in club affairs. She was a member of the Women's Athletic Club, the Ebell Club, Daughters of the Revolution, a past State president of the California division, United Daughters of the Confederacy; past president of the Los Angeles chapter of the same organization, and president of the Women's Democratic League.

STREET WORK APPROVED

The petition for the improvement of streets in the Rinconia Drive and Hargrave Drive district has received the approval of the Council.

Brannon Burial Rites Arranged

Funeral services for Claude M. Brannon, president of the City Dye Works, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Cemetery, where interment will follow the rites. Mr. Brannon died Friday following a two weeks' illness.

During his seven years' residence in Los Angeles Mr. Brannon has been known in club and civic activities and was an enthusiastic sportsman. He came here from Dallas, Tex., where he had previously held interests in dye and laundry business. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jennie Brannon, and five children—Pierre F., Cecile, C. M., Fredna and Virginia.

Arrangements for the funeral are in the hands of Pierce Brothers, undertakers.

CROSSING MOVE URGED

City Engineer Shaw has recommended to the Council that steps be taken toward obtaining right of way crossings over the Southern Pacific tracks at Van Nuys Boulevard and Haseltine avenue, in connection with the Oxnard-street and Van Nuys Boulevard improvement district. The matter was referred to the Public Works Committee.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORTON W. BURGESS

Who would be master of his fate
Is patient and content to wait.
—Unc' Billy Possum.

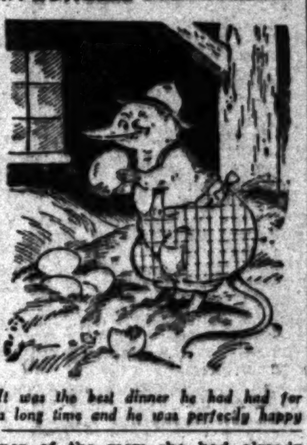
Unc' Billy Possum was safe and he knew it. He was on a beam underneath Farmer Brown's barn, safe from Flip. "All Ah has to do now," said Unc' Billy to himself, "is to stay right here until that silly dog done grow tired of hearing his own voice. Then he'll go away and Ah'll do the same thing." This is just what happened. Flip did grow tired. He would leave Unc' Billy and go out to see if Farmer Brown's Boy was coming. Then he would go back and bark some more. Farmer Brown's Boy had no intention of crawling under that barn, so Unc' Billy curled up and took a nap and finally Flip gave up.

Unc' Billy was wise enough to remain right where he was all the rest of that day. Two or three times Flip came back to see if he was still there. He was, but he showed no signs of life so Flip speedily lost interest.

It was just after dark that Unc' Billy poked his sharp nose out from under the barn. A sharp, shrewd little face has Unc' Billy Possum. Unc' Billy looked this way and that way. He saw no one and he was sure that no one saw him. He stole along up to the door that the cows used. It was ajar. He poked his nose inside and pushed it open a little more. Then he slipped wholly inside. Unc' Billy grinned. It was a long time since yesterday. He made his way along to the stairs that led up to the haymow. He went up. He knew he was safe now. He knew that he could hide under that hay anywhere. He didn't have the least bit of worry about being caught now.

"Ah wonder if any of those hens lay eggs up in here now," thought Unc' Billy. "Ah reckon Ah'll have a good look anyhow. Mah goodness, wouldn't Ah like some nice aigs!"

Now, it happened that one of Farmer Brown's pullets was laying up in the haymow and Farmer Brown's Boy didn't know it. No, sir, he hadn't discovered that that pullet was slipping away every day when the hens were let out in the yard. But that is what she was doing. In the hay up in a corner of the mow she had already laid seven nice eggs. Unc' Billy found them. You should have seen the grin on the old rascal's face when he discovered those seven eggs. He couldn't think of a single thing that he wanted more than he wanted eggs. He wouldn't have traded those eggs for a fat chicken, and that is saying a good deal. So it was that up there in the haymow Unc' Billy Possum had a feast. Yes, sir, he had a feast. It was the best dinner he had had for a long time and he was perfectly happy.



It was the best dinner he had had for a long time and he was perfectly happy

It didn't occur to Unc' Billy that he was stealing those eggs. To his mind, he wasn't stealing them at all. He felt that they were his by right because he was smart enough to find them. So his conscience didn't trouble him the least bit when he ate those seven eggs. But, having eaten the eggs, he suddenly decided that, in spite of the fact that he had slept all day, he would take another nap. He had too full a stomach to be traveling around. So he poked around in the hay until he finally found just the place that suited him and then he curled up there.

"Ah reckon this would be a good place to spend the winter," muttered Unc' Billy. "Yes, sah. Ah reckon this would be a good place to spend the winter."

KELLEY TO LEARN HIS FATE TODAY

Re-sentence on Charge of Manslaughter Scheduled for This Morning

Leo Pat Kelley, convicted and once sentenced to death for the murder of Mrs. Myrtle Mellus in August, 1928, is scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Aggeler at 10 a.m. today to be resentenced on a charge of manslaughter.

Kelley has been held in the County Jail for the last month awaiting the return of the remittur from the California State Supreme Court which reduced the murder charge to manslaughter. Without the remittur, Judge Aggeler could not resentence the prisoner.

According to S. S. Hahn, attorney for Kelley, a motion will be made before re-sentence is passed to obtain permission for Kelley to file an application for probation. This is a request which always has been denied on grounds that the Superior Court has no jurisdiction.

Attorney Hahn, however, contends that inasmuch as the Supreme Court has reversed the original judgment of the Superior Court and referred the case back for resentence, the jurisdiction of the case now lies here. Numerous relatives of Mrs. Mellus will be in court to testify in Kelley's behalf, the attorney said.

LIQUOR SALE CASE GIVEN TRIAL DATE

Druggist Marks Accused of Selling to Policeman, Faces Court December 11

The case of Harry M. Marks, druggist at 4278 West Third street, accused of selling alcohol to a police officer on three different occasions, will be heard before Judge Lahey and a jury on December 16. Marks has entered a not-guilty plea and is out of jail on $4000 bail.

Marks was arrested by Detective Lieutenants Caldwell and Kurtz, after Kurtz asserted he bought alcohol three different times from the druggist. On the last occasion when the arrest was made Marks is asserted to have resisted the officers and seized a pistol. His sister snatched the marked money the detectives had given Marks and ran out the back door and threw it down a drain pipe.

It was recovered, but Marks refused to watch the officers check the money with the cash register. Marks, assert the police, has prior convictions for both sale and possession of alcohol.

HIGHWAYMEN DAZZLE VICTIM WITH LIGHT

As Charles Wright of 306½ West Seventy-sixth street walked toward a parked automobile at Seventy-sixth street and Broadway late Saturday night, the headlights were suddenly turned on. As he stepped back, blinded by the lights, two bandits jabbed revolvers into his side, he told police, and robbed him of $23. He was then swung around in the opposite direction, given a rough shove and the bandits stepped back into their car and drove off.

SHAW TO BE DISCUSSED

SHRINERS PLAN BALL FEATURES

Annual Charity Affair Will Take Place Friday

Preparations Made for Crowd of 10,000

Proceeds to Defray Cost of Christmas Program

The twenty-third annual charity ball to be given by Al Malaikah Temple members in the Shrine ball room Friday night will be marked by a number of features being arranged by Noble Robert Wankowski, chairman of the ball.

Many prominent Shriners will participate in the ball and join the grand march which will be led by Illustrious Potentate LeRoy M. Edwards and Mrs. Edwards.

Arrangements to accommodate 10,000 persons are being made.

PROCEEDS FOR CHARITY

Proceeds from the charity ball are used by the temple to defray the cost of its Christmas charity program without deduction for overhead charges.

A Christmas tree party will be given for 5000 poor school children to be selected by the public-school teachers, at which Santa Claus appears and gives each child an armful of toys, and similar parties will be held at the Children's, the General, Orthopaedic, Methodist and Lutheran hospitals, where poor children are cared for in the wards for crippled children.

At each hospital Christmas trees will be placed and decorated. The uniformed organizations of the temple will assist in caring for the 500 poor crippled children in the various hospital wards.

Two days before Christmas hundreds of baskets of food and thousands of articles of food will be distributed by the Shriners. Distribution will be confined to cases which have been investigated.

CLOTHING ASKED

In making the announcement of the charity ball organization Potentate Edwards asks donations of clothing and other useful articles that may be used. All donations may be sent to store rooms in the temple at 650 West Jefferson street.

For those having quantities of articles and for those unable to send them in a special truck will be arranged for.

Potentate LeRoy M. Edwards is general chairman.

Fingerprint on Grapefruit Lands Bandit

LIEUT. HOWARD L. BARLOW

When a certain crafty person, whose business is opening other persons' safes, hit upon the idea of using grapefruit as a fingerprint eraser, he doubtless believed he had solved the problem of committing the perfect crime.

Somehow it never had occurred to him that the grapefruit rind is capable of registering fingerprint impressions which, properly developed, are almost as good for detecting purposes as if the prints were left on the safe itself. And that is how the grapefruit burglar happened to be serving a long sentence in San Quentin. He left his "eraser" lying near by the safe after completing his task. It was found by Los Angeles detectives who investigated the job and Lieut. Howard L. Barlow, police fingerprint expert, did the rest.

Meanwhile, however, the robber had gotten away with several good hauls, and for a time the detectives were baffled. In each instance the robber had carefully wiped all print from the safe, then, with unbelievable ignorance, had gone his way, leaving the half-grapefruit behind.

Striking proof of the fingerprints' infallibility also was shown in the case of two negroes, both of whom were named William West, according to Barlow.

A negro named Will West was admitted to the Federal prison at Leavenworth. The Bertillon operator at the prison took his picture and measurements and, feeling certain that he recognized him as a former inmate, asked him if he had been "in" before. The negro said he had not, but the expert still was unconvinced.

An investigation was made which revealed that, while their Bertillon measurements tallied almost perfectly, another negro, also named William West, was even then serving time in the same prison for murder. Even when placed side by side the two negroes looked almost exactly alike, but examination of their fingerprints clearly established their respective identities.

A few weeks ago Barlow was called upon to straighten out an embarrassing tangle in a Los Angeles hospital in which two newly born babies were believed to have been "switched." In this instance, however, it was footprints instead of fingerprints that solved the mystery, the footprints of each child having been taken immediately at birth.

Art Club Forum to Hear Greene

This evening's forum of the California Art Club will have the chairman of the Forum Committee, Henry William Greene, as the principal speaker. Among other things Mr. Greene is an artist-architect in the creation of atmospheric effects for Warner Brothers motion-picture productions.

The speaker's subject is "Quo Vadis."

The California forum is held in the Barnsdall Park artists' center and is free. The program starts at 8 p.m.

Finally, there will be the all-university dance at the Biltmore that night, for which alumni in good standing have been granted student rates.

Following are some of those who have been at work arranging the program: Jerold Weil, '25, president of the alumni council; John Canaday, manager of the alumni office; Leigh Crosby, '26, chairman of the reception committee; Earle Gardner, '26, and Fred Houser, '26, in charge of the old grad committee; Reggie Burrows, '26, entertainment; Iva Worsfold, '25, publicity, and Dave Folz, '26, chairman of arrangements.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA ALSO TO HAVE RECEPTION

When the alumni of the University of Southern California return here for the sixth annual home-coming celebration from December 7 to December 14, they will be feted at a stag smoker, men's and women's football dinners, and other informal affairs on the campus, according to Bob Beardsley, chairman of the home-coming committee.

The home-coming week program will open Saturday, December 7, with an informal dance at which students enrolled in the college of engineering will be hosts. The celebration will close Saturday, December 14, with the annual home-coming formal. The remainder of the program includes fraternity and sorority open house for alumni, December 9; college of music informal banquet, December 10; English Journal Club tea, Y.M.C.A. dinner, and hut stag smoker, December 11; varsity club banquet, December 13; sixth annual golf tournament between the law and dental alumni and a luncheon, and men's and women's football banquets, December 13, and sixth annual parade in the Coliseum and the University of Southern California-Carnegie Tech football game, December 14.

SHIPPING NEWS AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

INDUSTRIAL GAIN VIA PORT CITED

Rise of Drawback Business Told by Customs Broker

Data Also Given on Resulting Export Trade Advances

New Vessel Slated to Enter South American Service

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Importance of Los Angeles Harbor in the upbuilding of Southland industry again was disclosed by Earl W. Braga, customs broker, yesterday, this time in the remarkable increase of "drawback" business passing in and out of the port. Drawback is the return by the Federal government to the factory, when the latter reships its manufactured product foreign, of 99 per cent of the duty it paid on items imported for manufacture.

Three years ago drawback at this port, Braga said, practically was unheard of. Since then such practice has increased 500 per cent, while actual refunds by the end of 1929, he said, will have increased to perhaps 1500 per cent.

"Drawback is such an added incentive for exporting," he declared, "that many manufacturers are even choosing export in preference to domestic trade, and the re-exporting manufacturer who is not claiming such drawback is countenancing loopholes for waste in his business."

Fruit canners, for instance, are claiming such refund on imported sugar which goes back foreign as part of the contents of the can, reducing the price of 100 pounds by $1.90 to $2.26, dependent on whether it is Cuban or other foreign sugar. Other items applicable for refund include citrus fruit juices, manufactures of tungsten and alloys, metal products, patent medicines, burlap bags, refined vegetable oils, motion-picture films, steel goods, and so forth.

Braga remarked on the expeditious liquidation of drawbacks by the local customs officers, declaring "their work has been highly praised by visiting officials from Washington as well as the comptroller on the Coast."

SECOND OF FAST FLEET SAILS SOUTHWARD TODAY

Carrying fifteen Los Angeles passengers and 1000 tons of local freight, the new Norwegian motor liner Hindanger will sail for South America today on her maiden voyage for the Westfal-Larsen Line, General Steamship Corporation agents.

The vessel is the second of a new fleet being impressed in this service, the first being the Villanger, departing a month ago, while three others are being rushed to completion in foreign yards. All are larger and speedier ships than their predecessors, and each is equipped to handle 60,000 cubic feet of refrigerated fruits, vegetables and other Pacific Coast perishables for the southern continent.

Among the travelers are Mrs. Carolina L. Slade, head of an American school in Santos, Brazil, accompanied by her daughters, Misses Margaret and Louise Slade, and son, Frank, returning after a visit at Riverside. Miss Marie Johnson, San Gabriel club woman, is on a pleasure trip to Santos, while Arthur Moreno will join his mother, owner of two large hotels in Rio de Janiero.

Plantings in Brazil may make that country a future competitor of California as an orange-growing area, in the opinion of Claude T. Dawson, American Consul-General at Rio de Janeiro, now visiting his brother, N. E. Dawson of Los Angeles. The Brazilian government is fostering the move, 1,000,000 orange trees being planted by one Brazilian capitalist alone, Dawson is quoted by Commercial News as saying. The product is declared of a quality equalling oranges raised here. The enterprise has reached a point where European ship lines are contemplating refrigerated vessels on that run to transport the fruit.

The Rail and Water Club will be addressed tonight by Edgar M. Wilson, former general agent here for the Dollar Line, now traveling the world as a special emissary for the company. He will talk on "Transportation and Its Relation to World Progress." Wilson left here a year ago to handle a policy matter for his company in the Orient, and recently returned from The Hague, where he attended an international radio congress in the interests of his line, which is erecting radio stations variously over the world.

Osaka Shosben Kaisha's newest motor liner, the Buenos Aires Maru, sailed the 14th inst., from Kobe on her maiden voyage in the 'round-the-world service, according to word reaching Harold Smith of Williams, Diamond Co., local agents. The ship is due here from South Africa and South America March 4, 1930. She is of the 9000-ton class, speedier than the Montevideo Maru and La Plata Maru, new to the service two years ago, and will carry 1100 passengers and first and third classes. Capt. T. Kamiashi is master. A new sistership for the run, the Rio de Janiero Maru, is under construction in Japan.

Thirty of her seventy-five passengers disembarked here yesterday from the Dollar liner, President Garfield, en route westward around the world. The vessel will discharge 1500 tons, take on as much and embark forty travelers, before sailing at noon today. Tommy McAuliffe, one-armed golfer, recently in vaudeville, will board the ship here for the globe circuit.

The British motorship Silveray of the Kerr Line sailed again for Dutch East Indies yesterday, after putting back the night before to repair a broken pump, discovered a few miles out of this port.

THANKS FOLKS

We knew close-in North Hollywood property priced fully improved at from $900 up would almost sell itself.

AND IT HAS

And listen, the majority of our sales this week have been made to buyers who have been looking everywhere for just what we have.

They Came—They Saw They Bought

WHY? Millions of dollars of public improvements and two world-wide industries right in front of their eyes—12 minutes from Hollywood Boulevard—and prices on everything that compel purchases.

How long have you wished to work on property the buyer "just can't help but buy?"

Don't Wait Any Longer

Bring out all those prospects you have failed to sell for any reason elsewhere and they will congratulate you on your choice this time and reward you by buying.

To get acquainted drop in at 6301 Sunset Boulevard, N.W. cor. Vine street, and go out to property on one of our office travelogues and then hear LARRY WOOD sell the property from the platform. Eat the finest lunch in town and see a happy, peppy, enthusiastic organization selling property every day to people who go home convinced they have made the best buy in Los Angeles.

This made 32 new people say they are happier this week than ever.

Crowds are getting bigger and bigger every day.

NOW IS THE TIME

To get into the best organization and on the best deal in town.
